Immigration Policy in Good Hands

Judging from his public speeches so far, Hon. W. A. Gordon is not letting any time go to waste in getting down to his work of handling the immigration situation, and from published reports and comments, we may take it as assured that our immigration policy is in good hands.

An interesting account of a meeting in Winnipeg, from the Winnipeg Free Press, has come to hand, which quotes from a speech delivered by Mr. Gordon as stating that "if any assistance is to be given to colonization in Canada our first effort must be directed at settling on the land our own sons and daughters and those who are already in the Dominion." The Free Press continues:

"I subscribe heartily to the views of those who tell of the magnitude of our resources, but there is no great hurry for exploiting them," Mr. Gordon continued.

"Already by railways and other means of transportation we have opened up great tracts of land which have given us an immense field for colonization and many opportunities for expansion, but at the present time we have within our borders all the people we can absorb into our business life.

"The time will come, however, when we can invite more people and then we can determine what new people we want and by careful selection bring in only those who are likely to succeed. If we bring in those who cannot be readily assimilated we shall create a situation that will cost us money, time and thought, so we should learn from the mistakes of the past and colonize only with people who will fit in.

"What is a nation?" he asked. "It is a collection of happy, prosperous, contented Christian homes, and the success of a nation is measured by the numbers of such homes it has." He referred to the many Canadian settlers of non-British origin, many of whom he praised as a credit to the Dominion, and condemned division of prospective settlers into preferred and non-preferred nations as a distinction that should be discarded.

Touching on the economic situation in the Dominion, Mr. Gordon said that periods of depression are sent to bring out the courage that is within us, and asserted that Canada will be among the first of the nations to recover. "But we must all assist one another. East must help west, and west must help east. We must get together and correlate our effort, and then we can look forward with confidence into the future."

He suggested that too much is made of the depression in published reports and, referring to reports in the newspaper's coming from Saskatchewan reproved Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, premier of Saskatchewan, who also was present, for their appearance, which, he said, led to the belief that that province was in very bad shape. Referring to the development of mining enterprises in Manitoba, Mr. Gordon said the province now has the beginnings of a great mining industry that will produce new dollars to absorb the products of other industries, and declared his belief that the building up of other industries based on her mines which had taken place in Ontario would be repeated in Manitoba.

Minister of Public Welfare Will Visit the North Country

Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare in the Provincial Government, will make a tour of the North Country some time during the winter, according to Mr. J. R. McCracken, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society of Temiskaming. Mr. McCracken had an interview with the Minister while in Toronto last week. It was expected that Hon. Mr. Martin would be in the district on December 19th, but this date has been cancelled.

When he does come North, a meeting of the Children's Aid Society, the various service clubs and social organizations and interested citizens will be arranged

Cobalt Favors Conference on Highway Route

Joins in With Haileybury and Other Towns; Liskeard is Still Unfavorable

Cobalt is the latest of the towns of the T. & N. O. Railway to join in favoring the holding of a conference with representatives of towns and cities from the more southern and western sections of the North in regard to the suggested trans-Canada Highway and its route through New Ontario.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade of the silver town on Friday last the members present were unanimous in the opinion that such a conference was a step that it would be wise to take in the circumstances and the belief that some agreement might be reached whereby a united front could approach the governments with a definite suggestion.

At the time of writing, there remain the towns of Kirkland Lake and Timmins to decide on the question. With the single exception of New Liskeard, the others have fallen in line with the suggestions of C. W. Wright of the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, that the conference should be held. The New Liskeard Board is convinced that no benefit can be derived from such a meeting and are basing their belief on the resolution passed by the Associated Boards at Cochrane in September which endorsed the route west from Hearst.

The North Bay Board has invited the parties to meet at that city as a central point. Someone has suggested December 6th as a suitable date, but nothing definite has been decided. It appears probable, however, that the conference will be held.

For some weeks past it has been known that the people of Sudbury, Sault Ste Marie and other points in that section of the North were willing to meet with the people from this section to at least talk over the question. It is the hope of all that there will be something done in the near future in order that people in the North Country will get some benefit from the employment that will result during the coming winter.

Resume Through Service On the Nipissing Central

Through car service connecting the three towns was resumed by the Nipissing Central Railway on Friday last, the fill at Dickson's Creek having been completed and the tracks replaced.

Since the washout early in the summer it has been necessary for passengers between Haileybury and New Liskeard to walk across the bridge, one car having been placed on the north end of the route. Recent weeks have seen the filling up of the ravine, following the completion of a large cement culvert, and on Thursday night the poles carrying the power line were erected across the gap.

The through service is greatly appreciated now, since the weeks when it was interrupted have shown just how much the Nipissing Central means to the three towns. It will be still more important during the winter months when the motor traffic is not at its best, although it is expected that the road will be kept plowed out.

