Red Cross Notes

A Message from the Prime Minister

The following message, received from the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, Mr. Churchill, is addressed to every worker for and every contributor to the Canadian Red Cross.

"The Canadian Red Cross Society has won the gratitude of many thousands of people in Great Britain for the energy and devotion with which it has worked on their behalf. The quality of clothing sent from Canada has been universally admired; its quantity has been as remarkable. Civil defence workers and the fire fighting services have shared with innumerable air raid victims welcome supplies of clothes, blankets, food and medical equipment that have reached these shores. In their name I thank all those who have contributed with such tireless generosity to this humane work."

Canadian Red Cross Policy Vindicated

In a communication from Sir Patrick Duff, assistant to the High Commissioner, Mr. Malcolm McDonald, the Canadian Red Cross has official confirmation of its policy of sending overseas clothing and made-up supplies, instead of cash. Due to the clothes rationing and difficulty of procuring materials, it is even more essential now that the finished product be available immediately after an air raid. $1.00 in cash here becomes $3.00 when made into finished supplies by volunteers to send over to Britain.

ALGONQUIN REGIMENT WILL MOVE SHORTLY TO SOUTHERN ONTARIO

The Algonquin Regiment, composed of Northern Ontario men and including a goodly number from Haileybury, will shortly move to a camp in Southern Ontario, it has been announced. The regiment has been in training at Camp Shilo, Manitoba, since moving from Port Arthur last spring. It is now a unit in the Sixth Canadian Division, and the men have been highly trained as specialists in various phases of war-time activity. Local men in the regiment will be able to visit their homes more regularly from the new location, it is expected.

Have Good Record In War Savings Certificate Sales

Practically All Pledges Are Being Maintained, Committee Chairman Says

Haileybury people have made a good record in the sale of War Savings Certificates since the campaign was held early in the year, practically all pledges are being maintained and prospects are that there will be an increased sale of the certificates when the campaign is renewed next month, according to C. F. Tuer, K.C., chairman of the local committee, in discussing the coming effort towards the extension of this system of providing a part of the money necessary to carry on the country's war effort. The campaign will be reopened on October 20th, it has been announced from the provincial headquarters, and will continue for four weeks.

Mr. Tuer stated at the week-end that during the past four months the average sales to Haileybury people have been $2,243 monthly, made up of the regular subscriptions pledged at the time of the campaign. For the first eight months of the year, however, the average has run $2,325 but several large purchases made at the start of the campaign account for the larger average over the longer period, Mr. Tuer said. The committee appreciates the prompt payments that are being made on the pledges, the chairman says, and it is hoped to add a number to the lists when the new campaign is held next month.

The oil controller stated at the week-end that private consumption of gasoline had been voluntarily reduced by 20.4 per cent since the first week in July, but urged that greater reductions be made.

A herd of elk placed in the area between North Bay and Temiskaming last year is reported to be increasing rapidly, and visitors to the area at the week-end counted 15 of the animals in one group.

At Garson, near Sudbury, the taking of the census has not yet been completed and a new enumerator was appointed following failure of the former official to carry out the work, following his appointment last June.

WEDDING BELLS

DERRAUGH-FORBES

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized at high noon, September 16th, at the Central United Church when Anna Mary Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes, 135 Trelawne Avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Verdun Wesley Derragh of Geraldton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Derragh, Sudbury, Rev. A. G. Donald of St. Andrew's United Church, officiating.

The background of gladioli, fern and palms made a lovely setting for the bride who was given in marriage by her father. She was exquisite in a gown of white sheer over taffeta. Style points of the gown were the full bodice, fitted waist, full skirt and bishop sleeves. A coronet and finger tip veil complemented her becoming ensemble. The bride carried red roses.

Mrs. Wm. Fremlin attended the bride. She wore a pretty pink net gown with full bodice, fitted waist short pleated sleeves over pink taffeta trimmed with pastel shades of rose, blue and green. The bridesmaid wore a dainty pink net turban and carried pink gladioli and cornflower.

Mr. Robert Forbes Jr., brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Douglas Adams played the organ and Miss Dorothy St Michael was soloist. She chose for her number "Yours Is My Heart Alone."

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the Oakwood Inn, Gros Cap.

Mrs. Forbes chose for her daughter's wedding a maroon crepe afternoon dress with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Derragh, mother of the groom was becomingly dressed in an amethyst crepe afternoon dress with turban and accessories to match. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The young couple left on a motor trip to points east. For travelling the bride chose a caprice woollen two-piece suit with brown accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Derragh will take up residence in Geraldton.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. J. E. Derragh of Sudbury and Mrs. A. E. Appleton of Toronto-Sault Ste Marie Star.
