Given Ten Days
on Drunk Driving;
Car Impounded

Crash in North Cobalt
Brings Heavy Penalty;
Theft Charges Heard

Jack Shaver, who pleaded guilty to being drunk in charge of a car, was sentenced to 10 days in jail, forbidden to drive for six months and had his car impounded for three months, in police court here before Magistrate S. Atkinson on Friday last. The charge had been laid by provincial constable Arthur Souliere, who told the court the accused had ran into a car driven by Frank Smith of Cobalt, in North Cobalt on October 22nd. The Smith car was damaged to the extent of between $200 and $300, the officer said, and the accused had been on the wrong side of the road.

In another traffic charge, Donald E. Armstrong was fined $25 and costs on a careless driving count, while similar charges against Norman Olivier and Walter Myllymaa were withdrawn.

Avery Sedore of Chamberlain township faced a charge of stealing a quantity of grass seed on October 24th, and was remanded one week for sentence. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Magistrate Atkinson committed Rupert Berzens, 16, and the son of a new Canadian, to six months in a reformatory, for a series of thefts in the district over a period of more than two months. When Berzens was asked by His Worship why he stole consistently, he answered that it was because he did not want to go to school. He was told the sentence was lenient, in view of the fact the last two charges had been committed after he had passed 16 years. Magistrate Atkinson told him that if he should show eagerness to learn the auto mechanic's course he had chosen, he could remain in the reformatory for a longer period in order to complete the course.

At the same court, there were two charges of drunkenness, with the usual fines of $10 and costs imposed, and two of allowing dogs to run at large, in which the fines were one dollar and costs.

Two charges of non-payment of wages, against the A. J. Murphy Lumber Co., were dismissed when the circumstances were explained to the magistrate.

Chas. Booth Dies

Former Haileybury Man
Lived at Dobie; Lost
Only Son in Last War

Word of the death of a former resident of Haileybury, Charles Booth, comes to The Haileyburian this week. Mr. Booth, who for some years past has lived at Dobie and was employed at the Upper Canada Mine, passed away suddenly while at his work. He had been ill last winter, but had recovered and was able to do light work since last spring, and his death was entirely unexpected and came as a great shock to his wife.

Mr. Booth was a native of Liverpool, England, and had been in Cobalt during the boom days of the camp, later following the mining industry at Silver Centre and having his home in Haileybury.

Surviving are his wife, Marjorie G. Booth, to whom he was married in St. Paul's church here in 1911; a sister, Mrs. W. Winchester of Verdun, Que., and a brother, John, in Liverpool. His only son, Flying Officer Rovee Booth, lost his life while serving overseas with the RCAF, in September, 1943.

Mr. Booth was buried in the Kirkland Lake cemetery on October 26th. Local friends join in extending sincere sympathy to Mrs. Booth in her bereavement.

NEW LISKEARD MAN IS WINNER OF MOTOR CAR
AT COBALT DRAWING

John Hamilton of New Liskeard was the winner of the new Chevrolet car drawn for on Friday night last in Cobalt, in connection with the fund being raised for the Memorial Arena in the silver town. The drawing was made by Mayor K. M. Buffam at a bingo party in the community hall, arranged by the arena committee. Tickets had been sold throughout the summer in large quantities. The drawing was only one of a number of plans adopted by the arena committee, which has been successful in getting the new building erected and well on the way towards completion. It will be ready as soon as the weather is cold enough to make ice, those in charge of the work say.

The third annual report of the Ontario Mining Association is now available on request, from the Association office at 320 Bay St., Toronto.

THOUSANDS WITH HEARING LOSS EVER GRATEFUL FOR EXPERT'S FREE CLINIC!

It seemed strange to me how a loss of hearing could so markedly affect a person's personality. Having witnessed this change in an associate... I decided to ask Mr Vance's opinion about it.

He quickly revealed how thoroughly the modern specialist understands the problems of the hard-of-hearing.

"People who have studied psychology explain it by calling such a personality change a "compensation." In other words, the person with a hearing impairment unconsciously tried to make up to himself for the changes that have taken place.

"Let me give you an example of an actual case. Not long ago I gave a free hearing test to a young girl who is a law student. I could see at the end of the consultation, while she was hearing well she still appeared troubled. She told me she was deeply concerned about her career, and the trouble she was having in classes... and yet she was undecided.

"I asked her why a young, attractive girl like herself, who likes dancing... who wants a career... and who admits her difficulty... could be so undecided about wearing a hearing aid when the Acousticon had returned her hearing as close as possible to normal.

"She said, 'But Mr. Vance, how would I be able to hide my hearing instrument?' I explained that there were many different types of hearing loss, each requiring a different fitting... and that her impairment was what we call a perceptible or nerve type loss. Not able to hear herself talk, or control her voice... she had developed a typical, high-pitched nasal voice which would steadily get worse.

"Her Acousticon fitting was the result of a simple but efficient analysis... and was the one model of 36 new Con-stellations that would give her maximum correction. I then pointed out how with the new 'Invisible' earpiece she would be able to hear the way people with no impairment did... in a way so completely unnoticeable that even her closest friends wouldn't spot it. Needless to say she took the Acousticon... and, like thousands of others, is forever grateful that she attended our free hearing clinic."

Leaving Mr. Vance's office I wondered how anyone with a hearing loss could put off getting an Acousticon. Oh, yes... they might feel self-conscious for a short time. But think seriously, who is the conspicuous one? The person that is enjoying life with a normal personality... or, the person who allows a hearing impairment to injure their health, irritate their families, risk their business and spoil their whole outlook on life? If there is any doubt about your decision... See Mr. Vance. Acousticon can quickly provide the answer!

POPPY DAY—NOVEMBER 5th

On this day canvassers will solicit your support of the Poppy Campaign. The poppy—token of Remembrance—honors those who in the past two wars have given their lives in the cause of freedom. The sale of poppies provides help for disabled veterans who are unable to earn their own livelihood.
