Paragraphs Pertaining to Happenings of Interest During the Past Week

Helping Flood Sufferers

People in Timmins have "robbed themselves" to send clothing and supplies to flood sufferers in the United States. Seven large boxes full of excellent clothes, sheets, pillow cases and other household necessities left here by freight recently bound for Louisville, Kentucky, through the Red Cross at Toronto.

The T. & N. O., the C.N.R. and the United States railways are carrying the freight free of any charge.—Porcupine Advance.

New Use for Radio

Probably the first time in Canada, if not in America, to have the instructions for spotting diamond drill holes broadcast by radio to the mine superintendent from a far away engineer, was Gaffney Gold Mines on Manitou Island in Lower Manitou Lake, Wabigoon, Ontario. Unable, because of weather conditions, to reach the property, the engineer, H. B. Hatch (having previously instructed the local mine manager to listen in on the radio each day from 12 to 1 noon) sent out his instructions daily over CKY at Winnipeg and his crew carried on.

Relic of Balloon Flight

From Cochrane late last week came a story of the finding of the remains of the United States Navy balloon, in which Lieuts. L. A. Floor, Walter Hinton and S.A. Farrell came down in Northern Ontario on December 14th, 1920. The relic was found some 20 miles north of Moosonee, a few yards from an Indian trail near the shore of James Bay, where it had been caught in a tree. At the time of the wreck, the men made their way out to Moose Factory in four days, and from there came by dog team to Mattice, on the Canadian National Railways, their arrival there causing great interest throughout the whole country. The flight had been started from Rockaway Point, Long Island, N.Y., and the big bag had been sighted over Northern Ontario before the men returned to civilization. The flight was of an experimental nature.

Couldn't Stop Beer License

The Ontario Liquor Control Board ignored a petition signed last year by a majority of Chaput Hughes residents against establishment of a hotel with beer license there, it was revealed at Tuesday night's meeting of township council.

Councillor C. W. Tressider asked for production of the correspondence between the board and league. From the information at hand it would appear that the referee allowed things to get out of hand. In any event this affair was settled without even a penalty being awarded. For the good of the game and in the name of clean sport such exhibitions must be stopped.—New Liskeard Speaker.

Delivers Flowers by Air

Fred Hetu, the irrepressible proprietor of the Noranda Flower Shop, who does most of his delivery work in what he is pleased to call an automobile, but which has apparently been running on its nerve for the past ten years, had a new experience on Wednesday morning, when in order not to disappoint an Amos bride-elect, he chartered a plane and flew the bridal bouquet to the scene of the ceremony.

The trip was made without incident and at 8.30 o'clock the bouquet was safely delivered into the hands of Miss Anita Gosselin, who, at 9 a.m., became the charming bride of Mr. Alphonse Poitras.—Rouyn-Noranda Press.

Grand Old Man is 109

Simon Commanda, centenarian, just "takes it easy" these days. For who would expect the grand old man of the Nipissing Indian Reserve to be particularly active? He was 109 years old, Thursday, February 4th.

Although for years the age of ex-chief has been a controversial subject, his family is convinced by records of the Hudson's Bay Company that Simon Commanda is 109 years of age.—North Bay Nugget.

GOWGANDA PROSPECTOR PASSES SUDDENLY ON NEW LISKEARD STREET

John W. Sanderson, pioneer prospector of Gowganda, and a former Cobalt business man, dropped dead on Whitewood Avenue, New Liskeard, on Saturday last, after he had left the train on which he had arrived from his home in the mining camp. He was overcome by a heart attack, according to report North Country from Huron County from New Liskeard, and was 30 years ago and was in the taken to a nearby house, but was early rush to Gowganda. last year's council, which showed that following receipt of the petition council had written the board detailing the objections raised, and had received no more than a formal reply.

It appeared that the license had been granted without further investigation of the matter or communicating with council. The hotel has been operating since the beginning of the year.—Northern News.

Fight at Hockey Match

Last week's hockey fiasco at the New Liskeard Arena, which started between a fight among the players on the ice and in which some of the spectators joined, should not be tolerated in this
