CHANGE DRILL NIGHT AT ARMORIES AND ADD BOYS' PLATOON

A change in the drill night for C Company of the Algonquin Second Battalion, in the Haileybury Armories, from Monday to Tuesday, is announced this week by Lt. A. G. Moffatt, officer commanding the company. Permission for the change has been granted by Lt.-Col. K. A. Mahaffy, Battalion O.C.

A boys' platoon has been added to the company, in which boys of 16 or over may enroll, without being sworn in as members of the regiment, and will be given training without pay and without regular uniforms, on the regular drill nights. The ranks of the company are to be increased to 129 and recruits are invited.

Testing of Samples Proves Haileybury Water Is Good

Chief of Police K. R. Watson reports this week that recent tests made of the local water supply, by the Department of Health laboratories at North Bay, were entirely satisfactory. Samples were taken from taps in various sections of the town, including the Constance Lake supply for the area west of the T. & N.O. Railway, and the returns showed all in Class "A".

MAYOR H. E. CAWLEY IS BEREAVED IN DEATH OF FATHER IN TORONTO

Mayor H. E. Cawley received word on Monday that his father, Mr. John Cawley, had passed away suddenly that day at his Toronto home, 370 Palmerston Boulevard. His Worship left immediately for Toronto, where he was joined by Mrs. Cawley, who was visiting in the city at the time.

The late Mr. Cawley was in his 85th year and was a former official of the Imperial Life Assurance Company. Surviving are his widow, the former Alice F. Lake, one daughter, Mrs. Murray Dobbie (Mabel) of Brickville, and Mr. Cawley of Haileybury. The funeral arrangements had not been made when the notice of Mr. Cawley's death appeared in the city papers of Tuesday.

Red Cross Notes

Letters of thanks like the appended come along every week: "Crowded annual general meeting of British Hospital Association asks me to express once again most sincere gratitude and appreciation in the name of the voluntary hospitals of Great Britain for the continuance of the wonderful generosity and the individual gifts which they have received from the Canadian Red Cross Society."

For some months the Canadian Red Cross, Ontario division, has packed and shipped 10,000 parcels of food weekly for British prisoners of war. Just recently this activity has been more than doubled.

From November 1st to 8th, 3568 acknowledgment cards were received from the British and Canadian soldiers in German prison camps. A total of 57180 cards have come in acknowledging receipt of Red Cross food parcels. The plea from Great Britain is for more blankets and clothing, particularly children's clothes.

JAP ENVOY ARRIVES

Saburo Kuruu, special Japanese envoy who is reportedly bringing Japan's plan for peace in the Pacific to the U.S. government, is shown doffing his hat to the camera on his arrival aboard a trans-Pacific clipper. Kuruu would say nothing about his mission other than that, "I flew 10,000 miles to offer my all-out assistance to Ambassador Nomura" — the Japanese ambassador in Washington.

Learn Third Son Is Now Serving With Air Force

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carlson of Haileybury are proud of the fact that they have two sons, Robert and Hugh, serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force, but Mr. Carlson, especially, can now claim to have three sons in the service. He learned at the week-end that William Douglas Carlson, third son of his first family, has joined up at Prince Albert, Sask., and is now in training. William was born in Haileybury 25 years ago, and after his mother died went to live with an aunt, Mrs. R. W. Smiley, in Prince Albert. He had been teaching in a high school at Humbolt, in the western province for the past few years. His father has not seen him for about 12 years, but is hoping he will get to Ontario and be able to come home during the course of his training.

The first estimate of the late field crops of Canada in 1941 places potato production at 39,290,000 cwt.

OBITUARY

MRS. WALTER WILLARS

For thirty-nine years a citizen of Temiskaming, Mrs. Walter G. Willars died early Sunday morning at her home on the Lake Shore road, New Liskeard, less than three days after her return there from Noranda, where she had been staying with a daughter. She had suffered from heart trouble in her later years, but had been seriously ill for only a week. At the funeral on Tuesday, her husband was unable to attend, Mr. Willars, a veteran of the last war, having been a patient in Christie Street Hospital, Toronto, for more than two months past, following an operation. He is expected home at the end of the present week.

Member of a family which had been identified with Harley township in the earlier days of settlement there, Mrs. Willars had been active in the work of the Anglican Church and of the Women's Institute, both at Hanbury and New Liskeard until failing health had required her to conserve her strength.

Mrs. Willars was president of the Women's Institute at Hanbury for a number of years, and continued her interest in the work of that organization on her removal to town about 20 years ago. Intensely proud of her British birth and heritage, she was instrumental in the erection of the soldiers' memorial at the Hanbury cemetery, among the earliest in this district. During the war, in which her husband and son served overseas, Mrs. Willars was active in war work in the Hanbury area.

Mrs. Willars was the former Helena Elizabeth (Nellie E.) Whall. She was born in London, England, on September 12, 1864, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Whall. Her father was an architectural carver by profession known as the last of the great sculptors, and he had been engaged on many famous buildings in different parts of England, including Westminster Abbey. There is a family story that he had once rebuked sharply the future King Edward Seventh because that then young man had interrupted him at his work.

The Whall family moved to Leicester many years ago, and there, in 1897 Mrs. Willars was married. Four years later, her husband, a painter by vocation, came to Temiskaming in search of better health, and in May, 1902, his family joined him. They lived in Harley township until after the close of the last war, when Mr. and Mrs. Willars moved into New Liskeard, where the family home has been since that time.

Surviving members of the family are her husband, one son, Bert, in New Liskeard, and three daughters, Mrs. Blair Campbell in Noranda, and Mrs. Ed. Reynolds and Mrs. Max Ryan both of Timmins. There are fifteen grandchildren. One daughter, Kathleen, died in infancy while the family was living in Harley township.

The funeral was held on Tuesday from St. John's Anglican Church, New Liskeard, with services conducted by the rector, Rev. Stephen Turner. Burial was in New Liskeard cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS

BOYER—GEORGE

On Sunday, November 16th, 1941, a quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Haileybury, by Rev. Canon R. Haines, when Enid May George, eldest daughter of Mrs. George and the late G. M. George of Haileybury, became the bride of Sergeant Air Gunner Gilbert Davies Boyer, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Boyer, also of Haileybury and formerly of Bracebridge. The bride was attended by Miss Jean McVittie, while the groom had his brother, L.A.C. Jack Boyer, as best man.

Owing to the illness of the groom's mother, a very quiet luncheon was held at the Boyer home following the ceremony, only immediate relatives being present. The young couple left on the evening train for Halifax, where Sergeant Air Gunner Boyer is stationed at present.

During the week preceding her marriage, Mrs. Boyer was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, when showers were held at the homes of several of her friends. The young couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for their future happiness.

Gracie Feilds will give a recital at the McIntyre Arena, Schumacher, on Saturday evening.
