

Pays With Life For Murder of Inspector

Ivanchuk Goes to Gallows Still Maintaining Innocence; Says Heart is Clean

Maintaining his innocence to the end, John Ivanchuk, convicted of the murder of License Inspector Harry Constable at Cochrane on the night of October 15th 1926, paid the supreme penalty of the law at an early hour on Friday morning last at the district jail here. He walked unaided to the scaffold and, when asked by the hangman, Arthur Ellis, if he had anything to say, replied "I have nothing to say, my heart is clean." Immediately the noose was adjusted and about eleven seconds after he had left his cell the trap was sprung. Some twelve minutes later he was pronounced dead by Dr. Arnold, the jail physician.

It had been expected in some quarters that the prisoner would make a statement of some kind before his execution, as police and officials had the idea that there might be others concerned in the murder, but nothing of the nature materialized. The condemned man had, up to a few days before the death sentence was to be carried out, refused the services of a spiritual adviser, but had finally asked for a priest and Mgr. Dupuis had visited him on several occasions and was with him when he was removed from his cell to be taken to the scaffold.

Four uniformed officials escorted the prisoner on his last march. They were Sergeant Delves, of the Provincial Police, Constable Delaney, of the R.C.M.P., Chief of Police MacGirr and Provincial Constable Allsopp. J. B. Moore, Deputy Sheriff of Cochrane, was present officially. Ivanchuk had requested that he be escorted to the scaffold by officers in uniform instead of the civilian guard which has been on duty ever since his conviction.

Ivanchuk had been sentenced by Mr. Justice Wright, at the Spring Assizes in Cochrane to die on June 21st, but a reprieve of four weeks was granted by the Department of Justice following the plea of his counsel, Harry Fine, of Ansonville. The latter presented some new material which he hoped would have some weight in his request for a retrial, but this failed to prove sufficient to warrant interference with the sentence.

The day before the execution, the prisoner had caused some disturbance in his cell by pounding on the iron bars and generally behaving in an entirely different way in which he had spent the months of his confinement. He was sullen and morose at times and refused to see three people, two men and a woman, who had come from Kirkcaldy Lake to visit him. However, before the hour of execution, which had been fixed soon after midnight, he had calmed down and met his death steadily.

Following the hanging a formal inquest was held by Coroner Dr. McCullough, of New Liskeard, a jury having been empanelled and held in readiness in the jail building. The body was buried in the jail yard.

Ivanchuk was 46 years of age, and a native of Bukovina. He came to Canada shortly before the war and was employed at Cobalt, later going farther north and working in various towns and mining camps. He has a wife and daughter in his native country and made a will in June leaving some property to his daughter.

The Cobalt Mines Hospital sued the Grace Lake Mining Co. for a bill of $152.50 in Division Court here last week. The claim was based on the fact that Arthur Fortin, who had worked 12 days at the mine, claimed that he had contracted rheumatism there and spent 61 days in the hospital as a result.

Mrs. Ben Lee, Mr. Jas. MacLean, Mr. Jack MacLean and Mr. Robt. Smith, of Toronto, motored to Haileybury last week and spent the week-end with Mrs. John MacLean Sr., returning to Toronto on Monday. Mrs. Lee stayed for a visit with her mother. Miss Mary MacLean went to Toronto with the party.

On Friday evening, July 19th, a very pleasant and successful garden party was held at the home of Mrs. Robt. Campbell, West Rd., where the Women's Institute had three booths, selling hot dogs, tea, coffee cake and sandwiches, also candy, ice cream, soft drinks, etc. Dancing and cards were the principal amusements. A recitation by Mrs. J. Quimet and by Irene Craig were greatly enjoyed. A guessing contest was also a part of the attractions, the prize being a cake, won by Hilliard Proffit, of Englehart. A very substantial sum was realized, which was very gratifying to the ladies, who worked hard to make it a success.

Rotary Street Fair to Be Held August 14th

The street fair, planned by the Haileybury Rotary Club to raise funds for its charitable work, will be held on Wednesday, August 14th, instead of August 7th. This decision was reached at the regular meeting of the organization yesterday. It was stated that a civic holiday would be proclaimed for Monday, August 5th, and it was considered advisable to postpone the fair. While definite arrangements are not complete, it is understood that the amusements provided will be along the lines of the entertainment held by the I.O.D.E. some weeks ago. There will be street dancing, a midway with booths, and various other amusements that will fill in the afternoon and evening. If the weather is unfavorable, the fair will be held on the following day, August 15th.

"It's your turn to have Mother . . ."

"HONOUR thy father and thy mother." Most of us remember the commandment but in later life when we become fathers and mothers ourselves we are apt to consider the responsibility for our own parents' upkeep a bit of a burden.

Cases are not rare where family quarrels have arisen because children don't want mother or father unloaded on them for so many months each year.

Well, do you, yourself, want to be in this position when you will have become old?

Certainly not! Then prevent it, so far as lies in your power, by setting aside a part of your earnings now, so that, when the time comes, you will not need to sacrifice your self-respect by becoming a burden to your children.
