Finest Quality-Easy to Use

TEA BAGS

doorway and she withdrew deeper into the darkness hoping that he had not seen her. His jealousy was something to be afraid of too. "Well, you can get the blazes out of here," thundered Dan hotly and reached to close the door on his to town. She parked the coupe on a picked up a taxi to take her to her side street where it could easily be found. A short distance from it, she

Honey dare not get into the elevator at that time of the morning and advertise the fact that she rought her home, and that she was just now getting in. After all, she did think well of her reputation, even in this hour of mental sus-

CHAPTER V.

Honey did not close and lock the door as Dan had instructed her to do. There was too much curiosity in her general make up for that. She wanted to see and to hear what passed between the men. She had been right about the caller. It was Joe Danburne. She wiped the tears from her eyes so she could see clearly and peeped through the crack of the open door. Dan said to his caller, forcing a yawn to make it appear that he had been disturbed from a sound sleep: "It is rather late, sir, but is there something I can do for you?" "I am Joe Danburne," said his visitor as if that explained a great deal. "I have business with Miss Monroe." There was deadliness in his voice that Honey recognized instantly and a cold chill swept over her body as she saw how cruel

. . . The district attorney showed sur-"Why come here? Why not go to and ruthless he looked as he stood

"I have been to her apartment. She isn't there." "How do you know? It's possible that she's asleep." Dan reminded civily. "It is customary to sleep at see her?" He spoke curtly.

this hour of the morning." "No. She isn't there." Both men were very angry though trying hard to remain cool and col-"What makes you think I know where she is? And what business is it of yours, anyway?" Dan straightened his shoulders and Honey saw her mind as she touched the ground and looked around. Joe's car was his right hand close into a tight parked by the curb, the keys in the lock for he seldom bothered to take them out, especially if he were "It's my business, all right," Joe said flatly, and Honey saw his eyes cover the room quickly and settle on in a hurry. She got into the car without hesitation and drove herself through fire narrow opening of the pense. So she tip-toed quietly through the lobby to the stairway. PUZZLE

Answer to This Puzzle Will Appear Next Week

Modern Etiquette By Roberts Lee

he silver when passing one's plate for a second helping?

A. The silver should be placed on the plate, as at the end of a

A. No: she may leave it on the back of her chair, if she wishes Q. If a girl knows that a goun, man does not have money, woul.

most certainly would not make a good impression on the man.

Q. Is it right to word a wedding invitation so that it reads "Request the pleasure of your company"?

A. No: the correct phrasing is "Request the honor of your pre-

Q. If a friend has borrowed a book and has kept it for several months, is it all right to ask her

A. Yes; a borrowed book should not be kept any longer than thirty be used for eating a cake, if a fork is not served with it?

A. Use the fingers, unless it is in an office where women are em ployees?

A. No; a well-bred man will re

Cook Dinner in this party apront Offers plenty of cover-up for your holiday dress; and it's pretty as a bunch of holly! Nice for gifts, too! 16), medium (18, 20), large 40, 42). Smal Isize 11/8 yds. 35-inch. This pattern, easy to use, sim-ple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions. Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS (25c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER. Send your order to Box 1, 123

> How Can 1? By Anne Ashley

A. Try moistening some granul-ated sugar with vinegar, and eating Q. How can I prevent soapy water from getting into the eyes of a child when giving it a sham-

A. Sponge the serge with hot vinegar before pressing it, and it will remove the shine.

Q. How can I clean a tile

A. Use a cloth dampened in turpentine. Then dry with a clean cloth. Do not wash the tiles with soap and water, as this often splits the enamel and destroys the glaze. Q. How can I remove rust from curtain pins?

A. Place them in a bowl of wat-

Q. How can I wash brush wool properly?

A. Any garment of brush wool must be washed carefully. Make a suds of pure flakes and warm water. Squeeze the garment in the suds, changing the water frequently. Rinse thoroughly, adding a few soap flakes to the last rinsing water. Spread out flat to dry. Turn the garment when one side is dry.

