

Judge's Ruling Will Be Sought In Assessment

Long Standing Dispute Between Cobalt and Mining Companies Nears Settlement

Six months after his Honor made the suggestion the contending parties get together and try to arrive at a settlement of their differences, failing which he would render judgment, Cobalt town council has decided to ask Judge Hayward to decide between the municipality and the La Rose and Aladdin-Cobalt mining companies in their dispute over assessment of the lands owned by the companies at the north end of the town. A motion to this effect was passed at the regular meeting of council on Monday night at the suggestion of Alonzo Fortin, the assessor.

Mr. Fortin pointed out that no agreement had been reached between the town and the companies and he thought some definite steps should be taken. Council agreed. Arguments in the case were heard before Judge Hayward last November, when his Honor sat to consider appeals from the Cobalt court of revision. The companies, represented then by W. E. McCreedy, maintained there was a double assessment on ground they owned. Judge Hayward said at the time he considered the matter one for settlement between the parties and suggested they get together and agree. Council, on Monday night, said nothing further had been done.

Daylight saving figured briefly in the discussions at the meeting, the proposed date of its adoption being changed once more. Notice of motion was given that a by-law setting the dates as from June 1 to September 30 was given, and the resolution adopted at the previous meeting, and providing for summer time from May 15 to September 15, was rescinded. The authority of council to introduce the by-law was questioned, but Mayor Wainwright maintained Councillor Brocklebank had given notice of motion at the last sitting, while Town Clerk Harrington could not recall anything of this nature and no mention of it was contained in the minutes.

The clerk read a letter from New Liskeard, in which it was stated the matter was to be considered there the same evening, and giving the dates as from June 1 to August 31. Council shelved the matter until next Monday, when a special meeting will be held, and it was intimated during the discussion action taken then would depend on what had been done by the other municipalities. It was further stated the dates in Cobalt's by-law would be changed, if necessary, to conform with those set in the other towns.

Otherwise, business was largely routine. P. J. Hassett and Owen Robinson each was given permission to install two gasoline tanks. The I.O.D.E. can have the town hall on May 24, and the Salvation Army may hold a tag day on Saturday.

One meter at $72 was ordered, also two shut-off nozzles. The public school estimates were read and verbal bouquets in connection with them tossed at the trustees. Councillor Elliott resigned from the hospital board, giving no reason and being asked none. The assessor reported various adjustments made by him and was paid $137.32 coming to him in commissions.

Mrs. William Saumier, well-known resident of Cobalt, on Tuesday was notified of the second bereavement in two months among her immediate relatives when she received a telegram telling of the death in hospital in Montreal of her brother, Arthur. No particulars were given and a letter a few days ago had reported all in good health there. Two months ago, a sister, Miss Bonneville, who formerly lived on Lang Street Cobalt, died rather suddenly from heart trouble, which she had been suffering for

"Mothers Day"

Sunday, May 14, is observed this year as Mother's Day. This is an opportunity for every Scout to help make his mother the happiest mother in Canada because of what her Scout says, does and is—not only on this day, but every day throughout the year. By word of mouth, act and written message cheer her. This year our Scouts are selling flowers for Mother's Day, and any Scout or Leader will gladly take your order for either roses or carnations. These flowers are being procured from out of town and will be delivered on Saturday to any address in or out of town.

"GIRL GUIDE NEWS"

1st Cobalt Company

The meeting last week was spent in getting ready for the supper and bridge. We had roll-call and inspection and flag-raising and then we put up tables and chairs for the rest of the evening.

We wish to thank all those who kindly helped in making our supper, bridge and dance such a big success.

The meeting this week will be very important. All girls who wish to pass any badges will have the opportunity of passing them on Thursday, so get busy and study.

Our nature chart is getting along wonderfully, but we would like to see it filled up with every different leaf, flower and twig possible. There ought to be lots of them now.

"SPRING"

When the cuckoo mocks in the early morn,
And milk-white blossoms bedeck the thorn,
The sun comes a-tilting down the mead
To banish winter drear-o.
All the birds are returning fast—
See, the woods are awake at last!
Then hey! for the life the gypsies lead
Now that Springtime is here-o.

The marks for inspection are as follows:
Swallows, 9; Poppies, 7; Canary, 5.

The May meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church was held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Eastman. The feature of the meeting was the birthday offering, each member giving as many pennies as she was years old. To carry out the birthday idea, a big birthday cake trimmed with many candles, graced the table.

