 STUART HOWEY, Reeve.

My gosh, Biddle, a farmer over Thompson's Corners was talking me about his flock of 180 home produced 1933 eggs. Made up his own feed—his did, at a cost of $26.30 or 22 1/2¢ per hen.

Right proof he was, so I just tell him about what you girls are doing down here on Blatchford's Egg Mash and did I open his eyes! I told him you 400 home produced 1933 eggs on $55.70 worth of Blatchford's Mash at a cost of 21¢ per hen and netted me a profit of $71.20. Well, sic, he's a Blatchford user from now on—says he can't afford to mix feeds like that.

Another advantage to Blatchford's Egg Mash is prepared in 3 pounds strength—18% 22 1/2% 36% so he need according to the amount of grain you have.