How Small-Yet How Precious-Weighing only I pound and 14 ounces, tiny Mary Ruth DeVor can barely cover the tip of the doctor's thumb with her hand. Born prematurely by catch the drips, and then lie awake

What can you do with a cargiven the time money, opportunity and courage! I lin, the young fellow who has made this his home off and on for seven years, and who, last August, felt the lure of the West in his bones, is now back home again. He left Alberta on a Wednesday, went on to the Rockies, over to the States, back to Canada and then stragihi home, covering about three thousand miles and arriving here about five p.m. the following Tuesday. No flat tires ,no motor trouble, no undue excitement of any kind—and a fellow with him to share expenss. Also he has come back with a great liking for the West. He had a good job with a young couple who treated him like a brother and who would have least him lad there. good job with a young couple who treated him like a brother and who would have kept him had there been any work for him anywhere around. But apparently there wasn't because, as John put it—"The West is a great country and you can earn big money—for awhile. But then comes the time when

The opposite seems true of farmstill more jobs than men to fil them. Tomorrow John starts in or home, one of several he could have for our final threshing this season the machine is supposed to come in tomorrow. We shall be very glad because we are absolutely ou of cereal grain. But we still have neighbours, and, like many a farmer before him, when Partner needs chop then he borrows grain from our neighbour across the road In just the same way another neighbour borrowed seed wheat from us until he had his own

What would we to go farming. He also made up his mind he would have no interence from anyone, and wanted no neighbours, or friends, or relative to visit him. To this end he bought a farm in an extremely isolated locality. There he brought his loyal and lovable young wife and practically forebale her associating with the few neighbours who did with the tew neighbours who did live in the district. Two boys were born to the young couple and their father's hostile, anti-social at-titude naturally made life difficult for the boys, and also their mother. It is a tragic story but well worth reading. The title? "Floods of Spring" by Henry Bellamann, and first published in 1942.

And while on the subject of books -I wonder how many have read "The Owl Pen" by Kenneth Wells?
I have read many reviews of his book heard the author on the radio and last Tuesday had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Wells at a gathering where he was giving a short address, and yet, so far, I have not read his book. But I still have to read but between friends and libraries I get along all right.

Mr. Wells spoke of the wealth of material for writers on a farm and asserted that while he had only four acres of land, a cow, don't confide in someone, I'll break completely. We've been married three years, and have an adorable little girl. I expect another baby next month. Here are some of my

ANNE HIRST

(when he drinks he is very nasty) and he goes and comes as he wishand he goes and comes as he wishes. By the middle of the week he is broke, and we don't eat as well as when I handled the money, either.

"He never takes me anywhere. I keep the apartment, myself, and the baby neat. In fact, his mother tells me I'm foolish to 'knock myself out,' but I can't stand to be careless. She does not approve of longer. I am a nervous wreck. I I nagged my husband, it would be night without wondering if we should get up and run all over the house to collect pots and pans to longer still listening to the steady tat-too of raindrops hitting those same pots and pans. Did I say "we Keep praying that things will change, or take the baby and leave him? Could it be that I am trying too hard to please him? God bless A Disgusted Wife" you. A Disgusted Wife" IT COULD BE that your husband is so accustomed to your spoiling him that he has grown even more Unintentionally, of course. He should be made to realize that a wife is an individual, a person of feeling like himself, who must depend largely upon him for her contentment in life. When he disregards her wishes, or denies her fair play, or shuts her out of his emotional life or his future plans, he is destroying the very things in her which once made him love her. And he is cheating himself of the loyal affection a woman like you is capable of giving.

Your husband, like so many others, has been taking you for granted. He should know that you need to be cheered up, to be amused, to be fussed over. You need the assurance of his belief in your wisdom and your judgement. In other words, you need exac ly what he is NOT giving you.

You say he reads this column. If he would like to write me his side of the situation. I shall be glad to hear from him.

Just The satless, Perhaps

Meantime, I hope he will admit that a wife deserves to be treated baby comes. Then we may find

St., New Toronto, Ontario.

at least as fairly as one's business partner. I hope he will take better care of you, be more thoughtful, show you in the ways he used to know how dearly he does love you. Want to perk up your kitchen? Make these gay potholders and oven mitts of bright scraps. They are big bazaar or gift items too! Pretty potholders and mitts for It takes so little to please a woman that it is sad that some husbands forget to make the effort.

heavy dutyl Pattern 510; transfer of 4 potholders and 2 oven mitts.

Laura Wheeler's improved pattern makes needlework so simple with its charts photos and conthat your husband has grown more considerate and that the worst of your troubles have passed. If not, that will be time enough to think cise directions.
Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS Sometimes a husband only needs to be reminded! But in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern to Box 1, 123 Eighteenth St., New Toronito. Onthe Print plainly PATTERN NUNMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS. sometimes it takes a shock to wake him up to the danger he faces. Tell Anne Hirst your trouble, and let her guide you. write her at 123 Eightheenth

FOR THAT

INDIGESTION WALLOP YOU BELOW THE BELT?

