

Ex-Service Men Given Credit in Insurance Plan

Provision in Act States All Are Entitled to Insurance Over War Period

From the Unemployment Insurance Commission comes this week a long article dealing with the provisions of the Act and setting out practically all features of the plan inaugurated over seven years ago. Perhaps the majority of workers who come within the provisions are fairly familiar with the whole system, but there is still some misunderstanding in regard to ex-service men's credits. In this regard, the following paragraph from the Commission circular may help to put the servicemen on the right track towards securing his full benefits under the Act:

"At this point, it is reasonable to ask: 'But what of the serviceman'—does his service count towards establishment of Unemployment Insurance credits? If serviceman or woman has been honorably discharged, since June 30, 1941, a credit can be established to cover the period in the services. The determining factor is—would this veteran have been engaged in insurable employment had he remained a civilian. The test for this is his record of employment after discharge. If the veteran completes 90 days in insurable employment in any 12-month period subsequent to his discharge, then a credit is immediately set up to cover his period of service subsequent to June 30, 1941, and up to the time of discharge. The rate is determined by the average rate for these 90 days. Up to the present, over $13,000,000 has been paid into the Fund for Armed Service Credits.

More than 90 per cent of all petroleum produced in Canada comes from Alberta.

NO ZINC RUSH

A reported rush on zinc claims in Godfrey township this week turned out to be just another interesting story. The claims in Godfrey where there are reported good showings of zinc have been the subject of much speculation for many years.

Hollinger Consolidated Mines, which have staked some of the property around Kamiscotion mountain started to drill a couple of weeks ago and the stories went buzzing around that a rush was on to stake the nearby claims. The Timmins Mine Recorder's office reports that very few claims have been filed and it hasn't the appearance of a major rush.—Porcupine Advance.

SUSPECT FIRE-BUG

The probability that recent outbreaks of fire in Rouyn may be the work of a fire-bug, was expressed today by Sabin Thibault, chief of the Rouyn fire department. The statement was made by Chief Thibault when questioned Tuesday by The Press about the similarity encountered in the recent series of early-morning fires which have started in the rear of business premises in downtown Rouyn, and particularly on Perrault St. East.

The most recent of these fires took place on Saturday and Monday nights, and in both cases began in wood-piles beside of or in sheds at the rear of Albert's Radio Service, on Perrault St. East.—Rouyn-Noranda Press.

ILLEGAL SHOOTING

Siegie Hayes, a bushworker of Otto township, was remanded a week for sentence today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of wounding animals, an infraction of the Canadian criminal code. Hayes was charged with shooting a young heifer and a seven-year-old cow, owned by Emil Nyland, with a .22 calibre rifle. The heifer had to be destroyed and the cow was seriously injured.

The accused blamed drink for his actions and claimed in court that he was willing to pay for the damage—Kirkland Lake Northern News.

AMBITIOUS STUDENT

After travelling 10,000 miles to attend university only to be told he couldn't possibly register for the coming year on account of overcrowded conditions, 17-year-old Chinese lad, Wai Kwo Ing, is, at present, visiting friends and relatives in Timmins.

Born and brought up in China, Wai Kwo has always wanted to be a doctor. "China needs doctors desperately," he said.

When asked if he would specialize, he said yes, he wanted to go into brain surgery.—Timmins Press.

TWO BUSY YEARS

In a brief ceremony, the members of the staff of the North Bay district office of the Department of Veterans Affairs were assembled by the district administrator to mark the closing of two years of activity. Since the district office was opened in this city, more than 30,000 applications for Re-Establishment Credits have been received and paid, representing a total value of $3,735,121.66.—North Bay Nugget.

JUNIOR FARMERS

The first Junior Farmer conference ever to be held in Northern Ontario was a "howling success" according to M. F. Cook, one of those from Temiskaming who attended the meetings held on Monday and Tuesday in the Nickel Range hotel at Sudbury. More than 85 young people representing districts from as far north as Hearst, south to Huntsville and west to Sault Ste Marie.

Elsie Fry, young member of the Junior Farm Club from Sutton Bay, placed second in the public speaking competitions which were held the first day.—Temiskaming Speaker.

Would your business need to be wound up . . . IF?

Many businesses are wound up because when the owner or owners die there isn't enough ready cash for the family or partners to carry on.

This calamity is caused by lack of adequate Business Insurance. Had the owner or owners purchased Business Insurance the premiums could easily have been paid without financial strain.

If you own a business and don't want to see it sacrificed after you are gone, why not ask us to send a specially trained Confederation Life Representative to discuss the matter with you.

Hon. J. J. McCann, M.D.
Minister of National Revenue

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada

ESTABLISHED 1869

HOME OFFICE
WATERLOO, ONT.

October 1, 1948.

OFFICE OF THE
PRESIDENT

To our Policyholders:

On September 28, the volume of insurance in force in our Company passed the billion dollar mark. This outstanding achievement is highly significant in that 98% of this insurance is on the lives of people in Canada and Newfoundland - for this is a Canadian company operated for Canadians.

It is a notable milestone in the progress of our Company - a long stride forward since those days over 78 years ago, when the founders had to sell five hundred policies before they could secure Government permission to operate a mutual life insurance company.

But, it means more than this.

It is proof of the public's ever-growing consciousness of the advantages of mutual life insurance.

It is proof that Mutual Life of Canada policies fit the needs of Canadians in all walks of life.

It is proof of intelligent and sympathetic service by the Company's representatives.

It is proof that this Company has won a leading place in the confidence of the Canadian public.

The policyholders are to be congratulated on this achievement which has been due largely to the confidence they have shown in the Company by recommending it to their friends and by keeping their own insurance in force through the years.

President.
