Prospecting Season Opens

For some weeks past there has been evident among the prospecting fraternity who make Haileybury their home or headquarters a distinct feeling of the itchy foot, and this has culminated during the past week in a considerable number taking to the woods.

Parties that have been in course of preparation for some time are off, some to travel over new ground in the interesting search for precious metals, others to commence development and assessment work on previous discoveries. All have high hopes that there are still mines to be discovered, still rich areas that have so far escaped the sharp eyes of the Northern men and still good chances for that big strike which is the dream of every true prospector's heart.

It is a great life, at least to those of us who are compelled to stay at home and conduct the affairs of towns and communities. There is a glamor about the life of a prospector or woodsman that appeals to the spirit of adventure in almost every man and it is safe to say that if the great majority of us had our choice, we would willingly exchange our jobs at home for the privilege of going out into the wilds in the never-ending quest of adventure and riches that belongs to the North Country. That is, for a trip or two at least. Perhaps we would change our minds later on.

Anyway, there appears to be more activity among the prospectors this spring than has been the case for the past couple of years. There are more syndicates being formed, more parties going out and generally higher hopes being entertained this year. May the men who are doing this pioneer work reap the reward that they deserve.

The Publicity Campaign

The publicity committee of the Haileybury Board of Trade is again planning the issue of an advertising pamphlet, which will be distributed among various bureaus, hotels, railway offices, etc., in the hope of attracting to this section of the North a greater proportion of the tourist trade which it is expected will be greater this year than ever before. This trade or industry, has grown to great proportions and it is commonly believed that there is considerable profit to be derived from providing the visitors with suitable means of enjoying their holidays.

The local organization is confident that the setting out of the town's attractions last year, in printed form, was responsible for a good share of the tourist trade being diverted to Haileybury. That the same can be accomplished, perhaps on a greater scale, this year, is their belief and they are backing that belief to the extent of again undertaking the work of distributing 5,000 of the pamphlets. This is no small job, but the financing has been arranged for through the generous support of several organizations, including the Rotary Club, and the committee is doing its best to boost the town in this way.

The Letter Box

Haileybury, May 3rd, 1931 The Editor, The Haileyburian

Dear Sir: The date of meeting which I asked for is the one the R. C. Bishop attended in connection with the relief money which the Government had offered the Council for unemployed.

A RATEPAYER

Editor's Note—To our knowledge the Roman Catholic Bishop never attended a meeting of the Town Council. At the meeting held on March 10th last, the matter of the relief appropriation being spent on the hospital was discussed and The Haileyburian was requested to not include this in the report of the meeting.

Death Accidental in Sylvanite Mine Fatality

A verdict of "accidental death" was returned by a coroner's jury here last night in the case of Hugo Enstrom, fatally injured by a falling plank while at work in the Sylvanite mine on Sunday. Enstrom, 23 years old, was working in the shaft as timberman, when the plank, 16 pounds in weight, dropped on his head from a distance of nine feet, and fracturing his skull. He died in five minutes. At the time, new guide brackets were being installed to replace the old method of lag screws that held the cage guides. It was the first fatal accident at the property.

Slogans

A SLOGAN, according to Cassell's dictionary, was or is "the war cry or gathering cry of one of the old Highland Clans." Of course, like many other words, its application has broadened considerably. H. W. Fowler, in his Dictionary of Modern English Usage, says of this widening process, "though the great vogue of the word as a substitute for the older 'motto,' 'watchword,' 'rule,' etc., is of the 20th Century only, and we old fogies regard it with patriotic dislike as a Scotch interloper, it was occasionally so used earlier."

Well, Mr. Fowler and the rest of us old fogies, I'm afraid will have to grin and bear it so far as modern usage of a great many things are concerned. We don't like to see a woman sm—, but that's getting away from the subject and we'd better leave that for another time.

It's a great thing to have a slogan, and it's still a greater thing to choose one that is appropriate to the purpose for which it is to be used, but it's a much greater accomplishment to live up strictly to the spirit of the slogan after we adopt it.

While in a Canadian city recently I thought it best to purchase an extra pair of socks. Seeing the slogan "small profits and quick returns" over the door of a small shop, I went in. I came out with the socks and a cash surplus reduced by 89c. A little farther down the street I noticed a window full of socks marked 59c. An examination disclosed the fact that these were the same weight, made of the same material and bore the same manufacturer's label as those for which I paid 89c.

