Some Peculiar Figures

While as a general rule government "Blue Books" are rather dry reading, sometimes some very interesting and peculiar information may be gleaned from their perusal. We have in mind the Ontario Government's fifteenth bulletin on municipal statistics, giving records for the year 1930, and the section which caught our attention is that dealing with waterworks. All towns, cities and villages having municipal waterworks are listed and in the majority of cases the total consumption for the year is given, together with the average daily consumption per head of population. The variation of the latter amounts is what seems particularly puzzling.

We find from the tables given that the highest consumption of water in the province is 342 gallons per head per day, which is the figure given for Petrolia, and the lowest is 1.02 gallons at Windsor. A good many towns and cities apparently did not report fully on their water consumption, but the ones who did average around 100 gallons, although there is nothing like uniformity. Haileybury's consumption is not given, but that of New Liskeard is listed at 70 gallons and Cobalt's at 125 gallons. The city of Toronto uses 120 gallons per day for each individual.

Other figures given in the table show the earnings and operating and capital charges of the plants, together with the profit or loss as the case may be. In this, Haileybury falls behind her sister towns for, while Cobalt and New Liskeard both show a substantial profit, our balance is on the wrong side and the statement shows a loss of $6,424.56 for the year. Cobalt's profit is shown as $3,907.77 and New Liskeard's $2,604.56. The revenue derived from the Haileybury system was $12,056.00, but the operating expenses and capital charges were $18,480.56.

These figures are peculiar, as we said before, particularly the consumption of water in different places, but they are "compiled from municipal returns for the year ending December 31st., 1930

Press Pays Tribute to Late Editor of Telegram

The press of the whole country is this week paying tribute to the late editor of the Toronto Telegram, Irving E. Robertson, who died at his home in the city on Monday night after a comparatively short illness. He was 49 years of age, was born in Toronto and held a prominent place in the life of the city and province. He succeeded his father, the late John Ross Robertson, as editor in chief of the Telegram some years ago, and was among the most prominent journalists in Canada, known for his fearless attitude on all questions of a public nature. Mr. Robertson's philanthropic work was well known throughout the province, particularly in connection with the Hospital for Sick Children, and his death at a comparatively early age is deeply mourned.

Snowfall on January 1st, but Weather Continues Very Mild

A fall of a few inches of snow on the night of January 1st changed conditions and gave the town and district a more wintry appearance, but the weather this week has been exceptionally mild and there is some difficulty experienced in making ice both at the skating and curling rinks. The snow stopped the fine skating on the lake, although some of the more enthusiastic were still out on Sunday.

None of the old timers can recall a milder or finer fall and early part of the winter, although it is told that an Indian resident of the district claims to remember a winter when Lake Temiskaming did not freeze entirely over.

Consistent Advertising in The Haileyburian will Bring Business

The worst fire since the big one in 1922 occurred on Sunday night in Liggett's Drug Store. There was only slight damage to the building, but the stock and fixtures are almost a complete loss.

The new Haileybury theatre will be opened tonight, with special music and vaudeville by the McQuinn Sisters and Brothers.

Miss Jane Caldbick suffered a fractured limb in a skiing accident on Sunday, in a fall on the Lake Shore Road.

Joseph A. Legris was elected Mayor of Haileybury on Monday, beating his opponent, Geo. Poppleton, by 25 votes.

Haileybury again won the Englehart Cup from the New Liskeard Curling Club on Tuesday night, after a strenuous battle between two rinks from each club at New Liskeard. They were four points up on the two games.

About four inches of snow fell over the week-end and interfered with the skating on the lake, which had been good for some days.

A banquet was held by the Retail Merchants Association in the I.O.O.F. Temple last night, at which the chief speakers were Town Clerk H. A. Day and ex-Mayor G. F. Summers.

In the Bucke Township elections, W. J. Post defeated Burton Normandy for the reeveship by 33 votes.

ORE SHIPMENTS

For the week ending December 31st, three cars of ore were shipped from Cobalt by the Mining Corporation, the total contents being 263,919 pounds. During the week ending January 4th, 1932, three cars were shipped from the Frontier mine at Silver Centre, with 267,706 pounds of ore.

Physical Training Classes Will Resume Tomorrow Night

The physical training classes, conducted in the basement of the United Church by Mr. B. W. Hartley, will resume tomorrow, Friday, evening for the winter months. These classes had been discontinued shortly before the Christmas holidays. The first class is at 7 p.m. and the same hours as heretofore will be observed.

We have been asked to state that the juvenile choir, under Rev. W. A. Beecroft, will hold its practice at 1.30 p.m. on Saturdays, instead of 3 p.m., in order that the members will not be deprived of the hour for skating in the afternoon.

BANANAS FOR BABIES?

Like an alphabet read the distinctions which authorities attribute to the nutritious banana.

They say this tropical fruit contains vitamin "A" as well as vitamin "B", and vitamin "C" as well as vitamin "D". One more, vitamin "G" is added to the list. In addition, they claim, bananas which arrive by millions in Canadian National ships from the British West Indies, have much assimilable sugar, fats, proteins, carbohydrates and starch. It is now claimed that a new banana powder makes a good baby food and that it contains iron, which is more than can be said for cow's milk.
