

he stammered. "But why should you? It's not mine. I have nothing to do with it."

"Yes, it belongs partly to you," she replied quickly. "You helped-save it, and if we reach land you

He shook his head slowly. "I could never do that. It would be you want to know what the trea-sure is, and how we got it? Or are you afraid that will look like accepting payment?"

He broke in with a laugh. "I'm dying with curiosity. What is this treasure, and where'd you get it?"

victims before sending them to the bottom. There was enough prize money aboard to make all the crew satisfied—stolen money, you know.

By George E. Walsh CHAPTER: XIV: The schooner rides out the storm. They make plans to rig up a small sail, or that falling, to build a raft and escape before Tucu can return and capture them.

CHAPTER XV

When morning dawned they hausted, but happy. A quick glance around the horizon revealed the presence of no ship. The lugger had disappeared.

storm," murmured Rose, smiling wickedly.

old Tucu to save his skin. But if he doesn't return I won't kick." "He will," replied Rose with conviction. "He'll come back to seize the schooner."
"Then we must get away. How long"—glancing at the top of the forward mast—"would it take to rig up a sail?"

She smiled and shook her head.
"We couldn't do it in a month just by ourselves."

She surveyed the wreckage aloft up a jib," she mused, "just enoug canvas to steer by, we might lay our course for land, if we knew Rose was quiet, staring across

"I don't know," she replied slow y. "It looks like a cloud on the "It might be. I don't know Things are so deceptive at sea." ages and ages ago, probably during They continued to gaze in the direction of the object faintly out-"We'll believe it's land," he said finally, "and when we get a sail rigged up we'll steer for it."

"If Father was only in his right mind," she murmured, "he could tell whether it was land or—"

"How is he now?" asked Dick, when she paused when she paused.

"He slept reacefully all night. I her train of thought, "but we'd better not put too much trust in miracles. If he recovers his senses, She shivered and drew her jacket haps then," he added, his eyes "You don't believe there was any treasure?" she asked seriously.

"He laughed pleasantly. "Do she added, officers and crew, or Father did. I didn't go in her. It was too horrible. She must have been washed up from the bottom in a storm, and years later, east than fur. It is generally conceded pause. "It's real, and it's aboard the Betty." Dick was too surprised to speak for a time, and stared with incredu-lous eyes at her. He drew a deep breath finally, and said: "Then your father's babbling wasn't all moonshine? He knew where it was hidden, but was sane enough not to show Tucu?"

"No," slowly, "he didn't know where it was. I hid it when he lost his mind. I thought it would be

"And you bluffed Tucu Made him believe no one knew where it was except your father?? I never dreamed you knew. You deceived me, too." "I never said I didn't know where it was," she added, "neither to you nor to Tucu." "No, that's a fact, you didn't." They stood by the port rail. watching the sunlight dancing on the waves. Dick glanced down at was nothing to identify the ships that had been sunk. Father wanted to bring everything of value away.

but I couldn't do it I wouldn't the head so close to his, and felt once more the passion of love surging up within him. He turned let him touch the blood-stained away abruptly; but she put out a small hand to detain him.

it is, and what it is: " she asked in

The Ambassador Wiped the Dishes

Hosts on Iowa Farm Found Lord Inverchapel a Very Human Being

Under the single condition that his visit be kept a secret until he was back in Washington. Lord Inverchapel, spent two days recently at the home of one of his new American friends, relates the New York Times. His host was Roger Newburn, 21 years old, who, while attending a 4-H Club encampment in Washington, met the British Ambassador. In a bantering exchange, when the Ambassaing exchange, when the Ambassa-dor questioned some of Roger's boasts about Iowa the farm boy invited the British nobleman to come and see for himself. Subsequently, with such pre-

Subsequently, with such pre-cautions as were necessary to clude reporters and photograph-ers, Lord Inverchapal slipped away from a formal appearance in Chicago and went to the New-burn farm near Woolstock. He ate the hearty meals always pro-vided on a well run farm, saw a vided on a well run farm, saw a combine and a corn picker in operation for the first time, talked with the Newburn's neighbours—"to learn what they were thinking"—and especially enjoyed Mrs. Newburn's cottage cheese and the home-grown strawberries and cherries from the farm's frozen food locker. The Newburn's, a little concerned at first over how to entertain such a dignitary, found him a very human being who insisted on wiping the dishes. He won an accolade from his hostess: "He put a polish on the glass-like accepting payment for—for—doing your duty. You saved my life when that ugly Carib fought me. You knew I couldn't overcome him. I was too far spent. He'd have killed me in the end, if you hadn't shot him. He won an accolade from his hostess: "He put a polish on the glasses as nicely as anyone could."

