Harry Hazard of R.R. 3, Priceville, was fined $20 and costs, or one month in jail, in police court at Owen Sound last Thursday afternoon for beating and abusing his horse. Four neighbors, John Dow, Albert Odell, R. C. Oliver and Jack Small were called as witnesses, and testified to having seen the accused beat his horse unmercifully with a whip on numerous occasions. Every neighbor on the route had at one time or another complained to the provincial police about the ill-treatment of the horse, described by the magistrate as "inhuman and brutal."

MEAFORD MAN WINS CASE
As a result of a dispute between Frank Garvey and the town of Meaford over the gravel deposits on the river bank adjoining the latter's property which culminated in a lawsuit heard in Owen Sound in the Fall of 1945, Frank Garvey was granted an interim injunction, issued by His Honor Judge G. W. Morley as Local Master of the Supreme Court, restraining the town from trespassing on, or removing sand or gravel from the bank of the river claimed as being the plaintiff's property. Judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall recently regarding the case has granted judgment, according to the Meaford Express, as follows: An injunction restraining the defendant from trespassing upon the lands of the plaintiff, a mandatory order requiring the defendant to restore to the plaintiff's lands all support removed by the defendant and restore the river bank to the condition as it existed before Sept. 26, 1945 and the sum of $1,000 damages for trespass and damage to the plaintiff's lands. The costs throughout will be to the plaintiffs.

Family Herald Has Unique Collection of Songs
Since 1895 the Family Herald has been publishing on their Old Favorite Page the long loved melodies that are passed from one generation to another. Over these 53 years the Family Herald has gathered together thousands of old time songs—songs that will never lose their charm and appeal.
This ever-growing library of song is always available to those interested. In 1947 the Family Herald published for the enjoyment of its myriad of readers over 200 Old Favorite songs, including more than 45 with music.
Along with the entertainment provided in the Old Favorites are the serial and short fiction stories in the Family Herald. In choosing these stories the editors are guided by readers' opinions. For instance, one subscriber wrote that the stories are "full of interest throughout". A Manitoban commenting on a recent serial, "Now Lost is the Lily" said "Its historical setting appealed so much to me that I waited with impatience for the next issue to arrive." Another reader considered it "Historical Romance at its best."
The Family Herald's policy of giving a variety of reading for every family means equally enthralling stories in future which will, as always, carry the readers interest from week to week.

HOLFORD FARM FORUM

Mr. and Mrs. John Scerby were hosts to the forum last week when there were eighteen present. Joe Pail was in charge of the discussion period. The group thought that Marketing schemes and co-operatives were the best means of marketing our produce, and also that if a farmer can be assured of a market for wheat for a term of four years, why not for his other produce too? High scores for cures were made by Jim Matthews and Marjorie Sellwood.

GREY FEDERATION BACKS BATTLE WARBLE FLY MEASURES

A report of the provincial convention in Toronto was given by the secretary, Wes. Magwood, Jas. Crutcher, Mrs. R. C. Robinson, and Mrs. R. Graham. Considerable discussion took place in co-op automobile insurance. It was decided to have a field day and also a public contest. Health services and other matters were discussed.

Immigrant Farm Labor Available In 1948

Having in mind the immigration to Canada which is now taking place and the possible increase in immigration during the near future, the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Committee of Ontario is anxious to obtain first hand and accurate information as to the number of farm workers that can be utilized by the farmers of Ontario for year-round employment.
Interviewed recently, Mr. R. S. Duncan, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Chairman of the Dominion-Provincial Committee, stated that during the past twelve months nearly 2,000 Polish Veterans, Dutch families, and a smaller number of British immigrants had entered the farm labor field, but that the committee is well aware of the necessity for greater numbers of workers if the needs of production are to be met and many more are available. It is known that in Europe there are many suitable workers of long agricultural experience, both single men and married men with families, who are desperately anxious to come to Canada to rehabilitate themselves and their families. These people are of different nationalities. In all cases, applicants are being carefully selected from the standpoint of health and suitability for the job.
The Committee feels that these workers will prove to be a great asset to Ontario agriculture and will help to fill the continuous demand for farm labor as expressed by farmers and farm organizations throughout the province but if they are to reach Canada in time for this summer's work, no time must be lost in obtaining applications from farmers for such workers.
It will not be the policy to bring in workers unless a job is available for them before they leave Europe. Farmers who wish to obtain immigrant farm help must apply for it.
Special application forms are now available at every National Employment Office in Ontario and also in the offices of the Agricultural Representatives. These should be filled in and returned to either the National Employment Office or the Agricultural Representative of his county.
Mr. Duncan emphasizes the need for immediate action to avoid disappointment and states that approved applications will be filled in order of receipt. Applications should be filed not later than the end of February, 1948.

At Your Local Co-operative You May Contribute to the Canadian Appeal for Children

Along with most of the large chain food stores in Canada, your local co-operative offers customers an opportunity to participate in the campaign by purchasing goods and leaving them in a special container beside the cashier's counter in each store.

People buying in the store are simply asked to purchase an extra amount of whatever food article they are taking home and leave it in the special container. At the end of each day's business the local store puts the goods back on the shelves and sends the retail value of those goods to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

The funds will be deposited in the local bank and transfer slips issued will be sent each week to the Ontario Agricultural and Co-operative Committee in Toronto.

The Ontario Co-operative Union hopes to exceed the $500,000 mark which they are asked to contribute.

You can do your part by buying an extra article of food to be sent to feed the hungry children of Europe.