One Small Advertisement Sold Whole Litter of Pups

Sam Craig, who lives in Clover Valley, is a firm convert to the value of advertising, following an experience of a couple of weeks ago. On that occasion, he had some pups to dispose of and placed a small ad. in The Haileyburian. He ordered it for two weeks believing that the demand was not great for the doggies at this time of year. However, following one insertion of the ad., we had a call from Mr. Craig, stating that within a couple of days he had disposed of the whole litter. It cost him just 25 cents for the publicity.

We could give many instances of similar returns from a small outlay. You can almost always "Sell it by Advertising" and it doesn't pay to keep something you don't want or need.

Got Signals Reversed in Report of Motor Accident

Evidently the reins got twisted, or the steering gear worked loose, or something happened in a report in these columns last week of a motor crash which took place on the Lake Shore Rd. when two cars came together in passing a load of hay. Ward Caldbick, who was driving one of the cars, tells us that instead of passing the wagon from behind, he was meeting it, and that the story had the effect of placing him in the wrong.

We confess that we are not thoroughly familiar with the rules of traffic, and can scarcely distinguish the fine points. In any event, it would seem to be difficult for the motorists to see through a load of hay and it is stated that the horse-drawn vehicle was not carrying lights, which is an infraction of the law. Action by the police is said to be pending in the case.

Three Cases Are Listed For the District Court

Gains Seventeen Pounds

Anyone seeing Mary would find it hard to believe that this smiling young woman was a consumptive. Indeed, for Mary this word "was" is the best part of the whole story, for she fully believes that she is just about "cured" and ready to go back to work. "Why, in just three months they put nearly seventeen pounds weight on me," says she, with a hint of Irish brogue, "and me that weak when I came in that I had to be carried on a stretcher."

Mary has been in the Toronto Hospital for Consumptives for several months, but such is the skill of the doctors, such the result of good food, rest and careful nursing, that she again meets the world with a smile, and counts the days to the time when she will be able to work once more and help in her mother's support.

