SOFTBALL NEWS

CHEESEVILLE AND LEGION TEAMS TIED IN TUESDAY NIGHT'S GAME CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF DARK

Called on account of darkness before Cheeseville had finished their turn at bat, the first game of the finals played here Tuesday night brought out a large crowd of spectators, and except for the late starting they saw a good game, until the seventh inning when darkness fell.

The Legionnaires got four runs in their half of the last inning, and the game was called when, with two out, Cheeseville had chipped up six runs to tie the game. A bit of argument followed the game about one run in the 5th inning being allowed, which would have put Cheeseville one up. It is expected the next game will be played here this Friday night.

These games of the final series are well worth seeing, but it is regretted they can't be started earlier. Everyone present Tuesday night's game was no doubt convinced that flood-lights at the local ball park would be a decided advantage for these rural teams, and the sooner we get them the better.

WARRANT TO CARELESS SHOOTERS

Evidence that someone was shooting at random in the Irish Lake district over the week-end is reason for issuing a warning to all in possession of fire arms, not only here but any place, to take care where they shoot. Damage caused by even air rifles is serious, and if boys can't use their fire arms wisely they might better not be allowed with them.

Markdale Fall Fair Only Four Weeks Away

Markdale Fall Fair is slated for Sept. 27th and 28th, and it is high time that people began giving some thought to the exhibits they can show, and taking stock of the produce that will measure up well with the best from the surrounding district. The fall fair has been called the show window of the community and that is exactly what it is. Just how attractive and how helpful this show window is going to be depends on the people of the district: the Fair serves. Directors may plan and work, but to have a successful Fair they must have the active support of the people. A Fair must also have payees attendances if it is going to be successful. Exhibits will draw the crowd, so that all citizens interested in the success of the Fair can help by becoming exhibitors this year.

TWO SHELburne MEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH SUNDAY

William H. (Bill) Townsend and Grant Kinsley lost their lives last Sunday afternoon when their airplane suddenly nose-dived into the ground in a field in the Shelburne area, and a few seconds later burst into flames. As far as it can be learned, Bill Townsend had taken Grant Kinsley for a "hop", starting from the field used by the Shelburne Flying Club and winging down over Grant's home near Crombie, where Bill sent the plane low over the house, "buzzing the folks" to attract attention. Mr. and Mrs. Kinsley and their youngest son, Billy, were outside the house watching the exhibition, saw the two in the plane wobble, but did not know Grant was in the machine.

The machine hopped over the wires across the road, going in a south-easterly direction and perhaps 75 feet in the air, when it suddenly nosed down and crashed tail up into a field.

As soon as it was realized a bad crash had occurred, everyone in the area rushed to the scene, but were unable to get near the machine, which had burst into flames fed by the ignited gasoline flowing from the fuel tank. In fact, it was some time later before it was generally known who had been in the plane. Not until much later was it possible to remove the bodies of the two unfortunate men.

Grant Kinsley, 20 years old, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Kinsley, well known and highly respected Northampton residents.

William H. Townsend, son of Mr. George and the late Mrs. Townsend, Howick Township, was 37 years old and last September he was married to Miss Denise Hutcheson of Harriston, and had been living in Shelburne and carrying on a successful welding business.

Bill had gained fame as a daring parachute jumper and latterly turned to piloting planes. He was the moving spirit in securing a plane from a Hariston man and had high hopes of developing flying fans and plane pilots among the Shelburne and district young men. The machine had been overhauled at a Toronto flying field and Bill had flown it back to town on Sunday morning. In the afternoon he was busy making flights in the fine weather, developing interest which he hoped would make the flying club a going concern.

ENJOYED HIGHLAND GAMES

A visit to the 3rd annual games at Fergus last Saturday was a real treat for the Editor and his wife as well as others from town. Although we can't boast of Scottish blood we did thrill at the sound of the thirteen pipe bands, as well as the sight of scores of Highland dancers and Scotchmen from far and near wearing the kilts and proud of it. The town of Fergus has a model park which provides a fitting place for these games, bordered on one side by a grove of maples overlooking the park. We were ever so grateful for such a show of true Scot hospitality shown to us by Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Templin and it made our day "doubly" enjoyable.

PERCY D. GREENWOOD, Clerk

ARE YOU CATTY?—TRY THIS TEST

Cattiness is a characteristic a woman attributes to other women, never to herself.

Here's a little test prepared by Ruth Millet, to help recognize cattiness in yourself—if there's any there, of course.

When praising something that belongs to someone else do you tack on the phrase, "if you like that sort of thing?"

When commenting on the youthful looks of another woman do you add, "for her age?"

When your husband comments on another woman's good looks do you point out how much she spends for her clothes, or that she dyes her hair, or that she isn't as young as she looks?

Do you ever deliberately take away another woman's pleasure in a new possession by pointing out that it's beautiful but you're afraid it isn't very practical?

Do you preface your remarks about others with, "Perhaps I shouldn't say this, but..." or "Personally I haven't a thing against her but..."?

When praising another person, do you let a note of surprise in your voice hint that you really never expected the person to do so well?

When another woman's charm or intellect is receiving favourable comment do you draw in the entirely irrelevant comment, "It's a pity she isn't more attractive looking?"

Watch your own conversation for these remarks if you want to know whether or not you indulge in catty comments.