In these days of international uneasiness, the British Ambassador will be called upon to devote many hadn't shot him.

"And then killed me—or worse," she murmured, shuddering. "Wasn't I protecting myself in shooting days in important conferences and functions to strengthening the un-derstanding between his country and the United States. He will enhim?"
"I suppose so, but—"
When he stopped she looked at him with twinkling eyes, full of amusement. "Haven't you any curiosity?" she asked finally. "Don't ter them better prepared because of the time he visited Iowa and wiped Modern Etiquette.

By Roberta Lee send cards or gifts to their employ-er on holidays and anniversaries? 2. When golf, tennis, motoring, and such sports are intended by the hostess, on a week-end party, should she mention these things in

She did not immediately answer, but kept him waiting, smiling pro-vokingly into his face. "It's a rather long story," she began finally, "we found it on a wrecked submarine."

"A submarine!" he echoed in bewilderment.

shound she mention these times.

her invitations?

3. Is it customary, following a church christening, for the father to give a fee to the clergyman? bewilderment.
She nodded, and continued: 4. When one is applying for a position, should one offer to shake hands with the prospective employer, either when arriving or departing?

5. Should the guests at a dinner the introduced before the dinner.

the World War, and was actually buried deep in the sand. You see, she'd been washed up from the bottom of the sea, and got wedged between two saw-toothed rocks where the sand piled over her until she was almost invisible."

"Where was this?" interrupted.

Dick.

er, either when arriving or departing?

5. Should the guests at a dinner of afterwards?

6. What should a man call his wife when introducing her to his social acquaintances?

"Where was this?" interrupted.
Dick.

"On one of the small islands in the Caribbean, so small that it hasn't any name—Father didn't know it anyway. We'd stopped there to make some repairs, and Father and I rowed ashore to get some gulls' eggs on the beach. When we crossed to the other side of the island we stumbled upon the buried submarine."

social acquaintances?

Answers

1. This is often done, but it is really better to keep business relations entirely separate from things personal. 2. Yes, so that the guests may come prepared. 3. Yes, and also to the sexton. 4. No; it is the employer's place to offer to shake hands. 5. Before the dinner, never afterwards. 6. "My wife." Old Fur Pieces

Remade At Home she added, "officers and crew, or Father did. I didn't go in her. It between the rocks. Then the sand nearly buried her from sight. Nothing but the top of the conning tower was visible when we discovered her."

She once more drew her jacket around her, as if cold. Dick noticed she frowned and glanced across the sea as if anxious to blot out of memory all impressions of the adventure.

"She was an outlaw submarine."

"She was an outlaw submarine." between the rocks. Then the sand only by a pro she frowned and glanced across the sea as if anxious to blot out of memory all impressions of the adventure.

"She was an outlaw submarine." room slippers, ear muffs and warm mittens. she went on finally, in a hard little voice, "and she'd been robbing her

> On Sugar Supply The international sugar shortage

They were pirates, this crew were, for there was the evidence. There were rings and jewels, too. We searched for the submarine's papers, thinking perhaps we might find a clue to the ships from which the loot was taken, so that it could be restored to the owners. But the be restored to the owners. But the crease over 1946's total," Fitzgerald said, "but it will still be 10 or 15 per cent below the pre-war level."

Despite this, Fitzgerald said that his organization at last "saw a hope of reasonable distribution." ones. We left them there with the skeletons of the robbers. Maybe skeletons of the robbers. Maybe others will find them some day. I don't want them. I never want to see the island again!"

(To be continued)

(To be continued)

Picking chickens is a tiresome but necessary chore for any poultry farmer, but was doubly so for Ford Bush, of Darrowville, Ohio, who lost an arm in an accident. But with the mechanical picker he's shown operating, above, he does better than ever, finding the machine's 100 rubber fingers do a better job than he did with 10.

