Support the Library

A short sketch of what the Haileybury Public Library has done for the reading public of the town during the six months in which it has been in operation was given in these columns last week. This week there will be found on another page an announcement of a membership campaign, which will be inaugurated next week and which should meet with the utmost success.

The institution of the library has filled a long-felt want in this town and has been the means of providing not only entertainment but a source of general knowledge that would otherwise have been denied to many citizens. It is an institution by which every person can benefit. It is a help in providing useful entertainment for the young, through its juvenile section, and it is something that all public-spirited citizens should support

The library has not just grown of its own accord. It has required a great deal of unselfish effort on the part of the Library Board, and particularly on the part of Mr. Unwin, the secretary. Its success thus far has been particularly gratifying, but if it is to be continued on its present lines, kept up to date and made the useful institution that it is intended to be, the united support of the citizens is required. So we would say: "When the canvasser visits you next week, meet him or her with a word of encouragement, and become a member of the Library."

The fee is a nominal one, $1 per year, but if the citizens generally respond it will be sufficient to ensure successful operation of the library during the years to come.

"Canada, 1931"

"Canada, 1931," is the official title of a handbook recently issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and published by the authority of the Honorable H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. It is introduced as an official handbook of present conditions and recent progress and deals with many phases of the Dominion in its 200 or more pages. The introduction is an economic review of the year 1930, which deals with the chief industries, the financial situation, etc., and is very comprehensive in its character.

The book gives a very complete description of the Dominion, giving in detail, the area, topography, climate, constitution and government industries, etc. It is beautifully illustrated, the pictures being collected from one end of the country to the other, and including scenes of a fox ranch in Prince Edward Island, as well as the salmon industry in British Columbia, and almost every part of the country between. The book sells for 25 cents and is filled with information that is valuable both to newcomers and to native Canadians.

According to the North Bay Nugget, the president of the Northern Ontario Settlers' Association believes that the spring season could be advanced about a month and a half by the deepening of all rivers and the cutting of additional streams for greater drainage.

Bread was selling for five cents per loaf in Sturgeon Falls last week, a new bakery having cut the price to that amount.

The Ontario Tourist Trade Association, meeting yesterday in North Bay, urged the government to restrict farmers in the southern part of the province, holding special hunting licenses, from hunting in northern districts.

It is expected that ten rinks, and possibly twelve, from the local Curling Club will be entered in the big 'spiel to be held in New Liskeard, commencing on Monday, February 2nd.

charge of the fourth annual Toronto bonspiel, which will be held during the week of February 16th, has made a number of changes that will make the visit of the out-of-town curlers much more pleasant and considerably less of a strain than in the past.

Thirty-six sheets of ice will be available, at the five local artificial ice curling rinks, Toronto, Granites, High Park, Oakwood and Royal Canadians, and at Varsity Arena, and a limit of 144 rinks has been set.

As was the case last year curling stones will be provided for all rinks and no curler will be permitted to use his own rocks. Sets of eight pairs of stones will be placed on each sheet of ice previous to the first draw, at 9 o'clock Monday morning, and the same set will remain on each sheet until the end of the 'spiel.

One of the new features which will be introduced this year, but which was given a thorough trial at Winnipeg last year, is the draw. All rinks will enter and play in the Royal York, the primary competition, and all rinks will have played their first games in this event by the conclusion of the noon draw on Monday. The rinks which win their first game in the Royal York will enter the Ryrick Birks and Seiberling competitions, while the rinks that lose their first games in the Royal York will play in the North American Life and Wrigley Trophy events.

A new competition this year will be the Consolation, which is open to rinks that do not remain in any one of these four events after the second round has been played in each. By this arrangement every rink will be certain of playing at least four games.

The Grand Aggregate will be determined by the number of wins in all competitions, except the Consolation, but wins in the preliminary rounds, if they are necessary, will not count. The rink that captures the Grand Aggregate honors will be eligible to compete in the playdowns for the Macdonald's Brier tankard and the Canadian single rink championship at the Granite Club during the first week of March, provided that the Grand Aggregate winners represent a club affiliated with the Ontario Curling Association.

