Install Officers For Coming Year at Masonic Lodge

Ceremonies Held Last Thursday Night Followed by Usual Social Hour

At the regular meeting of the Haileybury Lodge, A.F. & A.M., held on Thursday night last, the new officers for the coming year were installed. Wor. Bro. Canon F. H. Hincks is the new Master, having been elected at the November meeting and will guide the destinies of the Lodge during 1931. R. W. Bro. N. J. McAulay was the installing officer for the meeting, with R.W. Bro. C. W. Haentschel as director of ceremonies, and there was a good attendance of the brethren present, including a number of visitors from Silver Lodge, Cobalt, several of whom assisted in the ceremonies. R.W. Bro. W. E. McCready gave an impressive lecture at the close.

Following the lodge meeting the brethren spent a social hour hit, "Playboy of Paris," in which the scintillating star sings and makes love in true Parisian style.

"College Lovers, which plays the Classic Wed., Thurs., Dec. 17, 18, features a hero which represents something new in college heroes on the screen; on the same program with "Heads Up" the thrills come thick and fast—and the tunes are tunes that last in this melody romance with Charles Rogers, Helen Kane and the very funny Victor Moore.

And the Classic Theatre will show for the first time in Canada Charles Ruggles in "Charley's Aunt". Columbia Pictures have booked this picture in the Classic Theatre in advance of any theatre in the big cities. This picture goes to the Tivoli Theatre in Toronto the following week.

in the banquet room of the Temple, where they listened to several addresses and enjoyed community singing after refreshments had been served. The toast "The King and the Craft," was proposed by the newly installed Worshipful Master, Canon Hincks, that to the Grand Lodge by R.W. Bro. C. W. Haentschel and responded to by V. W. Bro. Hayward, while the toast to the visitors was handled by W. Bro. H. A. Day and responded to by W. Bros. H. E. Tomney and H. Phelps, of Cobalt. The visitors proposed and drank a toast to Haileybury Lodge, which was responded to by the Senior Warden, Bro. J. H. Murray, and a witty speech by Bro. H. Jemmett added to the general enjoyment. At the close of the program the Immediate Past Master W. Bro. Gibbons, proposed a toast to the new W.M., and R. W. Bro. Haentschel extended an invitation to all Masons and their wives to attend a Christmas service to be held by Temiskaming Preceptory in the Temple on Sunday, December 21st at 2.30 p.m.

Make Some Hot Biscuits Today!

Make a dozen delicious biscuits this way. Sift together twice, 2 cups Purity Flour, 2 tspns baking powder, 1 tspn salt. Cream 1 tbspn each of lard and butter and mix with the dry ingredients, using the tips of your fingers. Add 1/2 cup each of milk and of water, mixing with knife until you have a very soft dough. Pat out lightly on mixing board until 3/4-inch thick. Cut out and bake in hot oven for 15 minutes.

These biscuits—made with Purity Flour—will keep moist for several days and may be re-heated without getting dry.

DELICIOUS SAUSAGE ROLLS—can be made from the above dough, but use half the shortening. Roll to about 1/4-in. thick, cover sausages and bake 25 minutes, or until brown, in hot oven (450°).

MEAT PIE COVERINGS using same dough are extra tasty.

Making your profits Permanent

THOUSANDS of men have "cashed in" on their holdings after years of unremitting toil and have re-invested only to lose their profits in unwise speculation. Life annuities provide an invincible protection against such calamities.

In May, 1928, a group of North Dakota business men sold their extensive holdings. While the deal was pending they decided to re-invest the proceeds in life annuity contracts. After investigation they paid the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada over three million dollars in premiums for annuity contracts. They were attracted by the safety and convenience of these annuities and the large return.

MEASLES

Of all the communicable diseases with which the human race has to contend, measles is the most readily spread. It is essentially a disease of childhood, and very few escape it. Rarely seen under five months of age, it reaches its greatest incidence between the sixth and seventh years.

The younger the child, the more serious the condition. Among the communicable diseases of childhood, measles ranks second as a cause of death, and approximately ninety per cent. of deaths from measles occur in children under five years of age.

Because measles is a common disease, it is generally not taken seriously by parents, many of whom seem to regard it as an annoying experience which has to be gone through, as has the cutting of teeth.

This attitude of regarding measles as a trivial condition is not justifiable. True it is that the vast majority of children who contract the disease recover with no apparent ill results. It is also true, however, that measles destroy many lives. It may not appear that the child died of the measles; in many cases it will be said that death was due to broncho-pneumonia. This is correct, but the child would not have developed broncho-pneumonia if he had not contracted measles.

Among the children who recover from an attack, there are many who will have some permanent damage done to eyes, ears, lungs, heart and other parts of the body. It is also observed that the general loss of resistance due to an attack of measles seems to favor the development of tuberculosis, and so we not infrequently see that measles gives tuberculosis a chance to establish itself in the child.

This serious picture of measles is presented in order to cause parents to realize why measles should be regarded seriously. The younger the child, the more serious the condition, so we should make every possible effort to prevent young children, particularly those under three years of age, from coming in contact with anyone suffering from the disease. It is a well established fact that if children with fever or acute colds are put to bed, and the condition later turns out to be measles, such children, because they have been kept warm and at rest in bed, are more apt to escape the serious complications. This suggests that bed is the place for the child who is sneezing, or who has a running nose and watery red eyes. The condition may not be measles, but it very often is, because measles begins with the same symptoms as a common cold, and in both cases, the child should be put to bed.
