Party of Orillia Men Here Tuesday Next

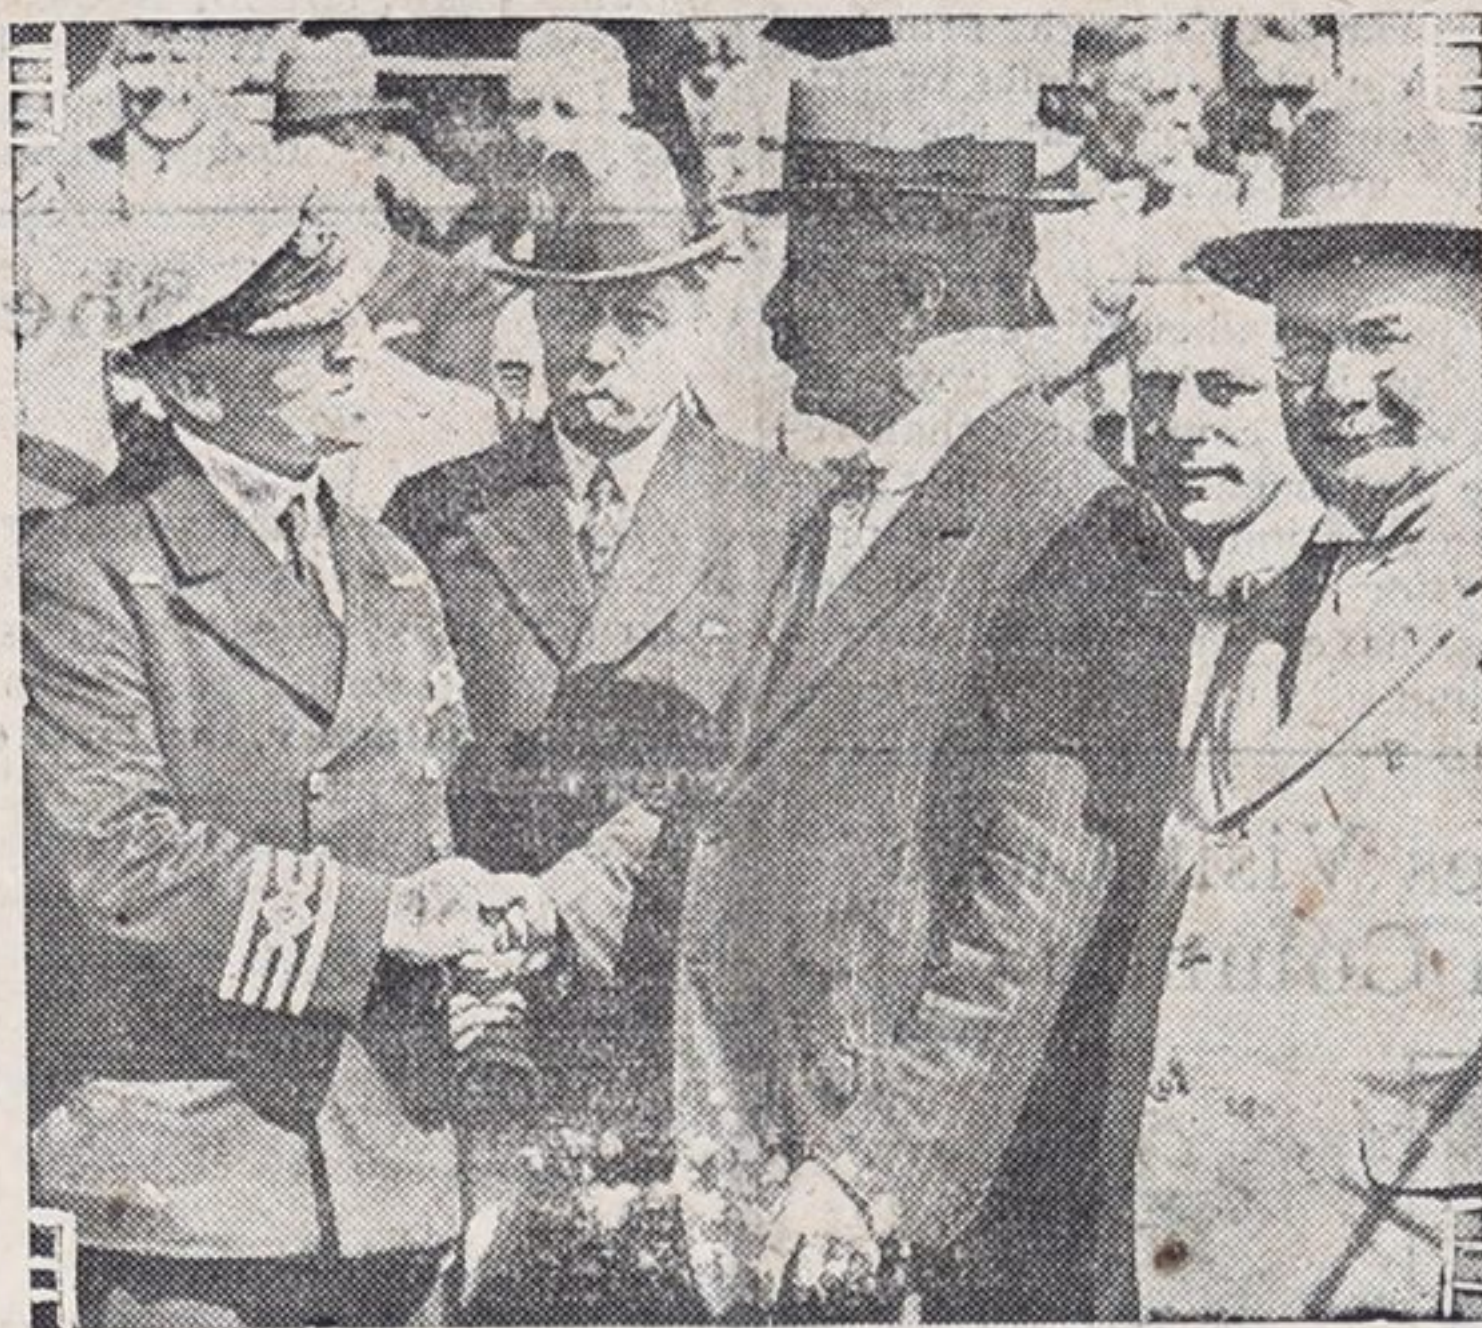

The secretary of the local Board of Trade has received notice from President Wright, of the Northern Ontario Associated Boards, to the effect that the party of Orillia members of the Chamber of Commerce will be in Haileybury on Tuesday, September 11th. No word has been received direct from the party, which it is said will be 75 strong, and no arrangements for their entertainment can be made until the length of their stay in town is ascertained.

The Orillians were so impressed with the Northern Ontario Crusade last year that they decided at that time to organize something of a similar nature for a tour of the North. It is expected that they will arrive here about noon on Tuesday.

Alleged Kidnapper Was Sought by Police

J. H. Lachance, who is alleged to have lured a boy of 15 from his home in Cobourg, under promise of employment in the secret service, is, it is believed, the same man who, as Captain Enright, was at one time sought by the police of this district on a charge of obtaining money on worthless cheques. In two or three places cheques were cashed by the man and later found to be worthless. In one instance the amount is stated to have been $140.

So far as can be learned, there will be no effort to have Lachance brought back here to answer to the charges. He was picked up with the boy last week after the two had covered considerable territory in their wanderings and told a somewhat incoherent story. He is still in custody.

Three New Teachers on Staff of Public School

When the Haileybury Public School opened for the fall term on Tuesday, there were three new teachers on the staff. Two of these, Miss Campbell and Mr. Vernon Little, are well known Haileybury young people, while the third, Miss Ross, comes from a point farther north.

The three teachers who resigned were Miss Madge Aubert, who was married at the close of the last term, Miss Meriza Lacarte, who has accepted a position on the staff of the local High School and Miss Robeson, who has returned to her home in Southern Ontario.