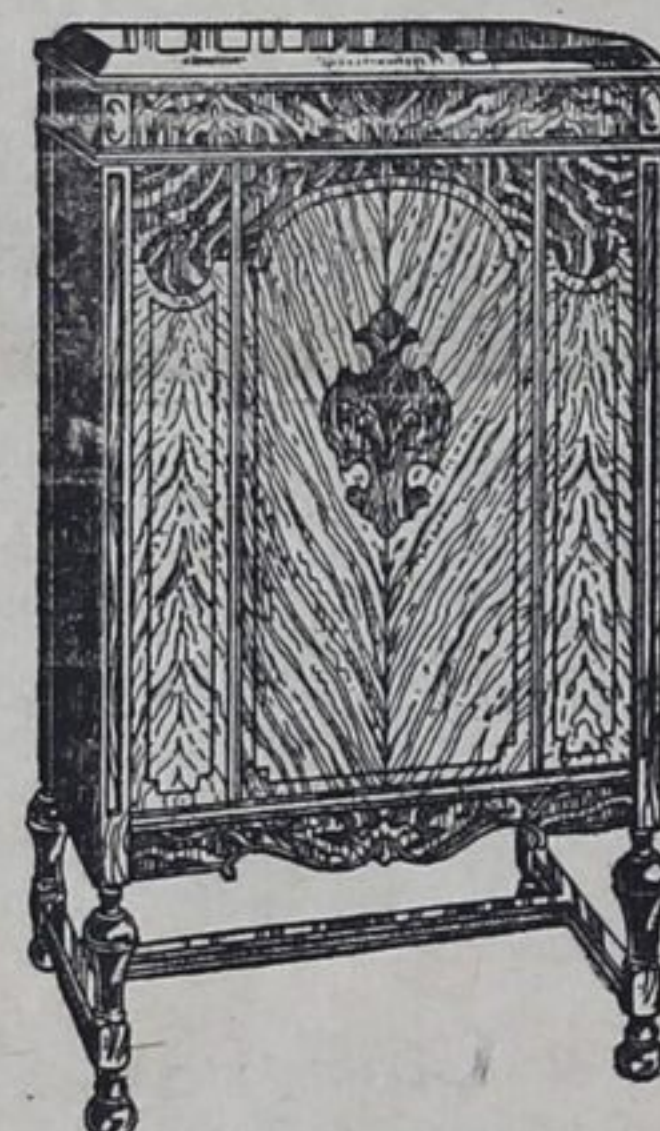

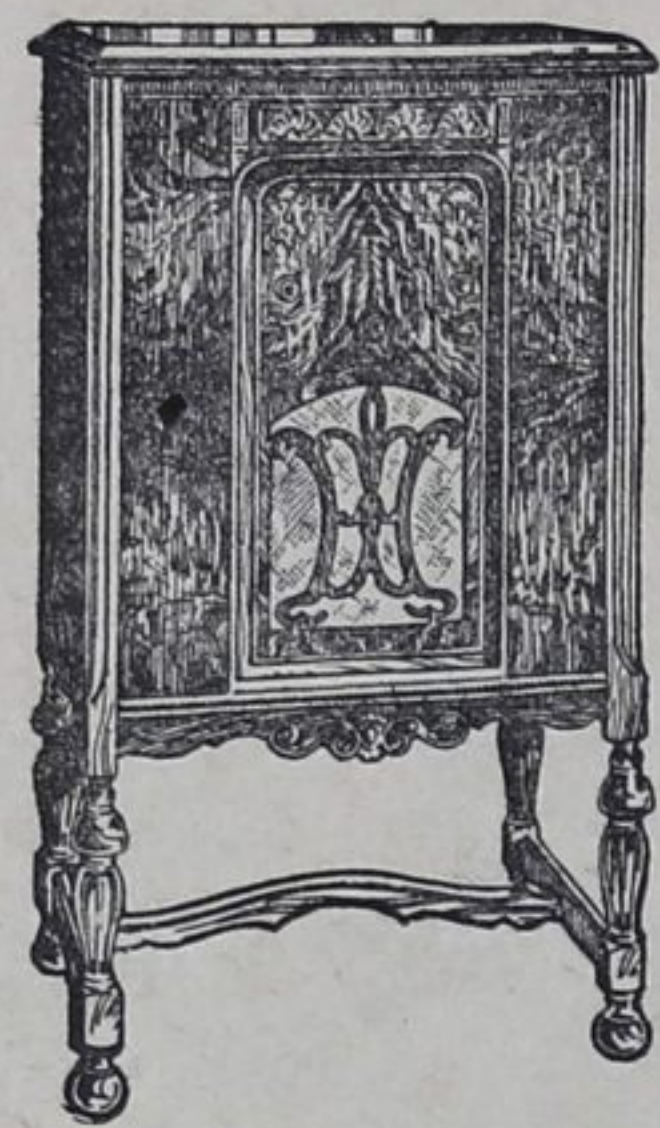

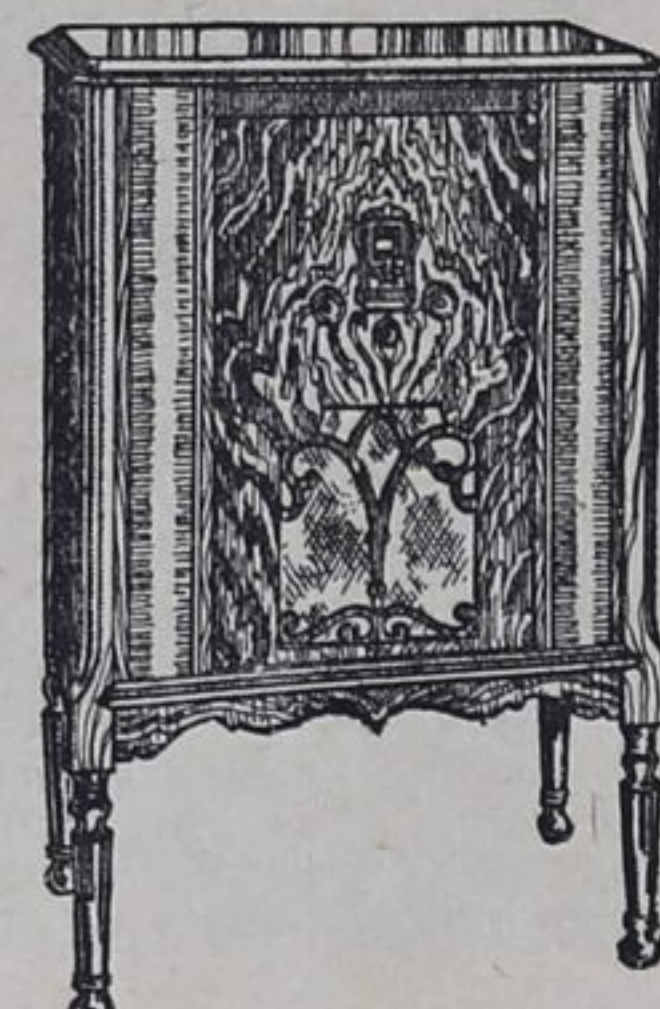

A great work this, that cares for many hundreds of the consumptive poor who otherwise would have to accept the hardships and uncertainties of being tended at home. Will you please help such as Mary to get well? Your subscription will be gratefully acknowledged if sent to Mr. A. E. Ames, 223 College Street, Toronto.

The action of Wm. Schneffner against the Township of Evantrel and Dack, asking damages for the death of his small son in a runaway caused, it was alleged, by the bad condition of the road between the two townships, which was to come up at this sitting of the court, has been settled between the parties.