Beginning next Sunday the Cobalt

Baptist Church will have services both morning and evening. This has been brought about by the local church agreeing to accept a reduction in their grant from the Home Mission Board so that Haileybury also might have a settled pastor and two services every Sunday. This arrangement begins next Sunday morning with a Mother's Day Service.

Rev. E. Gilmour Smith left Tuesday afternoon for Sudbury having received a telegram earlier in the day which bore the sad news of the death of Rev. W. A. Whidden, minister of the United Church at Sudbury, with whom Mr. Smith was associated as assistant minister before coming to Cobalt. The telegram stated that Mr. Whidden had been accidentally shot by his ten-year-old son, Morris, and had died on Tuesday morning.

Twelve little girls spent a very happy afternoon on Saturday, April 29th, at the home of Mrs. J. Doody, who gave a birthday party for her two daughters, whose birthdays both come in April, Aileen was celebrating her eleventh birthday and Dorothy her fifth. The supper table was centred with a snowhouse which held gifts for every one while on one side was Aileen's birthday cake and on the other, Dorothy's. Both girls received some lovely gifts.

The Girl Guides and leaders were highly gratified with the way the people of the town turned out to their supper and bridge last Friday night at the Town Hall and helped to make their efforts to raise money for their camp so successful. There were 22 tables of bridge played, the prize winners being as follows:
Ladies, first, Mrs. J. Welsh; second, Mrs. Roy Douglas; consolation, Mrs. Keen. Men's first, Len Dixon; second, G. Pratt; consolation, T. Wainwright.

Club Makes Presentation To Member Leaving Cobalt

Presentation of a tin of his favorite tobacco and an address was made last evening in Cobalt to Fred Phelps on behalf of the members of St. James' Anglican Club, of which he has been a member since its inception. Mr. Phelps, with his wife and daughter, is leaving Cobalt on Wednesday next for England, where the family expect to make their home again. During his stay in Cobalt, Mr. Phelps has been actively identified with St. James' Church, of which he is a former church warden, and this connection was noted in the address, which also wished him a safe journey and a happy and prosperous stay in the Old Country. The address was signed by F. E. Coon, president, and by Robert Fairbrother, secretary of the club. Cribbage was played and lunch served at last night's function.

Mayor Wainwright, Cobalt, Reeve Rowdon, Coleman, Dr. E. F. Armstrong, president of Cobalt Board of Trade and C. P. Cross secretary of the same body, went to North Bay yesterday to discuss road matters with members of the board of trade and the motor club there.

Mrs. J. J. Fildes, Cobalt, is in the Municipal Hospital there undergoing treatment following a stroke she suffered at her home yesterday morning. Her husband, who had been downtown returned home to find her unconscious on the floor. Mrs. Fildes' health has not been of the best lately, although she had been down town on Tuesday night.

The Rev. S. Milley performed the ceremony. The bride who was tastefully gowned in brown georgette with matching hose and shoes, was attended by her sister, Rita, while her brother, Donald, supported the groom. After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served and the

MARKET DAY CHANGE AT KIRKLAND LAKE MAY AFFECT COBALT

Changes in the day of holding market at Kirkland Lake, which, if adopted, may affect the market at Cobalt, are under consideration, it is stated, as a result of representations being made from the gold mining camp. The proposal there is to hold market on Saturday, instead of Friday, as is done at present, and George W. Lee, chairman of the T. & N.O. Commission, has been approached regarding altering the day of running the special market train north.

In turn, Mr. Lee communicated with Mayor Wainwright, at Cobalt, who spoke to R. C. Fowler, vice-president of the Temiskaming-Farmers' Association, and arranged with him to discuss the matter more fully at the end of the week. Farmers at present attend Kirkland Lake on Friday, and many of them go to Cobalt the following day, an arrangement that existed for some years past.

COBALT KIWANIS

The Kiwanis Club had the pleasure this week of hearing an address of unusual interest and value by Dr. Wilson of the Sanatorium at Haileybury, on the subject "Combating Tuberculosis."

On what proved to be a false alarm Cobalt firemen responded to a call to the north end of town about 4.15 on Tuesday afternoon. The summons came from Box 43, at the corner of La Rose Avenue and Third street, but when the brigade arrived there no one was at the box, nor was there any sign of fire in that vicinity.

happy couple left, amid showers of confetti, for their new home in Timmins. The bride travelled in a sand ensemble. Their many friends wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.