Girl Struck by Train Only Slightly Injured

Passengers on Train No. 47 on Monday morning witnessed what might easily have been a fatal crossing accident, when a young daughter of Captain Presse, of the Nipissing Mine, was struck at the Right-of-Way Crossing in Cobalt just after the train had left the station. In some way the girl got in front of the train, but her injuries were said to consist merely of a few bruises and some torn clothing. She was picked up and taken back to the station and later was able to go home.

Sons Visits Father Here After Twenty-One Years

Mr. W. P. Brown, of Sarnia, was a Haileybury visitor for a couple of days this week, having come up to visit his father, Mr. John William Petrie Brown, landscape gardener at the Prospect Nurseries. Mr. Brown had not seen his son for twenty-one years and a very pleasant re-union was held by the two. The separation occurred many years ago, when the death of Mrs. Brown in England made it necessary for her young son to be placed in the care of relatives. Later the father came to this country, and it is only recently that Mr. Brown Jr. arrived here.

Complete Last Section Of Highway Paving

The final link in the paving of the main highway through Haileybury was completed yesterday with the laying of the concrete on Main Street and the crossing of that thoroughfare with Rorke Avenue. Work had been interrupted for a day or two on account of the wet weather over the week-end, but the concrete is all laid now and the asphalt operations will commence in the near future.

The new roadway is now in use from the northern extremity to the corner of Main Street and Ferguson Avenue. Last week the final section of Ferguson was opened to traffic and yesterday morning the cars of the Nipissing Central commenced running through again after the interval of transferring passengers between Main and Browning Streets. The Main Street hill, which was completed over a week ago, is still closed and no traffic had been allowed on Rorke Avenue yesterday.

No further operations are contemplated until after the vote is taken on the paving of the upper section of Main Street, set for September 17th. The plant and all equipment of the Warren Paving Company is being held on the ground in readiness for the completion of this section if the vote is favorable.

Motorists are finding the new road a great improvement over the old rough roadway that has been used for so many years. The downtown section in particular presents a greatly improved appearance and the whole town will soon be reaping the benefits of the pavement. The surface is somewhat rough, being left in that condition for the asphalt covering, but the roadway has been brought up to proper grades where these are necessary and will in due time form a splendid link in the Ferguson Highway.

Beloved Clergyman Saw Forty Years' Service

One of the best known and best loved clergymen of the Anglican Church in Northern Ontario, the Ven. Archdeacon Gowen Gilmour, died on Saturday last at Sault Ste Marie. He was 79 years of age and had been for forty years a familiar figure throughout the diocese of Algoma, visiting all the outlying parts of the field and going from one point to another as occasion demanded. He was well known and welcomed in all parishes, both on the frontiers and in the larger centres and was as familiar in the humblest backwoods home as in the most pretentious town house. In the earlier days much of his travelling was done on snowshoes and by dog team, going into the farthest settlements with the utmost cheerfulness so long as he could visit and minister unto the needs of the people. It was one of his hobbies to call himself "The Tramp" and he was always more content in the humbler role of missionary than he was when he was called upon to stay in the larger communities.

The Archdeacon was a native of Antrim, Ireland, and came to Canada when he was 25. He was ordained deacon and priest by the late Bishop Sullivan and had spent the whole of his ministry in the diocese of Algoma. For the past few years he had been living in retirement at the Shingwauk Home, near Sault Ste Marie. He is survived by two daughters in England and three sons in Western Canada.

As a sidelight on the real Christian character of the late Archdeacon Gilmour, one recalls his labors in a small community at the close of the great war, when the flu epidemic was at its height. At this time there was considerable sickness in the community, there were few nurses, and many poor people who were suffering. The Archdeacon went about among the sick, doing bedside nursing in many cases and in many others giving words of comfort and cheer to the sufferers, showing kindness to all creeds and quietly doing what he could to make a bad situation better without any ceremony, and in his own way carrying on the work of the Christian ministry in a manner that left a warm spot in the hearts of all. This is only one instance of his long and faithful labors in the interests of the Church and Christianity. There are many more which have gone to make the name of Archdeacon Gilmour a treasured memory in the homes of the diocese of Algoma, and he will be deeply mourned.

The output of dairy factories in Canada in 1927 had a total value of $133,927,256, an increase of about $500,000 over the preceding year.
