Let's Get Ready For A Real Welcome To Festival The New Year of 1950 is bringing an outstanding event to Markdale— the 18th annual Grey County Festi al of Music. It is an event that will probably surpass the Centennial ce bration of 1949 in the number of people who will be in town, as the Pestival will extend over a period ecure the Festival. Credit for bring ing it here goes to Gordon Beate the man who began and successfull carried through the Centennial. It will be sponsored by the Markdale

In recent years, the entries have been approximately 1,400, and many of hese entries are choirs and bands. so that the actual number of people aking part in the Festival greatly tries. Inferest in the Festival is

We can assure the officials of the Festival that the citizens of Markdale will do everything they can to make the 1950 Festival one of the best they have ever presented. The hospitality of Markdale will be exended to them in full measure. We also can assure them that with Goraton heading the committee nothing will be overlooked in the local planning.
As citizens of Markdale, we may be alled upon to help in some way to wards the Festival. One thing we should not overlook is the publicity it will bring to Markdale, both by having people coming here from the press and the radio. Another point o be considered is the business the Festival crowds will bring to Mark matter what our way o earning a living is, we should not ourselves that the trade no moment to us. Without our business section, we just, wouldn't have a community at all.

So let's get ready to do everything we can to make Markdale's welcome

Notes on the Editor's Pad-We heard of an incident in connection with Santa's visit sponsored by the Rotary Club. One of Markdale's OSHAWA - - - - $6.50 pert little misses, Ruthie Richards, was asked by Santa what she wanted for Christmas. "Didn't you get my letter?" she asked with a look that implied Santa was rather careless in handling his mail.

Carl Wright did his good turn fo the day on Thursday at noon by helping several motorists on Main St. They had left their cars parked on the street all morning during the heavy rain. Come noon, and time to get home for dinner, their cars refused to start. Carl was on hand, and he used his coal truck to tow them to get