By Rev. R. Barciay Warrow

Parables In The Bible

Wart 13:31-33, 41-46; Luke 15:3-14. Golden Text:—Nerer man spake

While there are a few parables in the Old Testament, it was Jesus who excelled in the art of teaching truth by this means. Though cas-toms have greatly changed, his stories are still vivid and the truth is readily apparent.

The parables of the mustard seed and of the leaven illustrate the growth of the kingdom. From an asignificant beginning Christianity has become the greatest force in the world.

wise the true church searches dili-wise the true church searches unagently for the lost. The climax is seen in the third of the series where the great father heart of God is evidenced when he receives his prodigal home. These brought great comfort to the Publicans and sinners who crowded about Him sinners who crowded about Him that day. They knew their lost condition. Now they knew that

GIRL OR WOMAN WANTED

nasekeeping position. Nice house

Christ had come to save them.

The parables if the lost the lost coin and the lost son are three in one. In the first we see the Saviour's love in not being coatent with those already found but earnestly seeking the lost. Like-

Help Your Forgotten "28" For The Kind Of Relief That Helps Make You Rarin To Go Relief That Helps Make You Rarin' Te Go
More than half of your digestion is done below the belt-in your 28 feet of bowsle.
So when indigestion strikes, try something that helps digestion in the stomach AND but the belt-in your self-in the stomach AND what you may need is Cartor's Little Liver Fills to give needed help to that "forgotten 28 feet" of bowels.
Take one Carter's Little Liver Pill before and one after meals. Take them according to directions. They help wake up a larger flow of the 3 main digestive juices in your stomach AND bowels—help you digest what you have eaten in Nature's own way.
Then most folks get the kind of relief that makes you feel better from your head to your toos. Just be sum you got the genuino Carter's Little Liver Fills from your druggest—35e.

NERVES PLAY TRICKS ON YOU?

GREATEST OF ALL THE FALL FAIRS

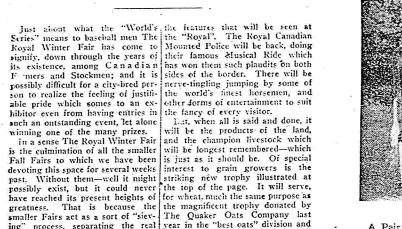

Fall Fair Highlights

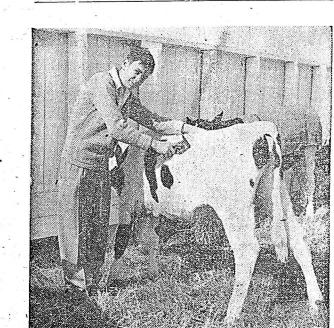

by the Ful-O-Pep Reporter

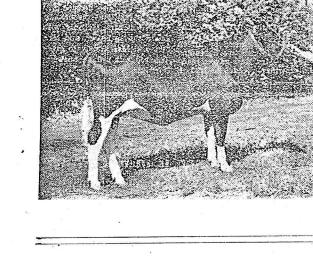

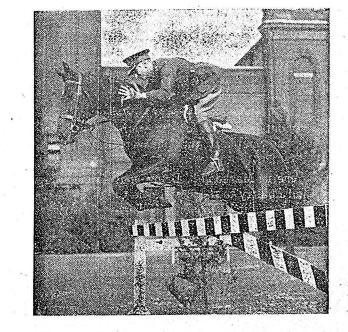

ing" process, separating the real champions from the "near" variety, so that at the "Royal" one is able as "World Wheat Champion". to see only the best of their kind, whether it be in the animal classes.

Yes, all in all, it's quite an institution. The Royal Winter Fair, and or in any of the other products of everybody who can possibly make he farm. it should by all means attend. So,
This week we illustrate some of let's go!

A Pair of Real Champions — Holsteins have been outstanding at all the Ontario Fall Fairs and no doubt will be a real center of attraction at The "Royal". Shown above is Baker Rag Apple Cavalier Nig, while below is Shore Rag Apple Nellie — two beautiful specimens of their kind and, of course, both FUL-O-PEP fed.

The Quaker Oats Company Limited

Manufacturers of

FUL-O-PEP Livestock and poultry feed