The World's Grain Exhibition and Conference steered clear of most of the rocks in choosing a slogan by letting the job by tender. Over 18,000 bids were made and these came from all parts of the world. No wonder because there was a nice cheque of $500 for the successful bidder. A. P. Stretton submitted the best bid. He comes from Calgary, Alberta, and Mrs. Stretton hails from North Carolina. Take a look at them. "Show what you grow and share what you know," is the slogan submitted by Mr. Stretton. It's appropriate to an exhibition and conference, don't you think? Better still, agricultural men, and women, too, everywhere, are living up to it.

It's a great old world, though, just the same, this good old world of ours, because in it

ONE swallow doesn't a summer make, Nor two, nor three, nor four. ONE store can't make a city tough; It takes a whole lot more. The booby prize doesn't make a boob; Nor ONE drop a sousing rain; Nor does ONE slip in morals cause A black, fast color stain.

Public Library Appreciated by Many Readers

First Four Months of Year Are Busy Ones; Large Number of Books Added

That the Haileybury Public Library is being appreciated by an increasing number of readers is made evident by the report of the first four months' operations this year, prepared by the secretary, Mr. R. H. Unwin. With the Library scarcely a year old, there are now available 2282 books, a number far beyond the hopes of the Board when the institution was re-opened last year, and with a monthly circulation of almost a thousand, it is plainly evident that the citizens are taking advantage of the facilities provided. New books are being added to the stock continuously and the Board is to be congratulated on the success of the project.

Mr. Unwin's report follows: The following books have recently been added to the library: NON-FICTION "The Universe Around Us" by Sir James Jeans. "The King's Navy" by F. C. Bowen. "Natural History of Selborne" by Gilbert White. "Marriage to India" by Sarangadar Das. "Sermons of a Chemist" by Slosson. "Jesus of Nazareth" by Klausner.

"The Forest Reserves of Ontario," Dept. of Lands & Forests. "The Aneroid Barometer and Altimeter," Dept. of Interior. Canadian Annual Review, 1930.

TRAVEL "The Land of the Frozen Tide" (North Canada) L. Rourke. "Confessions of a Tenderfoot Coaster" (African Gold Coast) by Warren Henry. "Pagans of North Borneo" (East Indies) by Owen Rutter. "The Land of Tomorrow" (Bolivia) by H. M. Grey.

FICTION "The Thirty-First Bullfinch" by Reilly. "Matorni's Vineyard" by Phillips-Oppenheim. "The Million Pound Deposit" by Phillips-Oppenheim. "Molnoff." "Exiles" by Warwick Deeping. "The Treasure of the Lake" by Rider Haggard. "Accident" by Arnold Bennett. and seven new Juvenile books.

The circulation during the last four months has been as follows: January—848; average daily issue—32. February—800; average daily issue—33. March—1038; average daily issue—40. April—933; average daily issue—39.

The circulation for the highest month in 1930 was 766.

There are at present available 1894 adult, 300 Juvenile and 88 Travelling Library, books. Total, 2282.

Further donations of books will always be welcomed by the Library Board.

"Rounded" Performance!

Amazing Torsiograph tests prove The Dictator engine the smoothest Eight within hundreds of dollars of its price!

NO car in its price class matches the velvet smoothness of The Dictator's 81 horsepower engine. Its Torsiograph record is smoothly "rounded" in striking contrast to the roughness common to ordinary eights, sixes and fours.

The Torsiograph, one of the most nearly infallible of automotive laboratory instruments, records accurately the vibration of any rotating shaft. The closer the record chart approaches a true circle, the more nearly perfect the balance of the crankshaft. Above are shown the Torsiographic records of The Dictator Eight nine (9) bearing crankshaft and those of two other eights of double The Dictator's price. Notice the smooth roundness of The Dictator graph contrasted with the irregularity, or "humpiness" of the other two.

No car in its price class has the effective carburetor silencing and the full-power engine muffling that combine to give The Dictator Eight quiet and smoothness equaled only in high priced cars.

Studebaker goes to extremes not approached by any maker in this price class to remove vibration. The crankshaft of The Dictator engine has nine (9) bearings and is balanced not only statically but dynamically on machines that are marvels of precision.

What remains of vibration is further minimized by a crankshaft vibration damper. Dual carburetion and manifolding, feed exact amounts of fuel to each cylinder, avoiding "starving" of end cylinders and assuring even power impulses.

And plus all this, plus the fact that The Dictator Eight has only 38.2 pounds of weight per horsepower, you also get Free Wheeling, greatest engineering advance since the electric starter. You get Free Wheeling's unique travel-smoothness, its freedom from clutch pushing, its 15% to 20% gas and oil savings, its officially approved increased safety.