How Can I? By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a good lun-heon dish out of leftover fish? A. Place the leftover fish in the casserole with a mound of strained cooked spinach. Cover with white sauce and cheese, and put in the

A. Do not use a soap to clean

This slim, trim 2-piecer com and goes everywhere, effectively. Pattern 4805 has cone wonders with scallops and cut-away hipline and skirt panels for slenderizing

Food Council Reports will be less in 1947, with 30,000,000 Committee. "This will be a 10 per cent in-

ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER.

A New Industry: Earthworm Farms

How "Nature's Plowmen" Aid Plant Life permit its easy removal.

Q. How can I make all the molasses come out of the measuring A. Grease the cup lightly before are Nature's own little plowmen.

What we take from the earth, they measuring molasses, or dip it full of flour, then empty it; this enables every drop of molasses to come out of the cup.

Q. How can I clean white white serge. Use a decoction of soapwort roots. This keeps the that the worms have enriched, and we're in the business of raising them and selling them on our farm."

Earthworms, Mrs. Krouse added, are bi-sexual. A breeding worm throws off a miniscule capsule from which spring 8 to 11 young who live to be about 12 years old.
"They're little fellows," Mrs. Krouse said, "but have buried a whole chicken and the worms di gested all of it. Miss Warner a 90-acre farm which is full of earthworms and it's never been sprayed, it's so rich and loamy."

Good for the Hands, Too In addition, Mrs. Krouse said proudly, earthworms are good for you. "Miss Warner's mother is 75 years old," she said "And her hands are as white and beautiful as a young girl's due to the oil thrown off from the worms." But a woman visitor had the last word. Pausing before the ex-hibit, she watched Mrs. Krouse sift a loamy and wormy clod of dirt. "Woims," she said with a shudder. "Maybe they're good for strawberries, but I bet they crawl out of the spot and you step ( 'em all over the house."

Self-Discipline

ISSUE 48-1946

A Letter On Christian Living Acts 19: 23-30; Ephesians 6: 13-18. Golden Text.-Finally, be stroy in the Lord, and in the strength-his might—Ephesians 6: 10.

Riot in Ephesus In consequence of Paul's minis-try the business of idol-making in Ephesus was on the decline. The waning market for silver shrines of Diana was first felt by the silversmiths of the city, and they deter-mined to get Paul out of the way. The crowd, in an outburst of crowded into the great amphithmer, tree intent on crushing out Ephesian Christianity and its apostle. Finally the crowd was quieted at a dispersed without striking the blow intended for Paul Call to Arms Call to Arms

Conflict is faced in the call to arms. (1) There is the call to strength. Be strengthened and become powerful in the Lord. We must have strength from Hint in order to be strong in Him.

(2) There is the call to steadfastness. Stand firm against the subtle, deceiving schemes of Satan. Such steadfastness is nossible only Such steadfastness is possible only to those who have put on the whole armour of God.

(3) There is the call to conflict.
Christian warfare is personal and perpetual against unseen forces of

In a conflict naturally so uncausal, how may we conquer? "Put on the whole armour of God," says Paul with emphasis.

Victory Assured

cooked spinach. Cover with white sauce and cheese, and put in the oven to bake.

Q. How can I remove grit from the eye?

A. By applying a drop of castor oil. Or, bathe it well with warm witch hazel or pure olive oil.

Q. How can I remove scorched spots from cloth?

A. Wet the spots with water and cover with borax or cornstarch, rubbing it in well. Let it dry before removing it.

Q. How can I remove a broken cork that has fallen inside a bottle?

A. Pour enough ammonia into the bottle to float the cork and put it away for a few days. The ammonia will eat enough of the cork to permit its easy removal.

As Old As Creation

A little, pink stranger nestled confidingly in his booth beside the gay sweaters, tooled leathers, new washing machines, hammered silver and treated furs at the Women's International Exposition in New York.

A. Wet the spots with water and scorned denison of the topsoil. And, championed by Miss Bernice Warner of Worthman and scorned denison of the topsoil. And, championed by Miss Bernice Warner of Worthman and supplication." We must pray "in the spirit". It is the prayer and supplication." We must pray "in the spirit" it is the prayer and supplication." We must pray "in the spirit" it is the prayer was off some where explaining the benefits of earthworm farms when a reporter approached her booth, but—Mrs. Scott Krouse, another fervent earthworm fan, took over and discussed the habits of the little guys.

