Excerpts From A News Letter
Issued By The
Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board

We quote—"Creameries that continue to accept second grade, or even "Liner" first grade, Cream and pay for it as first grade, are maintaining an almost insurmountable obstacle in the way of quality improvement. It may well seem hard-boiled and undesirable to the producer to have Cream that is even questionable put down in a lower grade and paid for as such, or else refused, but in the long range, Cream shippers who persistently produce a poor quality are doing themselves little good and are a tremendous detriment to the industry. The challenge faces everyone in all branches—each must decide whether we will be known as one who helped improve the quality of our butter or just a stumbling block." Signed, "R. W. Morrison."

Start Youngster's Financial Career With One Dollar

Early Years Are Best In Forming Steady Savings Habit

To your youngster a dollar means more now than it will in later life. If he can retain this youthful respect for money as he matures, he will be likely to form lifelong habits of wise spending and regular saving. As countless "success-stories" show, these habits are of vital assistance in career-building and happy living.

You can impress these important traits on your child's mind by using a simple method. Thousands of Canadian parents have employed it successfully. You just give your youngster a dollar to start a Bank of Montreal savings account. You encourage him to save from his pocket money for some of the things he wants. Thus, you help him to help himself, and he achieves patience and purposefulness. Why not send him around to the B of M to open his account tomorrow? Edward Cramp, local branch manager, and his staff will be glad to assist your youngster to start his own "success-story".
