COMMANDERS OF A.E.F. IN ULSTER

Major-General James E. Chaney, commander in chief of the U.S. forces in the British Isles, is shown, LEFT, with Major-General Russell Hartle, commander of the force that landed in Northern Ireland recently, as they appeared shortly after the Americans disembarked.

THEY'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

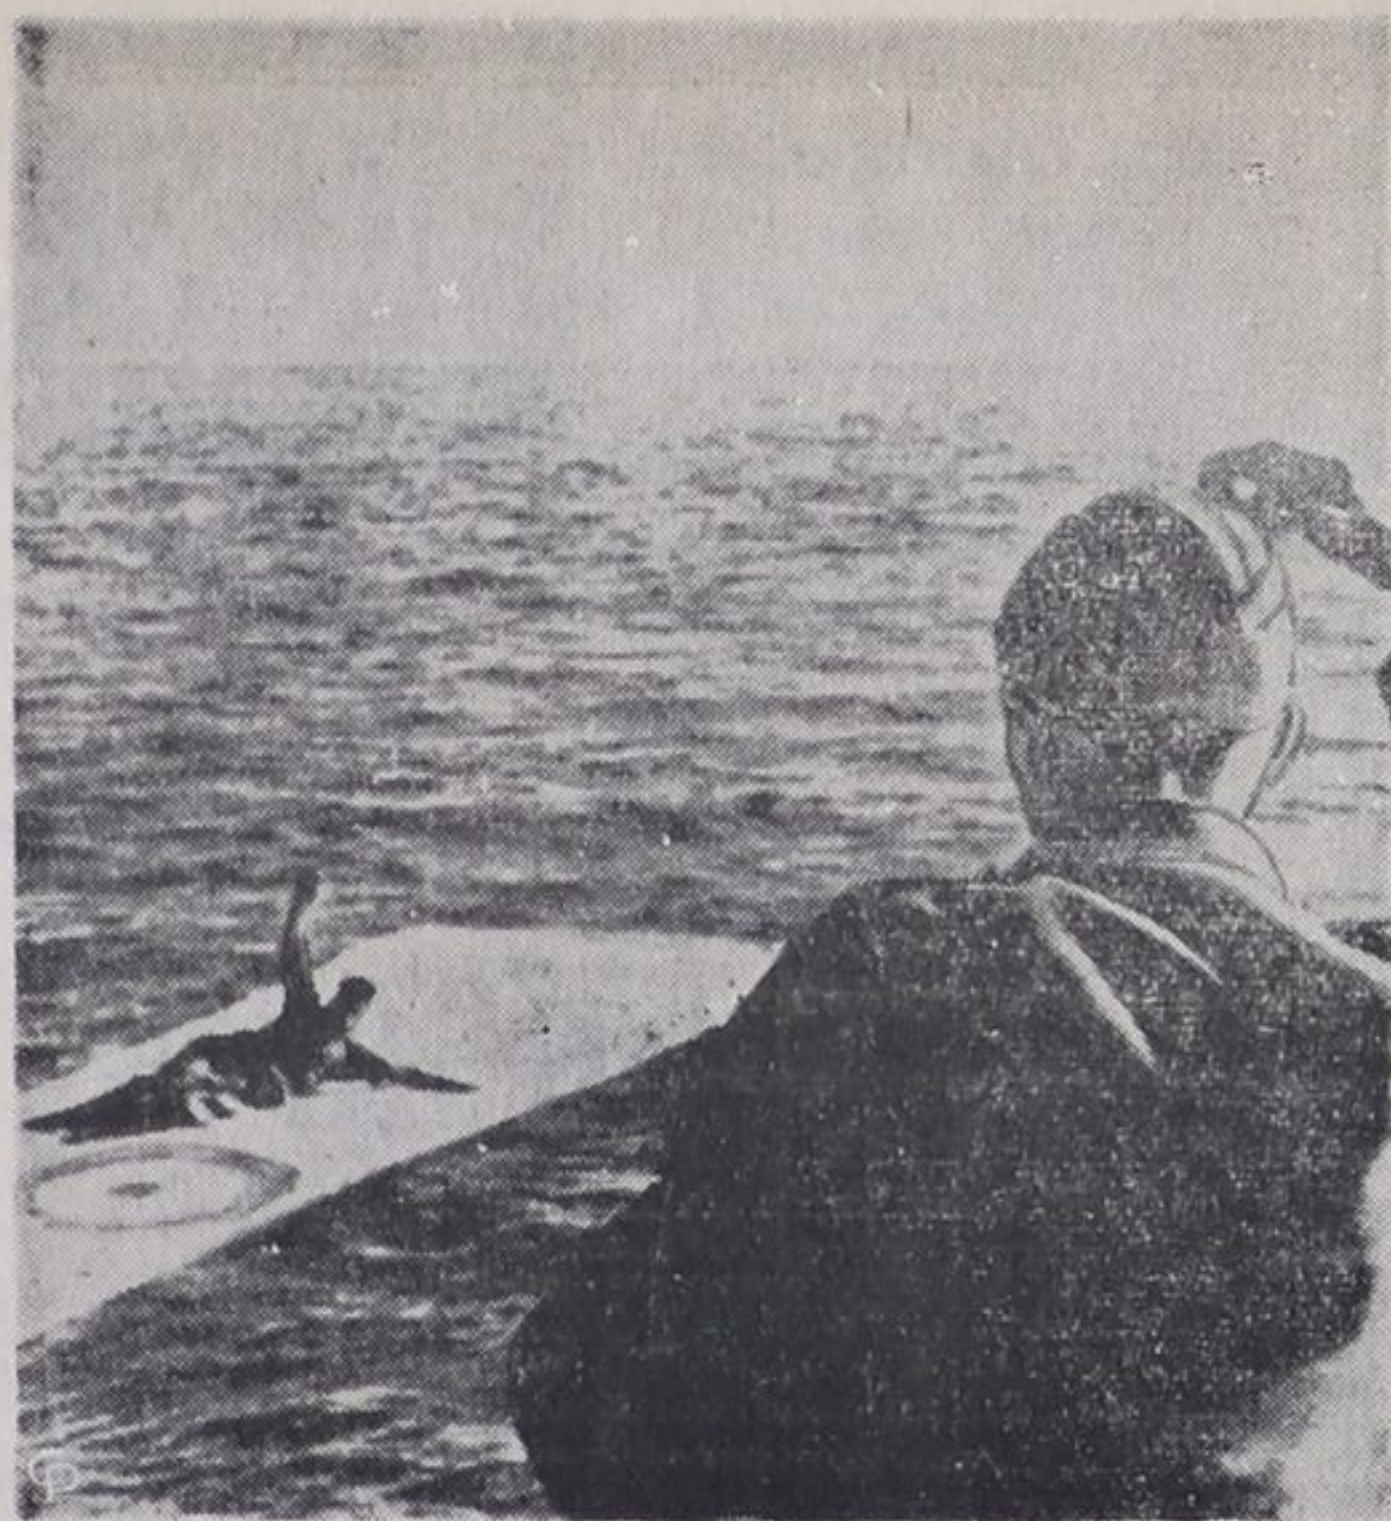

Although more than 18,000 women in Canada are anxious to join the Canadian Women's Army Corps and the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force, it is not yet known how many of them will meet the army medical requirements. Already more than 1,000 women have been recruited in the C.W.A.C. and 900 in the C.W.A.A.F. Above, two members of the CWACS in their smart khaki uniforms and beach brown neckties, are shown filling a kit bag with the equipment supplied to each recruit. —Photo—Public Information

AUSTRALIAN NATIVES PREPARE

This photo was made in Australian territory where the threat of Japanese invasion has become acute. It shows a native being introduced to the gas mask. This modern device blends inconspicuously with the warriors' tribal paint.

R.A.F. PILOT AWAITING RESCUE

This picture, just received from London, shows a Royal Air Force fighter pilot waving from the wings of his plane after being shot down into the sea.