As Old As Creation

Miss Warner was off somewhere explaining the benefits of earthworm farms when a reporter approached her booth, but—Mrs. Scott Krouse, another fervent earthworm fan, took over and discussed the habits of the little guys.

As Old As Creation

As Old As Creation

The Nastiest Noise

Known to Nature

Some little time ago the BBC in broadcasting animal noises from the zoo—and, incidentally, it was assumed to be a constitute of the little guys.

Some little time ago the BBC in broadcasting animal noises from the Zoo — and, incidentally, it was astonishing how like the lion the alligator sounded — asked the expert who was helping in the broadcast whether he could identify a noise, admittedly greatly magnified, which resembled something between the crunch of leaves and the ripple of water. The clue was that the noise was quite the nastiest the noise was quite the nastiest the noise was quite the nastiest and the answer, igiven after both expert and listener had time to think of the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating, was at once ingenious and unsatisfactory. It was an of the grawing a dinner later was a most proposed to the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating, was at once ingenious, and unsatisfactory. It was a most h grawing a dinner later was a most proposed to the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating, was at once ingenious, and unsatisfactory. It was an of h grawing a dinner later was a most proposed to the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating, was at once ingenious, and unsatisfactory. It was a most proposed to the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating, was at once ingenious, and unsatisfactory. It was a most proposed to the more horrific of beasts and their grisly work of killing and cating. Was at once ingenious and unsatisfactory. It "Earthworms," she said, "are as old as creation, as old as the stories of the Valley of the Nile. They put back."

Mrs. Krouse, a dignified, gray-Ars. Krouse, a dignined, graying lady who has no compunctions about running a well-kept hand through a knot of writhing worms, pointed proudly to a thriving strawberry plant which stood next to a weak-looking growth

"They're the same age" she said, "treated and untreated. The big one has in it two teaspoons of soil that the worms have enriched. And Add Smartness and Distinction

ECONOMICAL—Extra curtains are not required for tasteful

Delivery — We will ship your Venetian Blinds within 7 days or whenever desired by you.

An appeal to parents to permit their children to take life's little knocks in order to develop self-dissocial standards, is made by the Charm.

This pattern, easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fir. Includes complete illustrated instructions.

Pattern 4805 comes in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36 takes 256 yards 54-inch fabric.

Sens TWENTY CENTS (20c)

Social standards, is made by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, Learning the bard way has advantages," the department states. "A pampered child has little opportunity to learn to solve life's problems in the school of hard knocks, through trial and error. Only through personal experience cepted) for this pattern to room 421, 73 Adelaide St. West. Toronto. Print plainly SIZE, NAME.

Gift For Queen: Two Dozen Eggs In Plastic Jackets

two open eggi-is plasfie jackets-have been delivered to Balmoral Cartle for the King and Queen, says The London Daily Mail Mail.

They we, brought over from America in an air liner, by 22 year-old Miss Constance Liddicoat, who won a free trip to Britain given by won a free trip to lititatin given by an American plastic firm.

Miss Liddicoat said: "I was instructed to send the eggs on to the King gand Queen at Balmoral as soon as I arrived. The eggs will keep (u mine months. They're imbresk and all you have to do is o sel off the plastic covering.

SUCCESS FOR A PARTY is assured by servi-; Maxwell. E ouse. This supremely fine coffee de-lights guests because its blend contains all the stimulating goodness of choice Latin-American to YOUR home with

VENETIAN BLINDS

decoration.

Decoration.

Case of the same of the same

VENETIAN BLINDS A Much Desired CHRISTMAS PRESENT

MET-WO INDUSTRIES LTD. 15 SAUNDERS AVE. TORONTO - Phone: KEI-8333

might get down in time for the evening performance. We were in time all right but that didn't make any difference. There wasn't even standing room for the big show. The next best thing was to trail around from one exhibit to another. We saw all the cows, the bulls and the fat stock. We saw with seek coats and cows.

