

Liskeard Fair is Blessed With Fine Weather

Exhibits Smaller Than in Some Previous Years But Quality is of the Best

While the exhibits at New Liskeard Fair last week were perhaps smaller than in some previous years, the quality was such as to furnish ample evidence of a good crop in the district and all phases of the exhibition showed the undoubted progress that is being made in this section of the North Country. There were splendid samples of grain, roots and all field crops, with smaller exhibits of poultry and livestock, and a great variety of women's work, including sewing, cooking, canning and preserving.

A feature of the livestock show on Saturday afternoon was a pen of Dorset sheep, the first of their species to be raised in this district. They were brought from Southern Ontario early this year and have apparently done well so far. The stock, in general, while not great in numbers, was of good quality.

The weather for the three days of the fair was exceptionally fine, a circumstance that worked two ways. While encouraging people who had the time to attend the fair, on the other hand it kept many of the farmers at home where they are taking advantage of the good weather to harvest their crops. Wet weather at the start of the harvest delayed operations to some extent, as it left the ground very soft to work on, but more recently there has been a grand chance for harvesting and it appears that the greater part of a fine crop will be saved with little or no damage.

During the fair there were good programs of sports each day, including races, ball games, etc., and many of the younger people attending took advantage of the swimming facilities of the Beach. The younger ones also had a good part in the show, the

Haileybury Lawyer Opens Office at Kirkland Lake

Edwin W. Kearney, who for the past 26 years has practised law in Haileybury, with the exception of about one year spent in Niagara Falls, has opened an office in Kirkland Lake and will for the future follow the profession in the mining town. He went north on Monday of this week, after closing his office here. Mrs. Kearney and the family are remaining in Haileybury for the present.

His long residence in the North and his familiarity with the mining industry will ensure for Mr. Kearney success in his new field. While regretting his departure, his many friends here will extend their good wishes for a prosperous future in the gold camp.

Divisional Commander to Visit Salvation Army Here

Major Steele of Orillia, Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army in this district, will visit Haileybury on Wednesday evening next, September 21st, and will address a meeting in the citadel, Ferguson Avenue, at 8 o'clock. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Steele, who will give a special talk to ladies of the district in the afternoon at 2.15. A cordial welcome awaits all comers.

Seven fire brigades of the Cochrane district have formed a new organization separate from the Temiskaming Firemen's Association, this decision being arrived at at a meeting in Cochrane last week. Those comprising the new association are Timmins, Schumacher, South Porcupine, Iroquois Falls, Ansonville, Kapuskasing and Cochrane.

Sections devoted to school children's exhibits being particularly well filled and showing some fine samples of different arts that are being taught. On the whole, the fair was a good one and the Agricultural Society should feel well satisfied with the results.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

OCTOBER SONG

October hours are tinted
With colors bright and gay;
October gold is minted
Down every forest way.

A touch of sadness lingers
For summer and the rose;
But under Autumn's fingers
A brighter blossom grows.

October is all misted
With drifting amber haze,
Her painted leaves and twisted
Fall ever through the days.

As to the year October
Comes, so it must to life,
Yet with no trappings sober,
No hint of wintry strife.

But filled with love's true splendor
And softened by time's haze,
October, wistful, tender,
Brings tranquil, briefer days!

WITH THE TWILIGHT

Will you forget at nightfall,
The lances of mellow light
That rest upon the river,
The tireless gulls in flight?
The river, slowly nearing
Its long-desired sea;
Will you forget, at twilight,
The prairie wind, and me?

You may forget, at nightfall,
Those scenes where once we moved,
And all the fading pageant
Of beauty that we loved;
But ever with the twilight
And those lost joys we knew
I shall come creeping back, dear,
I shall be near to you!

Telephone Line Extended to Betty Mine in Quebec

The Northern Telephone Company Limited now has a long-distance telephone line in operation from Noranda to the Betty Mine, in Duparquet Township, Quebec, having recently extended their service to that new mining centre. This puts the Betty in direct communication with other mining centres of the North and also with other parts of the two provinces and the outside world. The Telephone Company is continually extending its lines to meet the requirements of the outlying mining centres and practically covers the whole of this section of Northern Ontario and Northern Quebec.