The draw also makes it possible for the curlers to know at least a day in advance of the times of their games so that they can make arrangements for spending their spare time. The draw for the Royal York will be made a week before the start of the bonspiel and each skip will be notified by mail of the time, rink and ice number of his first game, either on Draw No. 1 at nine o'clock, or on Draw 2 at noon. Charles N. Harris, secretary of the Manitoba Curling Association, and who is in charge of the ice room at the famous Winnipeg bonspiel, will be in charge of the ice-room of the local 'spiel, as he was two years ago.

As entries have been coming in faster than they were last year, when the total was 152, eight more than is possible next month curlers who intend to compete are advised to send in their entries as soon as possible to bonspiel headquarters, 44 King St., West, Toronto. The entry fee is $12 per rink, which includes tickets for all four members of the rink to the banquet. As soon as the limit is reached the draw will be made and skips notified of their first games. Practically half of the maximum number of entries were received four weeks before the start of the bonspiel.

How the New Niagara Will Look From the Air

An unusual view of the United States section of Niagara Falls, showing how it will look to the birds and the aviators now that the sands of time have taken their heavy toll. The marked area on this picture of the famed cataract shows where thousands of tons of rock crashed from the crest of the falls, making a gigantic U-shaped indentation, forming the greatest change in the contour of the falls in the memory of man.

