Child is Killed Father Injured As Team Bolts

Carried Dead Child With Him in Search for Help After Tragedy

To have his only child killed instantly and to receive injuries himself that necessitated his removal to hospital for treatment, was the sad experience of William Schaffner, a farmer in the Englehart section, on Thursday afternoon last, when his team, which he was driving into town ran away on a steep hill about two and one-half miles west of the town.

The child, a six-year-old boy, also named William, was accompanying his father to town in a democrat, when a wheel of the vehicle stuck in a rut on a winding hill. The team bolted and threw both father and son out and under the wheels.

Mr. Schaffner picked up his child, not being aware of the fatal nature of his injuries, and started to go for help, when a neighbor happened to drive up and rushed both to Englehart. The boy was dead, his neck being broken and one leg fractured, and the father was sent to the Red Cross Hospital for treatment.

Provincial Constable F. Devlin, stationed at Englehart, investigated the tragedy and reported the circumstances as he learned them to Crown Attorney F. L. Smiley, K.C. No inquest will be held, the facts of the case, according to the constable's investigation, being clear. Mr. Schaffner's injuries are said to be not particularly serious.
