FARM BULLETIN

FARM IMPROVEMENT LOANS

There are times when every farmer sees definite need for improvements. If he is young and ambitious, he wants implements, machinery and equipment to speed his work. As he grows older he thinks in terms of conserving his strength and increasing his personal comfort. Always he wants security.

The farmer specializing in livestock thinks about herd improvement, freedom from disease, greater production. The poultryman knows how science can help him. Others want to improve soil, seed, fences, water supply, drainage.

Those without electric light naturally want a farm electric system. And wives desire modern conveniences. Farm Improvement Loans will provide this money on the most desirable terms. These loans can be made in amounts up to $5,000 to responsible farmers, with ample time for repayment.

The manager of our nearest branch can give you complete information about Farm Improvement Loans. He is genuinely anxious to see you make the kind of progress which will increase your earnings and add to your security.