Quebec Sets Pace In Winter Sports

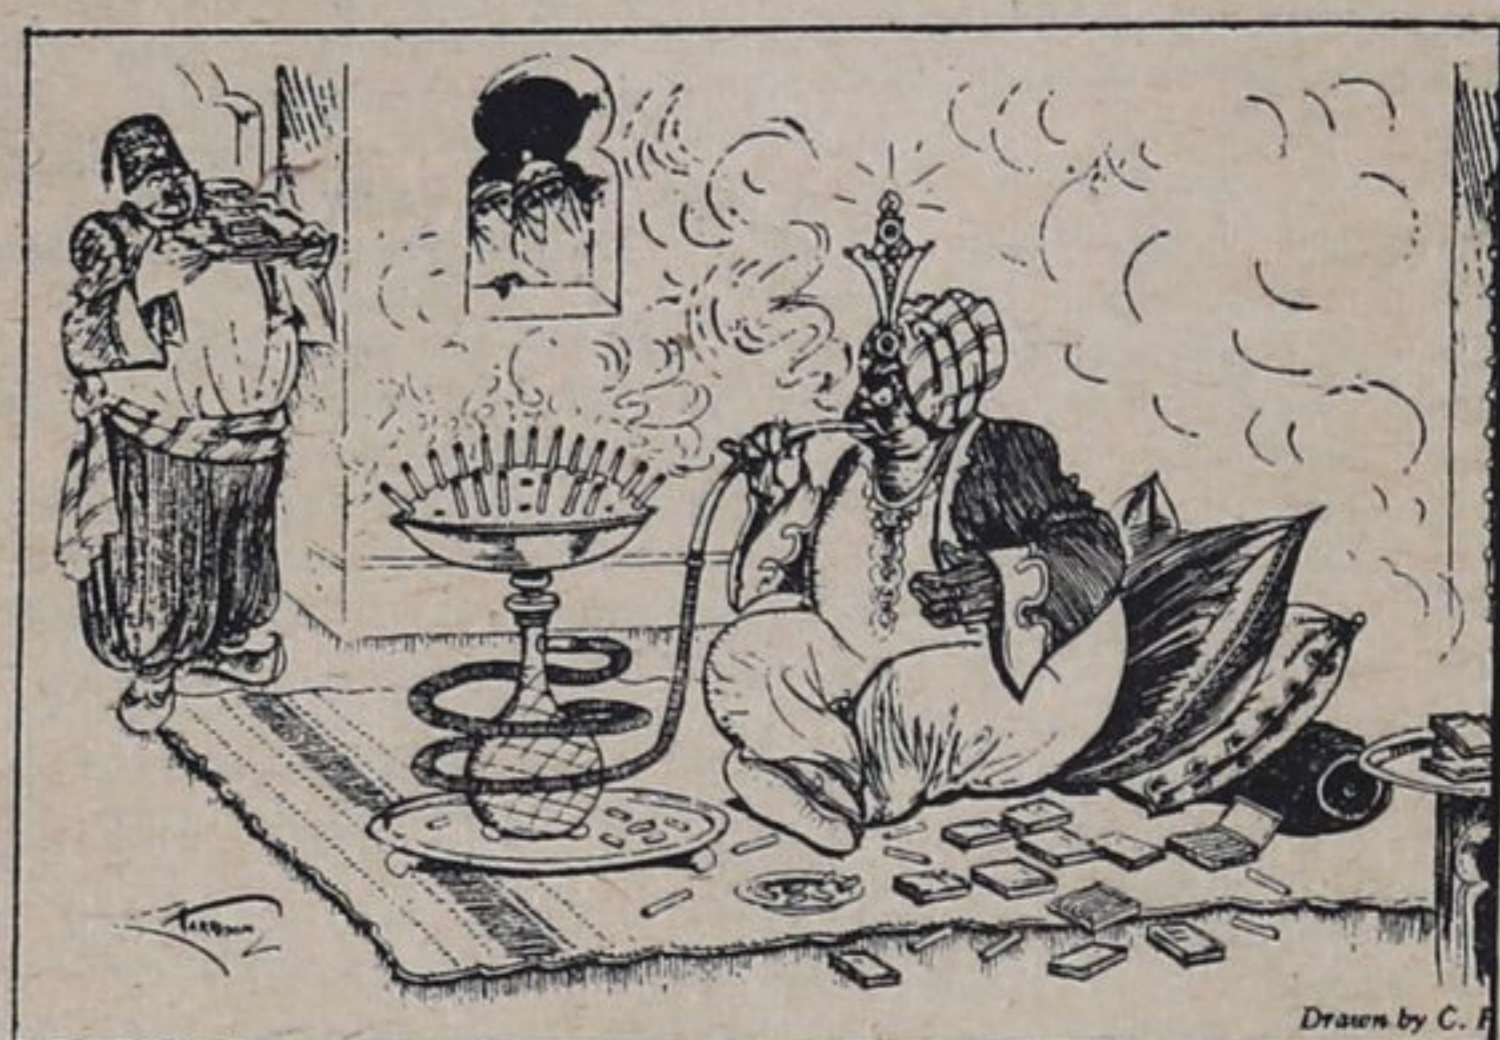

Winter sports, in the most historic city of the American continent — Old Quebec, cradle of New World civilization, with the Canadian Pacific Railway's beautiful Chateau Frontenac Hotel as headquarters, are again proving a drawing card for devotees from all parts of Eastern Canada and the United States. The great hotel, with its long, fast toboggan-slide on Dufferin Terrace and its spacious skating-rink just outside its doors, offers something unique in the way of comfort for sport-lovers. Quebec, too, boasts a fine ski-jump and plentiful opportunities for cross-country work either on skis or snowshoes. Curling, hockey and sleighing are also staples of the winter's program, most events being rounded off with dancing in the evening.

The season is now in full swing; the International Snowshoe Convention and the ice-canoe race across the St. Lawrence on January 31 and February 1; the famous Eastern Dog-Sled Derby on February 19, 20, and 21, followed by the traditional Masquerade Ball in the Chateau Frontenac's gracious ball-room, being among the high-lights.

For picturesqueness, Canada's Ancient Capital can hold its own with any city in the world and the surrounding countryside offers a host of opportunities for excursions. Snow conditions, following the great January storm, are reported excellent and those who have visited the Chateau Frontenac, either in winter or in summer, have learned that its name for hospitality, accommodation and cuisine is indeed well-earned.
