Fine Entertainment By Prof. Duxbury

Eminent English Reciter and His Singing Son Please Large Audience

Before an audience that filled the United Church here to the doors, Professor John Duxbury, eminent English reciter, and his son, Mr. Arthur Duxbury, tenor soloist, last night gave one of the finest entertainments that has been heard in Haileybury in many years.

The subject of Professor Duxbury's recital last night was "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and his masterful portrayal of the famous story by Robert Louis Stevenson held the audience enthralled from its opening until the end.

At the opening and closing of the main feature of the entertainment Mr. Arthur Duxbury entertained the audience with a repertoire that included an aria, several old favorite songs and a few humorous love ditties that greatly pleased his hearers.

At the end of the program, Professor Duxbury, in what he termed "a little piece" mixed humor and pathos to such an extent that the audience both laughed and cried as he acted the part of the old farmer having his picture taken for the first time.

During the summer months the Haileybury Drug Stores will be closed at 1 p.m. each Wednesday, and will re-open at 7 p.m. and remain open until 8.30.

Late Miss Rankin Once Lived in Haileybury

Haileybury friends learned with deep regret last week of the death of Miss Ella Rankin, which occurred suddenly at Montreal on Sunday, May 4th.

Miss Rankin was at one time well known in Haileybury. Her father, the late Newell Rankin, was the Hudson Bay factor at Mattawa for many years and after retiring brought his family to Haileybury.

Early Resident Here Passes in Toronto

Word came from Toronto this week of the death of a former citizen of Haileybury in the person of Mrs. Hector McQuarrie, which took place at her residence in the city on Saturday last.

With the late Mr. McQuarrie, she was among the earliest settlers in this section of the North and there are many old friends here who remember them with kindly feelings of regard.

Mr. McQuarrie died a good many years ago, and Mrs. McQuarrie went to Toronto to reside. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, interment being at Dundalk, Ont., her former home.