POWER AND TRUE TONE CLAIMED FOR G. E. SETS

Twin-push Amplification and Newly Designed Tubes Are Featured

Power beyond anything in previous radio sets, reproducing even the highest peaks of spoken exclamation and musical crescendos without a trace of distortion—that is what Canadian General Electric offers this year with its new twin-push amplification, incorporated for the first time in an electric radio. As with the highest notes, so the lowest tones and whispers can be reproduced with true-tone fidelity. Twin-push gives the power, and twelve newly-designed radio tubes, developed especially for the twin-push amplification system and perfected after a year of intensive research, guarantee the true-tone quality.

General Electric has earned a wide reputation for realism in radio. In a series of tone tests with other famous makes—blindfold tests with famous composers, orchestras and musical celebrities, as well as with the average audiences—the verdict has been overwhelmingly in favor of General Electric, but in tests with the new radio-sets and with the twin-push amplification system, the vote of reputable and disinterested audiences has run as high as 40 to 1 against nationally known competitors.

While public interest will centre on the new tube models, all models embrace distinctive advances in engineering and cabinet construction.

You Are a Very Disobedient Person

DO YOU PROTEST, and say that you're not a very disobedient person? Be patient, for a moment, and we shall see.

Look at the advertisements which you see in this newspaper, and in other newspapers. Most of them bid you do something—something which, if done, would be advantageous to you, as well as being profitable to the advertiser. But do you always obey these advertisers? You do not! And what is your excuse?

Take your teeth by way of example. Are you doing what you can to prevent or delay their decay and loss? If you are like most persons, you are not. Yet you are being urged by advertisements to use regularly a product which, if used regularly, would keep your mouth and teeth in a really good health condition; and would enable you to keep your teeth sound, and keep away toothache.

It isn't the price of the product which keeps you from using it—it's just plain inertia and procrastination.

Then there's an electric or other kind of washer—this by way of example—able to be purchased on the instalment plan. The advertisements bid you buy it, and give you good reasons why you should use this labor-saving, life-prolonging mechanism.

Has every man and every woman known to you obeyed the commands of the advertisements of this washer? They have not. And their resistance cannot be put down to disbelief. The explanation is: Most of us are shameless procrastinators—putting off, putting off, putting off, all the time.

When you read advertisements, see in them the untiring effort of manufacturers and institutitons to cause you to do right things