ASKS MORE AID FOR RUSSIA

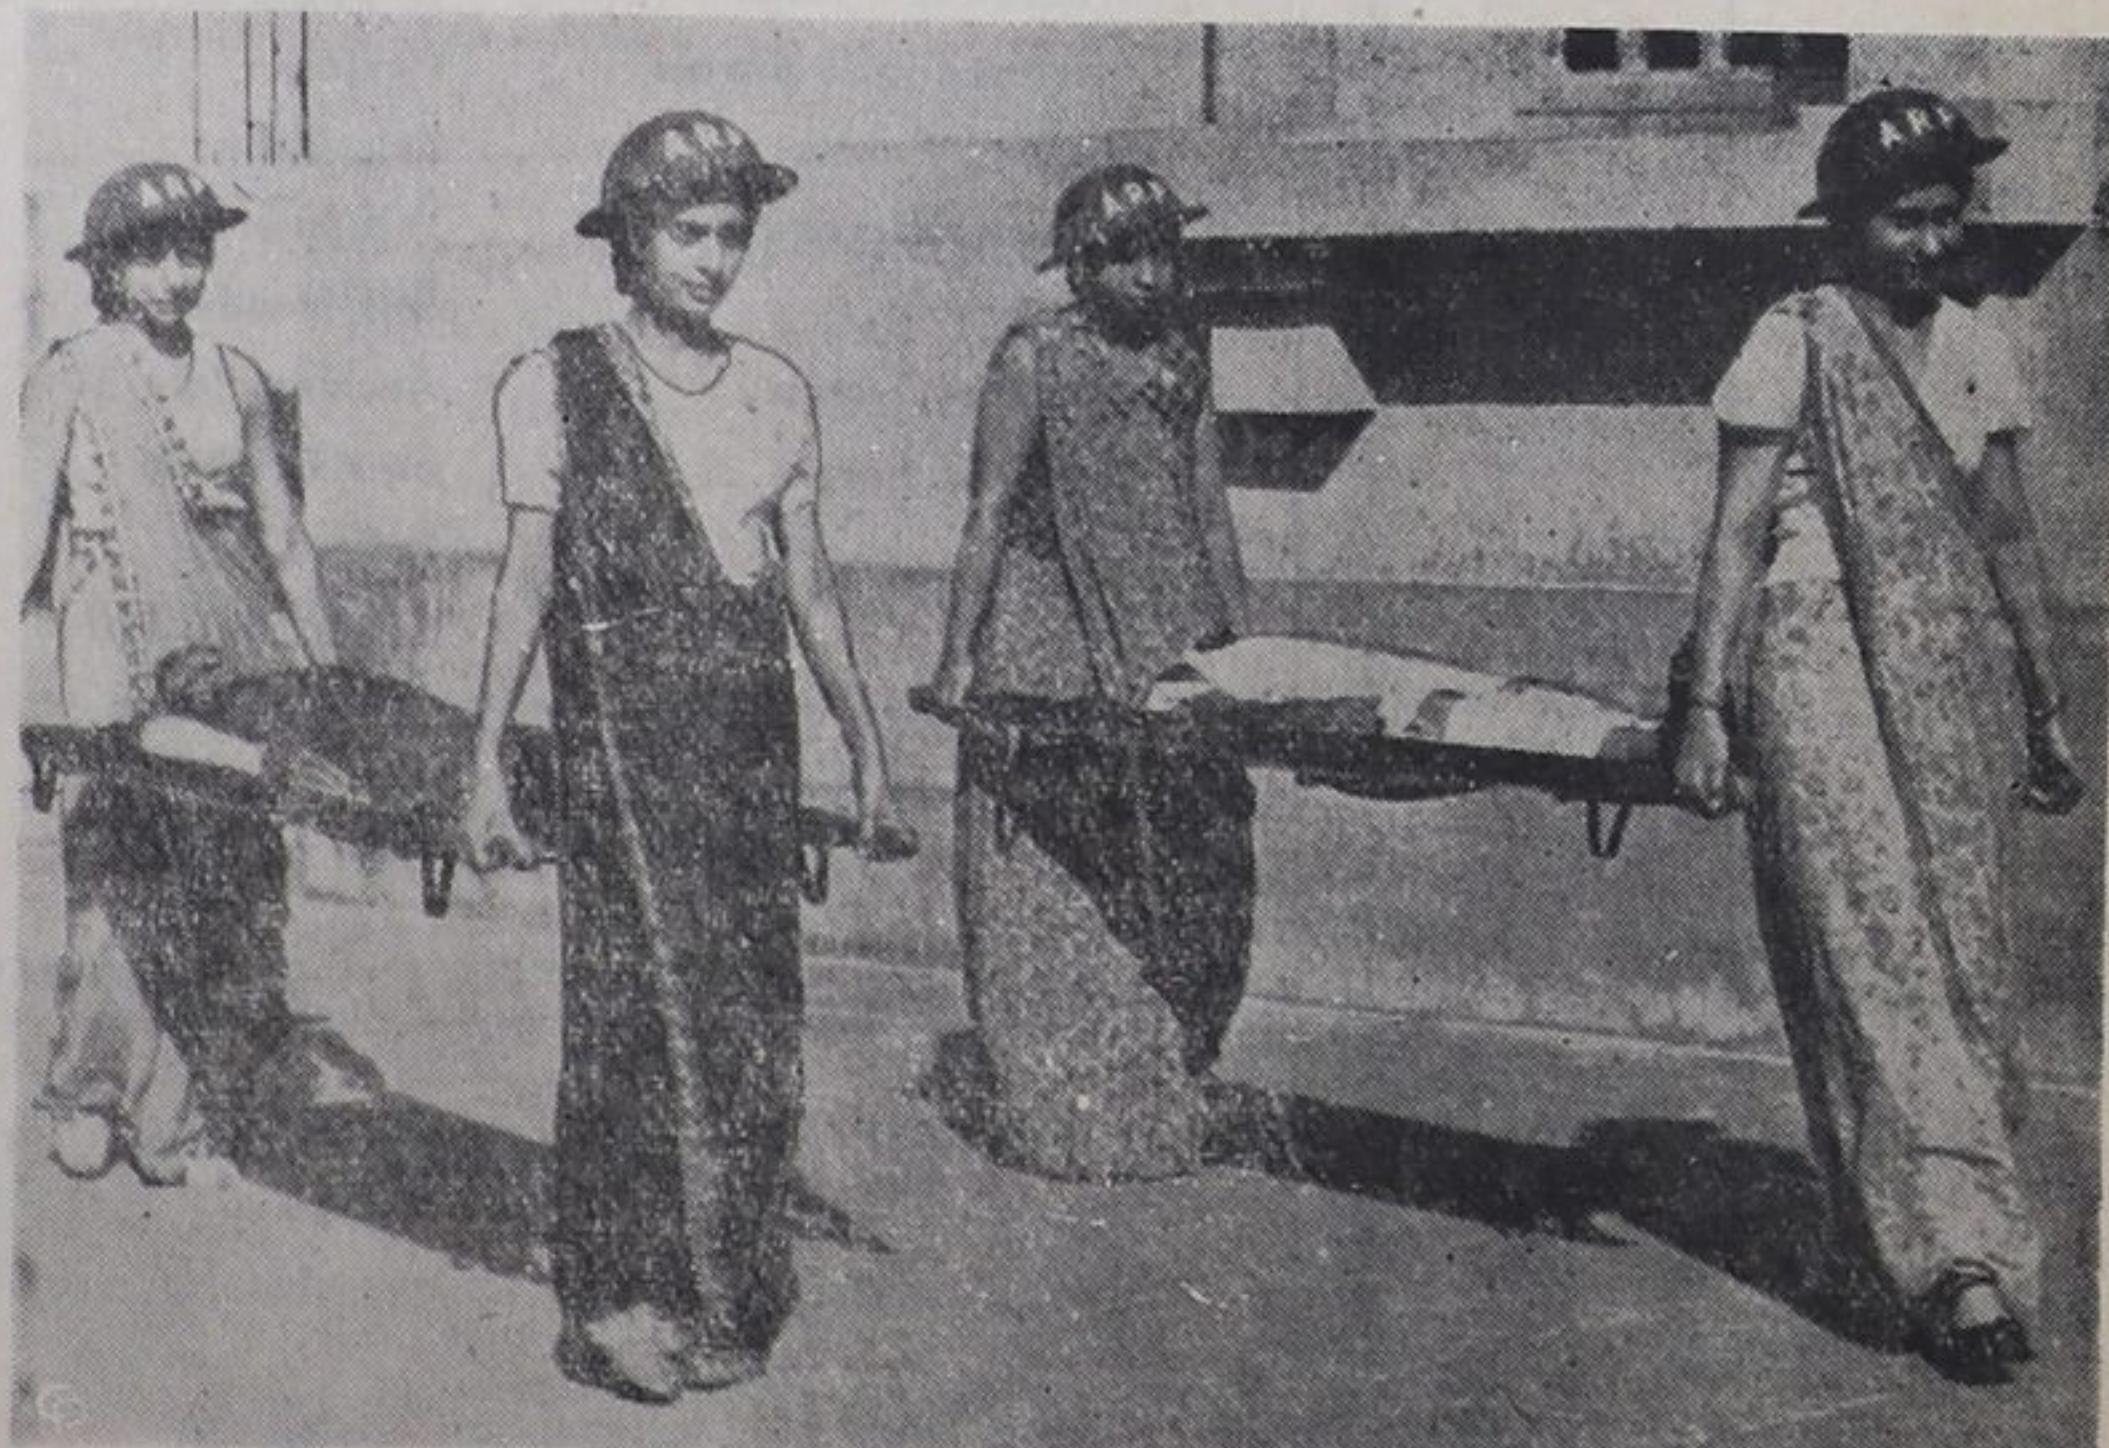

Sir Stafford Cripps, retiring British ambassador to Russia, is shown with Lady Cripps as he arrived in London from Moscow. Sir Stafford asked that Britain and the United States send more supplies to Russia for the expected spring drive Hitler's armies are expected to make.

HUGE GERMAN TANK CAPTURED IN DESERT

Four South African troops of the British Imperial forces make a close examination of a huge German mark 4 tank captured on the desert. Of special interest is the huge short-barrelled cannon mounted in the side of the tank which bears the "Afrika Korps" insignia.

TRAINING FOR TROUBLE

Even the peace-loving Parsi of Bombay feel the call of all-out war. Parsi women are shown during an air raid precaution drill in the Indian city. Wearing steel helmets at their work they remove casualties from a "bombed" building to places of safety.
