Mr. A. H. Jack, formerly of Haileybury, was in town yesterday from Kirkland Lake, having come down to attend the installation of officers at Temiskaming Encampment at New Liskeard last night. He is an officer in the Grand Encampment of Ontario.

Roads have been marked out across the lake, both from Guigues and from Ville Marie, and the usual winter traffic is now in full swing. Several "snowmobiles" have been seen on the streets here during the past few days, the residents on the Quebec side using this means of travelling across.

In Memoriam

MAYHEW—In loving memory of Earl, son of Mr and Mrs. L. G. Mayhew, who passed away Jan. 15th, 1930.

We little thought when leaving home,
He would no more return;
That he in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And never said good-bye.
The blow was great the shock severe,
We little thought the end so near
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
—Sadly missed by Mother and Father

Dairymen Must Secure License By January 20

Terms of New By-Law Will Now Be Enforced; Certificates of T.B. Tests Required

Complying with the request of the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. W. C. Arnold, the town council passed a resolution at the regular meeting on Tuesday night to the effect that all dairymen selling milk or cream in the municipality must comply with the terms of the new by-law passed on December 9th, 1930. All must have their licenses on or before January 20th next, under penalty of being forbidden to sell milk in the town.

It will be recalled that the new by-law was passed after considerable discussion and consultation with health authorities, both local and provincial, and after all milk vendors had been invited to appear before the council and present their views on the matter.

The principal terms of the by-law are rules that, before a license will be granted, the applicant must present to the town clerk two certificates, one from a qualified veterinary surgeon to the effect that his herd has passed the tuberculin test, and the other from the Medical Health Officer showing that the stables and premises have been inspected and found satisfactory from a sanitary point of view. An alternative to the first is proof that a properly equipped pasteurization plant has been installed to treat the milk before it is offered for sale.

Dr. Arnold told the council that all the dairies had complied with the regulations and there was no reason why they should not now secure their licenses on presentation of the required certificates. The by-law is to be strictly enforced and it is believed that this will result in an absolutely satisfactory milk supply for the town.

Cobalt Council Seek Solution of Hospital Problem

Of Interest Here as Proposal is Made to Sell Equipment to Sisters

The hospital problem in Cobalt is being dealt with by the town council there, who are seeking some solution whereby the institution can be carried on under the changing conditions which confront the town. Interest here centres around a proposal made last year that the Sisters of Misericordia take over the equipment and the work of the Mines Hospital, which would mean the closing of the latter. The following report of a meeting of the Cobalt council, held on Monday night, gives the situation as it stands at present:

The conditions under which the town of Cobalt will continue the grant of $1,000 to the Mines Hospital were determined when the 1931 town council met in its first regular sitting on Monday evening. In a letter to be sent the directors of that institution it was laid down that Council considered the salary of G. A. Cavin, the hospital secretary, should be cut from $150 per month to $50, and that office space should be provided at the hospital building, instead of renting premises outside, as at present. The Council is willing to give accommodation for the meetings of the directors.

Earlier in the day council had instructed Mayor O'Gorman to prepare a communication for the directors, and when His Worship submitted the draft of the letter his colleagues made several amendments to it. The mayor had suggested that the secretary's salary be "not more than $75 a month" and that the town, provided the conditions were accepted by the directors, would give a special grant of $500 to help meet the deficit for last year. This latter was ruled out and a change made in the salary proposal. In the discussion which ensued it was made clear there would be no grant this year unless the conditions were met.

The letter to be sent will state that Council desires the hospital to continue under the present directorate, and reference will be made to the financial condition of the municipality and the decreasing assessment. A further suggestion will be made, to the effect that overhead expenses at the hospital might be reduced by making provision for maternity cases there. The hospital's deficit, according to a letter sent the town some months ago, was $1083, but since then the town has paid the second instalment of its grant of $1,000 last year. The directors wrote asking the municipality for another $500, and intimated that, failing this,

Public Library Annual Meeting on Tuesday Next

This Month Closes First Term of Successful Operation; to Elect Board

On Tuesday evening next the first annual meeting of the Haileybury Public Library, re-established last year for the first time since the fire in 1922, will be held in Hotel Haileybury. The end of this month will mark the closing of the first term of successful operation, when reports will be given and other business transacted. The act governing public libraries requires that the year end with January, and although the library has only been open for some six months, the beginning of February will mark the opening of a new year.

The meeting on Tuesday night will be held at 8 o'clock and all members are privileged to attend and take part in the business. This will include the election of a Library Board for the coming year, although the present board has been in office for the half year. This, and the fact that the business of the library has been conducted so successfully, would naturally suggest that they be re-elected, unless one or more of them wish to be relieved of the office.

During the past six months the library has proved very popular and a large number of citizens have availed themselves of its privileges. There is a splendid collection of books, which is being added to constantly, and the generosity of the public in contributing spare volumes has been remarked upon more than once. It would seem likely that there will be a good attendance at the annual meeting.

they would seriously consider a proposition to sell out to the Sisters of Misericordia Hospital at Haileybury.

The hospital future has been in the balance for some time past pending a decision of the council, and this had been left by the 1930 board to its successors in office. Both bodies contended administrative costs as the hospital were too high, but it remained for the new council to set forth definitely in black and white its views in this respect. The mayor's suggestion of a special grant to meet the deficit was promptly assailed by Councillor Marr, who said he did not like the idea and could not see why the town should pay for the bad management of the directors. He had the support of Councillors Presse and Blais on this point, and this stand, together with the contention of Councillor Boughton that $600 per annum was enough for the secretary's work, was endorsed by all and incorporated into the letter.
