

T. & N. O. 'Spie! Opens Monday at New Liskeard

Expect Entries From All Clubs In North; Four Main Events and Grand Aggregate

The annual T. & N. O. Bonsel for some years past held at Haileybury, will open on Monday next in the new Horne Granite curling rink at New Liskeard, where preparations for the big event have been under way for the past few weeks. Play will commence at 3 p.m. on that day and will continue until all the events have been decided.

During the course of the 'spiel a meeting of representatives of all clubs in the North will be held to determine what action will be taken on the proposal to form a separate association from the Northern Ontario Curling Association.

This question has been talked over for the past couple of years. It arose when, with the formation of new clubs farther north, it was found difficult to have representation at the annual bonspiel of the N. O. C. A. In the opinion of some of the clubs, and perhaps the majority, the interests of curling would be better served by a separate organization. A section of the Haileybury club believes that this should only be done if affiliation with the N.O.C.A. can be retained and the question will likely be thoroughly discussed before any action is taken.

As in the past, there will be four main events in the 'spiel, the Geo. W. Lee Trophy, The Canada Northern Power Trophy, the Hill-Clark-Francis Trophy and the Board of Trade event.

In addition there will be a Grand Aggregate prize and a "mystery prize." The Hill-Clark-Francis Event takes the place of the former A. E. Moysey trophy.

CAUGHT WANTED MAN IN HOTEL BASEMENT AFTER MERRY CHASE

After a merry chase through lanes and alleys in New Liskeard on Friday evening last, James White, wanted in Rouyn on a charge of robbery, was captured in the basement of the Grand Union Hotel, where he had taken refuge in an endeavor to elude his pursuers. White is accused of snatching a hand bag containing about $150 from Mrs. S. Alexander, who was returning home late at night with the evening's proceeds of a theatre in the gold camp.

Sergeant Delves, of the provincial police, was bringing two prisoners from Kirkland Lake to Haileybury, when he recognized White on the train. The latter left the train at New Liskeard, and as soon as the sergeant reached here he turned over the prisoners to Chief W. MacGirr, phoned his headquarters at Cobalt and, with Constables Allsopp and Stromberg, returned to New Liskeard to take up the search. The fugitive led them through a considerable part of the town and finally rushed through the hotel kitchen to the cellar, and there he was captured. Sergeant Delves recognized White through a previous encounter at Timmins

A concert will be held in the Empire Theatre, New Liskeard, after Church time on Sunday evening next, to assist the Children's Aid Society.

Cobalt Seniors Beat Liskeard and Tie Up Race

Cobalt Srs. 3; Liskeard, 2

The Central Senior group race was tied up on Monday evening, when the Cobalt team defeated New Liskeard 3-2, after a game in which a lot of good and bad hockey was uncorked.

The first period ended 1-1, the Farmers being first to score, on a lone rush by Bagshaw. Cobalt evened the count when Len Nolan batted in Rowe's rebound, a minute or so after the first goal.

The Cobalters took command with two goals in the first seven minutes of the second frame, Jimmy Keen got the first on a pass from Harry Hasset, while O'Shaughnessy got the other on a combination play with Rowe. Bill Bagshaw then brought the Liskeardites back into contention with one of his solo rushes which beat the defence and gave Southall no chance.

The third period opened tamely, but Liskeard started to force the play and kept up a four man attack for most of the period.

On the night's play the Cobalt crew deserved the victory, being better at team play than the lads from the Wabi. Any attempts at combination were made by Cobalt, and all three counters were the result of passing plays.

Seven penalties were imposed by Referee Fred Austin, and all were minors. Bagshaw, Brough and Roy each drew two, while Nolan took the other.

Liskeard plays at Cobalt next Monday evening in the first tilt of the second half, and it's a toss-up which outfit will grab the title for the group.

The teams: Cobalt—Southall, goal; Nolan and Roy, defence; Ferguson, centre; Hasset and Keen, wings; Thibault, O'Shaughnessy, Rowe, alternates.

New Liskeard—Herron, goal; Bagshaw and Brough, defence; Johnston, centre; Bucher and Donohue, wings; Jones, Anderson and Ough, alternates.

New Liskeard, 6; Haileybury, 2

Liskeard Juniors put the skids under the local kids last Friday evening, 6-2, and looked entirely different from what they did in the previous game against Cobalt. Haileybury had an off-night, never getting together in any plays, and a couple of the boys had the chip on the shoulder all night, which didn't get them anything but a trip to the cooler.

These two teams battle again tomorrow (Friday) night, and it behooves the local kids to win or be just about counted out for group honors.

Cobalt Juniors Beat Haileybury and Grab Lead

Cobalt Jrs. 4; Haileybury, 2.

Haileybury Juniors lost their second game of the season and saw Cobalt grab the lead in the Junior group race on Tuesday night when they were beaten 4-2 in the Mining Town. Bad breaks and an utter lack of finish round the nets cost them the tussle.

Unless Jack Wilder puts his boys to work taking practice shots at the old knot-hole and gives them a little serious instruction in the art of giving and taking passes in the neighborhood of the enemy citadel, the locals are not going to see the title they seemed to be heading for a couple of weeks ago.

Tuesday night's score does not indicate the mid-ice play, but it is an accurate index of Cobalt's superiority in the way of scoring punch.

Haileybury showed great improvement over their recent poor performance against New Liskeard and in the early stages of the game it seemed that they might repeat their former victory on Cobalt ice. Dempster's sweep-checking kept the Miners from getting past centre ice for the first few minutes of the game, and the locals appeared content to let the homesters carry the play to them.

Morin, however, checked in the first goal of the evening, when he took a pass from Gleason and beat Lemay on a shoulder-high drive. O'Grady evened up toward mid-period when he came down alone, shot from outside the defence and the disc trickled through the goalie's pads. Gleason notched Cobalt's second tally unassisted to again put the Miners ahead.

Play was on even terms in the second frame, with Dempster tying the count again when he snapped one past the goalies from a face-off near the Cobalt net, but Gleason tallied less than a minute before the period ended when he skied a slow, arching shot from the blue line and made Lemay look foolish.

Lemay was yanked for the final frame and Hendry went into the Haileybury net. He gave a good account of himself and made some good saves. Cobalt, with a one-goal lead, resorted to the dubious expedient of a defensive game. Haileybury swarmed in front of the Cobalt blue-line for the greater part of the period and had their supporters at high tension. As in their game with New Liskeard they lost their heads and over-anxiety cost them sure goals. Even at that it could be said that the breaks were against them as nothing but sheer bad luck stopped the tying tally on numerous occasions.

Playing a one-man defence, they gambled on that tying tally and didn't get it. Morin broke away and made an easy job of Cobalt's fourth counter a few minutes before the game ended. Dempster, as usual, was on fine form, making plays for his own team and breaking up opposition plays tirelessly. O'Grady worked hard and didn't draw any penalties. Gleason and Morin were best for Cobalt. The game was clean, although penalties were handed out liberally enough, but most of them were for accidental trips and other minor offences.

Cobalt was the best team on the night's play but the schedule isn't over yet. Improvement in shooting and general play about the enemy goal would make the locals a good bet for the rest of the series. They showed distinct need of more practice.