, ~ A -

I had just head a book — The Foxes of Harrow in which a palamino saddle horse plays quite a prominent part. Then we saw several teams of dray horses in a six-horse tradem hitch. They were could be marrificated. Last Saturday we all went to the Royal Winter Fair but since we had a few cows of our own so to come me and a come so the away too long at a time. So the cows were milked extra early for one night so that we might get down in time for the premionia and was being given a hypodermic. I am sure it must have been a male pig because no lady would ever have created such an uproar over such a simple matin the sheep building we saw more varieties of sheep than I ever knew existed, including the ones with the carry horns. And I might add those sheep represented an awful lot of wool. The dog show was of course a-

Of course the horses were grand. Or course me noises were grant.

Horses are such magnificent creamres I, doubt if there are many people who do not take an interest to them. I was particularly anxions to the see the palaminess because

Movie Actress

Why Shortage of Shortening?

what it was in pre-war, years.

anada, Like Other Countrie Suffers from World-Wide Shortage of Fats Housewives who have been Joicing over the prospect of in-creased supplies of shortening dir-ing the festive season are in for a certain amount of disappointment, says the Ottawa Citizen. For the reased supplies of shortening during the festive season are in for a critarians of dray borses in a six-horse tandem hitch. They were railly magnificent.

CANADA'S WAR AT SEA . . . By Stephen Leacock and Leslie Roberts . . . Publications (1943) Limited . . . Price $2.00

We fidn't visit the poolity. Partner and I had seen all the boothry we wanted to for one week and would again for a good many weeks to come. Neither did we get around to the fish exhibit because by that imine we were getting awfully tired. Incidentally I was afried seeing the fish might create in me an unholy state of entry because as you know fish havent any feet!

Oh, I haven't mentioned the flowers. Of course we, saw them, both on our way, in and our way out. But to tell you the trul I was rather disappointed in them. There were of course, gorgooms flowers of all description but I have seen displays? I liked better. To me there didn't seem enough given to off-set the mass and coll. our of the multiple blooms—except in the rose section. They were grand. Then again, the place was so crowded it was almost impossible to see anything for people. When the Royal comes round again I hope the management will see fit to tell us when and where reserved tickels may be obtained. It would certainly help a lot. I haven't seen one advertisement that gives any information at all on that all-important matter. We would have had a seat on the grandstand.

The Bookshelf.

Since July supplies have been al-

(400 deg. F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins (21/4 inches in diameter).

Britain's Answer To Housing Problem

New world record high was paid for this carload of 20 Hereford steer feeder calves at the Chicago. Stocker and Feeder Show: $45 a hundredweight! They averaged 405 pounds apiece. Standing with the herd is former owner Fred C. DeBerard of Kemmling, Col., who sold them to the DeBore brothers of Wyoming, III.

Record Feeder Price Mark Set

Housing experts of twenty countries have made enquiries about aluminum prefabricated houses — Britain's latest answer to the housing shortage problem. Now being made at five wartime shadow factories at the rate of five hourly, by next performer they will be coming off ing a house and connecting all ser steam pumped into them and being exposed to an 80 miles per hour gale produced by Beaufighter exhaust.

Kitchen Nylons

stockings, but most nylons are plastic molding powders. One of the latest tricks is to use them for the production of unbreakable kit-chenware which can be sterilized in boiling water. Producers seem to be specializing right now on ware are planned for the future.

Hand Cleanlin

Need for hand cleanliness is the subject of a bulletin issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare. It isn't only a matter of decency, but of vital health cos cern, say the doctors, for bacteria inevitably collects on the hands

12 tohlets 23c 24 tohlets 75c 100 tohlets 75c

Fine Cut Rolls an A1/

vices in 42% minutes. PACKED 2 WAYS. These houses are as durable as Choose Maxwell House brick and have passed all weather tests including being frozen, having in either Super-Vacuum Tin (Drip or Regular Grind) or Glassine-Lined Bag (All Purpose The Government has just placed an order for 54,500 aluminum hous-Grind). It's the same superb coffee blend.

