

❖ Late News Pictures and Cartoons ❖

"Packy" McFarlane gives the postman a lift

Santa goes air-minded!

Juanita Quigley reads her doll to sleep

Una Merkel finds it all most exciting

FESTIVE SPIRIT REIGNS WITH RETURN OF HOLIDAY SEASON

Despite the busy schedule maintained by Hollywood celebrities, Christmas is an affair which takes precedence over all else. Two juvenile stars for whom the occasion is most exciting are "Spanky" McFarlane, who did his bit by helping out the studio postman, and Juanita Quigley, shown reading to her doll from the famous poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Santa found a real helpmate in Una Merkel, who lacks a long white beard, but does possess a most attractive smile.

FIRST ENDEAVOUR TO PACE CUP CHALLENGERS

When Skipper Sopwith sails across the Atlantic with his new challenger, Endeavour II he will be accompanied by Endeavour I, which has been loaned to him for a pacemaker prior to the America's Cup series. The Endeavour I almost captured the coveted trophy two years ago and it is generally admitted in yachting circles she is the fastest and finest "J" boat ever designed. Above is an excellent picture of the Endeavour I.

THE RESULT OF A MURDEROUS ONSLAUGHT?

Contrary to first impressions this is not a record of assassinations, but the half-way mark in the Eton Wall Game between Collegians and Oppidians. The boys are resting after their strenuous efforts, little realizing they look like the results of a Spanish court martial.

THE REVUE CHORUS GOES TO BED

—Muskete, Vienna.

THE DRAG!

The Worried World: "Goodness! Look what somebody's hitched on! No wonder I'm held up!"—News of the World

TEA FOR TWO

—Talbut in the Washington Daily News

Hofmann's "Adoration of the Angels"

Mueller's "While Shepherds Watched"

Corregio's "Mother and Child"

AGE-OLD RELIGIOUS RITES MARK OBSERVANCE OF CHRISTMAS

Richest of all events in tradition and age-old custom, Christmas renews acquaintance with an event which has been the inspiration of the world for centuries. The dominating influence of the theme is nowhere more conclusively illustrated than in the field of art, where such masterpieces as those above testify to the profound feeling aroused by its religious significance.