Poultry

From now until Christmas, poultry will be much to the forefront. Prices will probably vary up and down as the demand exists. However, rest assured, we will pay Top Market Prices for all kinds of poultry, according to grade.

Phone 66 for quotations before you haul them to far-away green fields.

Cream

Butter is still scarce regardless of imports, so keep the feed to 'Bossy' and lessen the cry for 'Margie'.

Do your Christmas buying early in the Best Little Shopping Town, and bring your Cream, Eggs and Poultry to the Best Little Creamery in Ontario, thus maintaining a Local Market SECOND TO NONE.

TO ALL MOTORISTS
When you buy clothes, you just naturally buy the clothes that suit the type of work you do. And when you buy motor oil, you SHOULD...according to leading automotive engineers... buy the type of motor oil that suits the way you drive. That's why Sunoco dealers everywhere offer you two great motor oils instead of just one. For average driving, Sunoco Mercury Made Motor Oil is best. But for hard, long distance driving, you should use Sunoco Dynalube Motor Oil. Each of these two great motor oils is unexcelled for its purpose. Both are reinforced for extra protection. Both help keep engines clean to help them stay powerful. Both are sold by your Sunoco dealer. So next time your car needs oil, visit your Sunoco station, and take a tip from leading automotive engineers: Choose your motor oil to suit the way YOU drive. Sold by: A. O. GILLESPIE.

TRAVERTON
It's many years since your scribe visited Ward 3 of Glenora—the north-east part. In by-gone years, we knew most of the folks, where they dwelt and the scenic beauty of most of it. Private affairs and old age creeping on prevented. However, the first of the week, we set out on a travel trip over part of it. What a change in the farms that have changed hands, the home where were large families. Now many homes vacant; many with but few inmates.

We went by Traverston north passing the Ed. Norris home and recalled the last time we were there, there were present 10 of a family, grandma, Mrs. Duban and Mr. and Mrs. Norris, now only three. On further north, past Black's Creek bathing pool, owned by Stan Baker, over to the 12th concession where Jim Goodwill and Dan Brodie own the whole mile and a quarter; climbed the hill north and could look for miles from Townsend's Lake on the west, to Bell's Lake on the east, the latter encircled by hundreds of acres of swamp and forest. Then down the hill to the corner and were amazed to find the Nuhn sawmill and home; Looks as if years of business lie ahead. Turned east and motored a mile and a quarter thru thick swamp, coming out at Bell's corner, where a saw mill used to be and a post office. Turned northward and passed the big mansion where formerly lived Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, their nine sons and one beautiful daughter, Emma. All passed on except three we were told. Now occupied by the cultured Katool family. The big barn gone many years.

Further on we caught glimpses of the small lake, the big one with its island covered with varied evergreen trees. Turned the corner passing the Mel. Wilson home and east to the former Wiggins home, enlivened by nine sons and five daughters. We only know of Will, Tom and Jim left of the sons. Of the five daughters we are ignorant. We bought horses, harness, sleigh and whip from him before Christmas of 1892. Residing there now is William Wilson's cosy home and fine farm. The record is for them to sustain. On out past fine homes and rich farm lands, rabbit and a plate of hot dumplings awaited us, provided by Mrs. Joe and Betty. Omitted many homes we intended to touch and people we'd enjoy knowing. Perhaps in spring we'll be able to sketch others and that Black Creek with its cement bottom.

The mail man is due. We have to end this abruptly. We caught glimpses of Ireton's, Rob. Torry's, Joe. Hogg's, the old school, Luther Torry's, and a run on home, where a big well-cooked rabbit and a plate of hot dumplings awaited us, provided by Mrs. Joe and Betty. Omitted many homes we intended to touch and people we'd enjoy knowing. Perhaps in spring we'll be able to sketch others and that Black Creek with its cement bottom.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hunt and Mr. Stoddart of Priceville visited on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. John Peart. Mrs. John Peart and son, Will, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Boyce were in Owen Sound the first of the week and called to see the former's cousin, Mr. Harold Moffat, who is in poor health.