GENUINE ASPIRIN IS MARKED THIS WAY

Is yours a home where the family troops in for the noonday with hungry looks in their eyes? If so, you're probably a ready listener for new suggestions concerning luncheon menus.
Your mornings are probably filled to the limit with household tasks

Blend shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in the bran and mincemeat mixture. Add dry ingredients which have been sifted together; mix only until liquid and dry ingredients are combined. Fill picked for this month, a casserole of hearty baked beans, served with spicy Mincemeat multins, and popped into the oven after the breakfast dishes are done. The multins can be made in a jiffy—and there you have it—a hearty, wholesome meal with a minimum of effort! 1 cup all bran: ¼ cup sugar 44 cup milk 1 egg.

MORE WISE-CRACKING FROM YOU IS THAT PLAN ENGLISH

1 cup prepared mincemeat 1 cup sifted flour
8 tablespoons shortening 8 tablespoons baking 44 teaspoon salt powder
Combine all bran, milk and mincemeat; let soak about 5 minutes.

cowr with eleck coats and cows with permanent waves. We saw the Baby of the Fair and it appeared quite inconcerned about the interest it had created. And by way of contrast we saw the faith-ful old standbys which had been brought in to provide milk for the pure bred stock. They were, in fact, wet nurses to the bovine aristocracy of the fair and were aristocracy of the fair and were segregated in an out of the way part of the building where they were not likely to attract too much attention. However, Partner-lenew they would be; somewhere and went around. Filing for them. The contrast between the fancy and the utilitarian types seem to amuse him more than anything he saw. There were cows of every age and breed. What did it matters is more only their milk that age and breed. What did it mat-ter—it was only their milk that was required. Apparently no time was wasted in waving their hair or polishing their horns.

Finally we moved along and visited the Swine, and oh n.y. we thought at first we were coming to a slaughter house. The most blood-curdling shrieks met our ears. But it was tas bad as it sounded. Apparently a young pig had shown signs of incipient

9 Barricade 32 Kenneth (ab.) 50 Three singers
22 Mine 10 Grins 33 Observe 51 War depart24 Light face 12 Thulium 37 Endured ment (ab.)
(ab.) (symbol) 38 Measure of 52 Three (prefix)
25 Abstract being 55 Sprite cloth 54 Constellation
27 Dutch city 16 Northeast 39 Health resort 55 Edge
29 Musical (ab.) 40 Certified 56 Nova Scotia instruments 21 Donkey public ac31 Duties 23 Still countant (ab.) 57 Ampere (ab.)
34 Editor (ab.)

Canada's War At Sea

Lunch Is Ready In A Flash

3.4 Pictured through water DIR screen actres 1 Exhibits DASSA

The Bookshelf... Sea is a record of building ships; of manning the naval vessels of the Royal Canadian Navy and the cargo ships of the Canadian Merchant Navy; and of the valor and endurance of Canadian sailors and mer-chant seamen on all the oceans. In 1940, after the Germans had

The story of Canada's War at part which deals with the mari-time history of Canada, is by Ste-phen Leacock, who held a unique place in Canadian letters.

SERVICE NET RESS

the dog show was of course a great attraction and Daughter was in her glory among the cocker spaniels. I was more interested in the collies and great Danes. As for Bob, the only exhibit in which he really look an interest was the automobiles but since there were only half a dozen it didn't take was very useful to have around as he spent most of his time keeping us all in cuch with one another. One minute we would be all together and the next thing we knew Bert would later find him absolute. It would later find him absolute would later find him absolute would later find him absolute. It would later find him absolute which deals with the mary work with the mary work with the mary over an extended period.

The background of the story, the part which deals with the maritime history of Canada, is by Stephen Leacock who held a unique trade today is less than half of what it was in pre-war years.

Since July supplies have been allocated through the International Emergency Food Council, and Canada has received fair treatment. The fact is that there is not sufficient to go round. Even were the pre-war level of imports available, it would still be insufficient for present requirements; this because of Canada's increased population, spending power and industrial activity.

Canada's domestic sources of fats and oils are three. Tallow and lard are obtained from animals. Vegetable oils come principally from flaxseed; smaller amounts from the new development of sunflower seed.

POP—It Ain't the Kings

IT'S PLAIN BUT IT ISN' ENGLISH

February they will be coming off the lines at the rate of one every two and a half minutes. They are quickly-erected too — in Bristol the record has been achieved of erect-

By J. MILLAR WATT