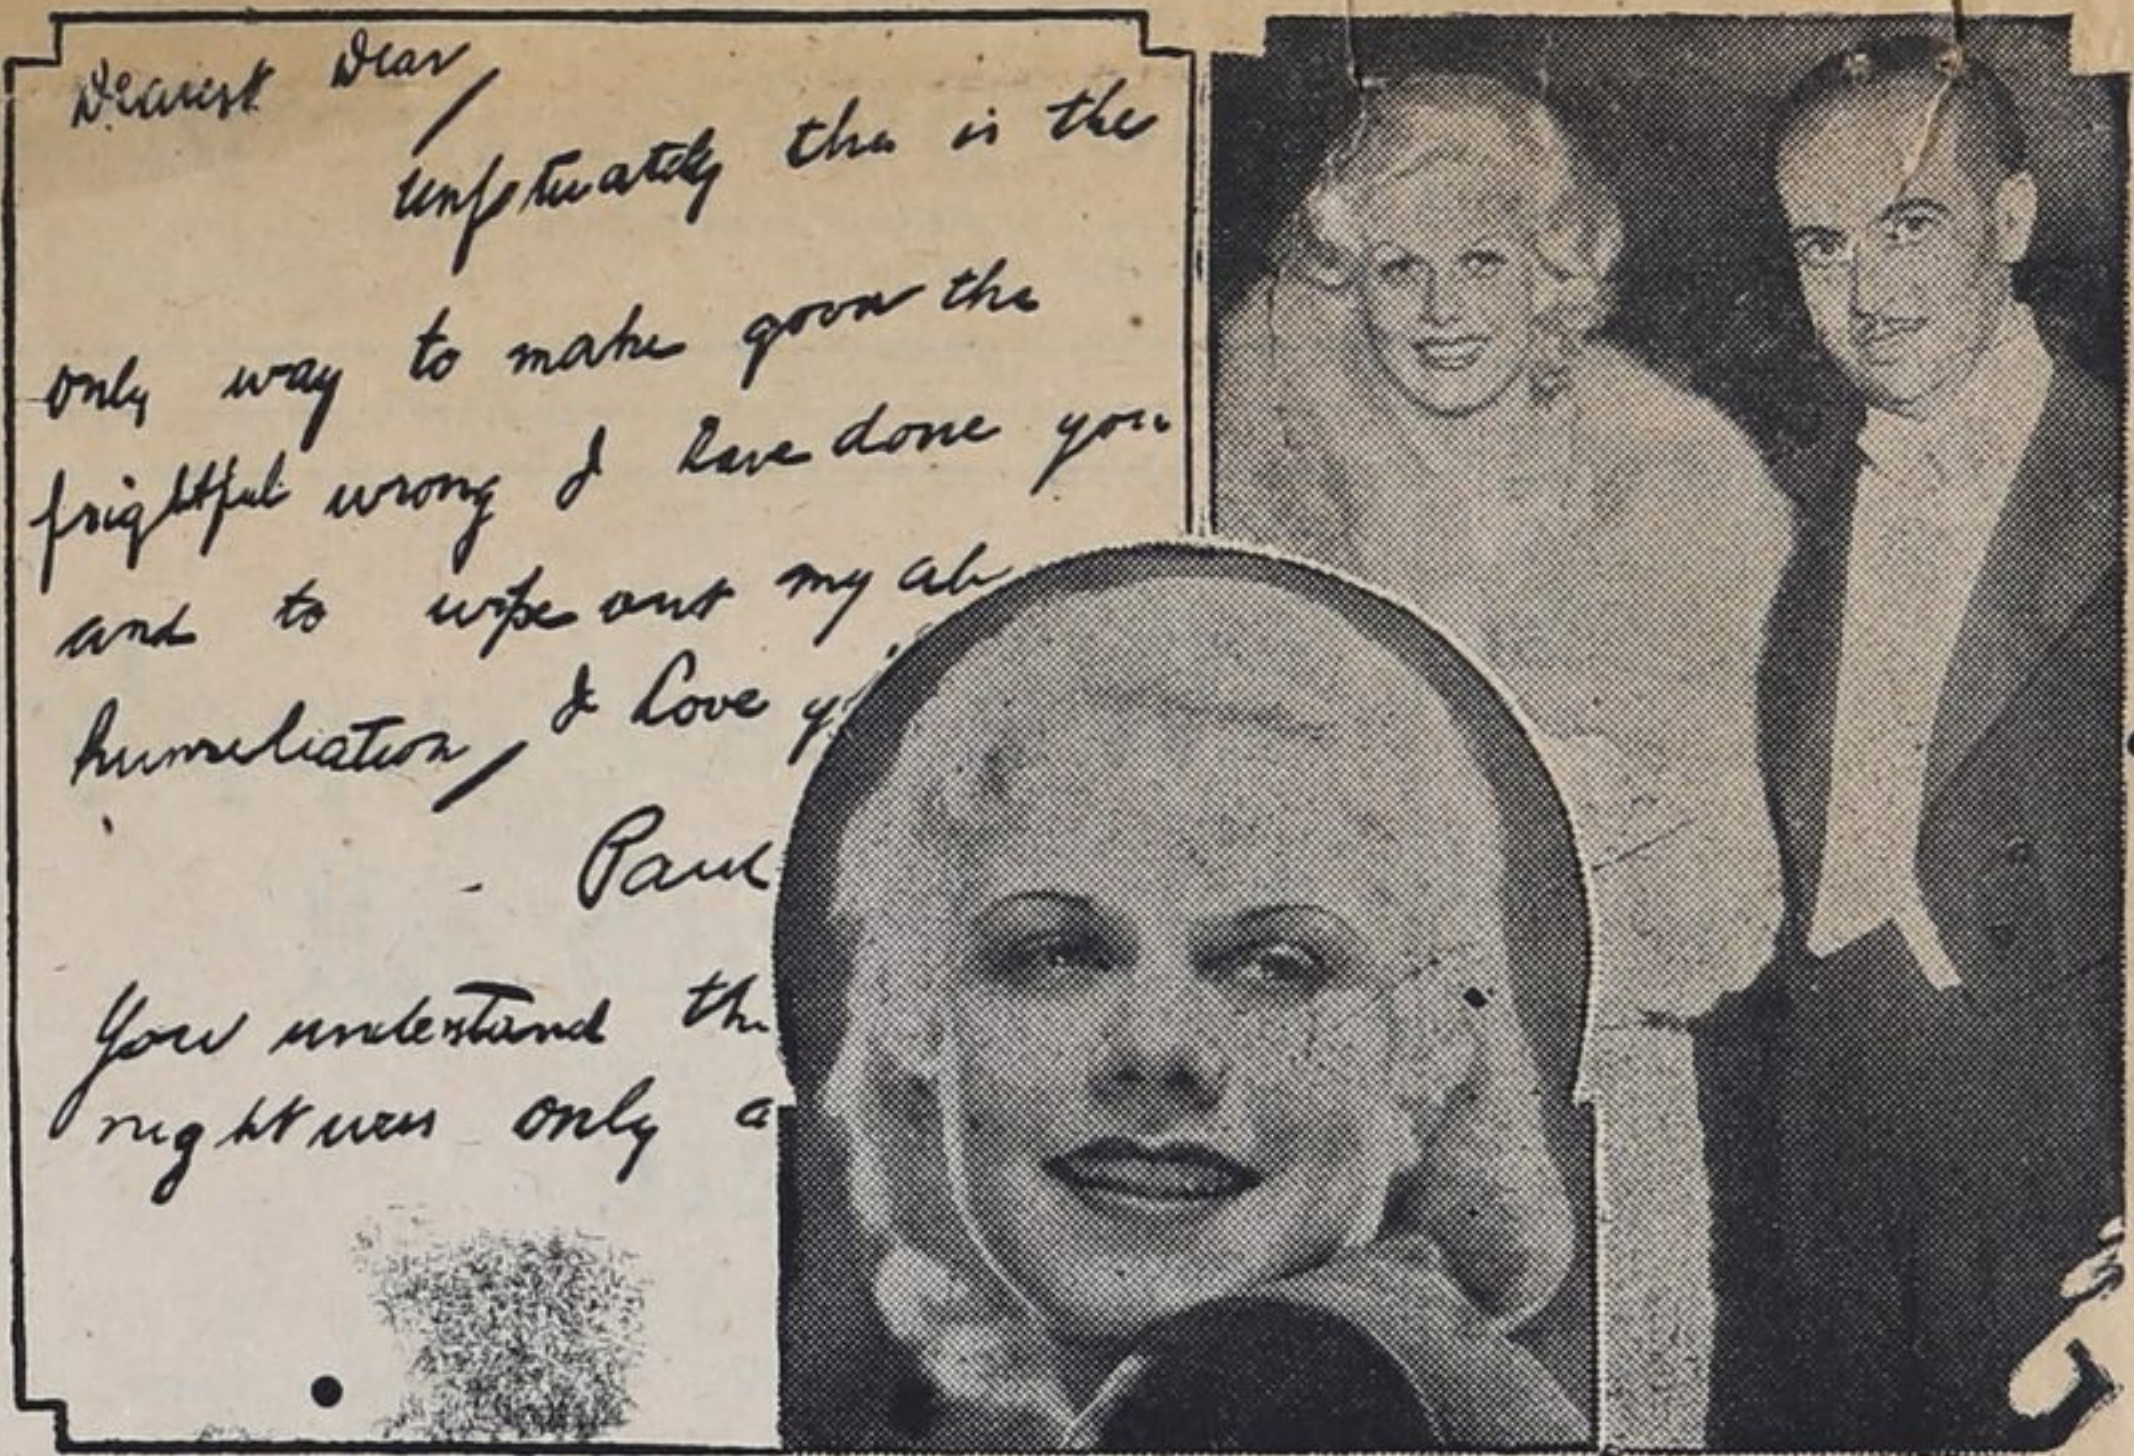

Take the life insurance companies, by way of example: Their advertisements urge all of us to insure our lives. Yet how stubborn most of us are! We resist the biddings of the advertisements and the canvasses of the salesmen of life insurance. We defer doing the obviously right thing, often for years!

So when you see and read advertisements, and when you feel inclined to say, "What a shocking lot of money is spent by advertisers!" reflect on this idea: It is the stubborn disobedience of men and women that is to be condemned.

We should be grateful to those advertisers who pursue us all our life, bidding us do things, which if done, would be advantageous to us

HOLLYWOOD ROMANCE ENDED BY TRAGEDY

PROMINENT SPANIARDS LEARN THEIR FATE
