YOUTH FROM NORANDA DIES IN POOL WHILE FISHING NEAR TOWN

The body of 17-year-old Noel Bouffard of Noranda was found face downward in a shallow pool on the rocky shore of Lake Temiskaming at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been fishing off the rocks just south of Haileybury, after leaving the home of his brother, Marcel Bouffard, Albert street where he had been visiting, and a fishing outfit and haversack were picked up near the body. Lloyd Palmer discovered the dead man when he went to the same place the fish.

Chief K. R. Watson and constable F. Hurteau were summoned and, in the absence of the coroner, Dr. W. C. Arnold, in Temagami on one of his regular trips, Dr. C. W. Gillen was notified and pronounced the youth dead.

It was learned that he had been subject to seizures, but had not suffered one for a considerable period. Mr. Bouffard here is looking after funeral arrangements and Dr. Arnold was to be notified on his return.

Mrs. E. Callahan Lived Here For Forty-Five Years

Came to Community With Building of Railway; Funeral Held Monday

Mrs. Elizabeth Callahan, who had lived in Haileybury for the past 45 years, passed away at her home on Albert street on Friday evening, June 30th, 1950, after a lengthy illness. She was in her 77th year, and was the wife of the late Dennis Callahan, who came from Arnprior at the time of the building of the T. & N.O. Railway, now the Ontario Northland.

Mrs. Callahan, the former Elizabeth Hurley, was born at Vinson, Que. During her long residence in Haileybury, she made many friends who extend sympathy to her family. She was a devout member of Holy Cross Church.

Surviving are four daughters and one son. The daughters are: Mrs. P. Rouillard (Violet) of Kirkland Lake; Mrs. Alex Le Garde (Sadie) of Toronto; Mrs. Jack Sutherland (Dove), Haileybury, and Mrs. Arnold Hickling (Winnifred) also of Toronto. The son is Fred Callahan of Haileybury. There are two sisters, Mrs. Bridget Kearney of Manawaki, Que., and Mrs. Winnifred LaBine of Westmeath, Ont., and five brothers, Jack and William Hurley, Timmins; Patrick, Windsor; Roderick, Detroit, Mich., and Frank of Sudbury also surviving, together with eight grandchildren.

The funeral was held on Monday, July 3rd, with the service in Holy Cross Church at 9 a.m., and interment in the Roman Catholic cemetery here. Father R. Lafleur parish priest, conducted the services in the church and at the graveside, and the following were pallbearers: Joe McDonald, E. Vannier, J. Hallworth and T. Ross Dinel, Joan Dineson, Beverley Fleming, Roger Fleming, Eleanor

Fire at Splint Factory Causes Loss of Finished Product

Breaks Out in Storage Bin Near Top of Building From Unknown Cause; Fought By New Liskeard Brigade and Confined to One Section; No Estimate on Loss; Now Cleaning Up

A fire which broke out from an undetermined origin at 7.15 on Monday evening caused heavy damage at the plant of the Canadian Splint and Lumber Company, between Haileybury and New Liskeard. The result has been the complete shutting down of the plant, which manufactures splints in great numbers for the overseas markets.

The fire started in the big storage bin near the top of the building, and officials of the company said they couldn't figure out the cause. The finished product is stored in the 125-foot bin, just over the assembly and packing room, and the flames were confined to that section of the plant only, although there was plenty of water damage in other parts of the factory, but none to the machinery, except that the electric motors were flooded.

C. L. Sharp, superintendent of the plant, said on Tuesday that the entire stock in the bin would be lost. He could not estimate the value at that time or make any statement as to the length of time the plant would be shut down. During recent weeks one shift only was being worked, with around 50 hands employed, most of them girls.

The New Liskeard fire brigade was summoned when the fire was discovered by a watchman at the plant, and they continued to fight the flames for nearly four hours before the last vestige of flames had been extinguished. An efficient pressure system is provided at the plant, and the brigade, led by Roy Grills, laid six hoses and kept a steady stream of water pouring into the buildings. Dense smoke from the burning splints made fire fighting difficult, but the flames did not spread to other parts of the sprawling factory, and at 11.30 the firemen found it safe to leave.

With the fire confined to one section of the plant, and in the upper part of the building, considerable damage was done to the roof, but the walls were not affected. Electricians at plant, under M. R. McNulty, were working hard to get the big motors dried out, and other men were engaged in a clean-up job that is still going on. In the lower part of the building, water to an estimated depth of 18 inches was still there on the following day and measures were being taken to get it drained out.

The fire was not especially spectacular, although it could be seen for a couple of miles around the area. The dense smoke was more readily noticed and many people from both New Liskeard and Haileybury were at the scene during progress of the fire.

C. J. Zeigel, manager of the plant, was out of town on a business trip to Pembroke and Montreal at the time and, pending his return, no statement was made as to when operations would be resumed.

The factory was formerly used in the manufacture of pulp and was built some 20 years ago. When the demand for that product slackened off, the building was used for storage purposes by the Northern Ontario Power Co. until the present company established its plant there. When in full production, about 175 hands were employed, but a slump in the demand for the product in recent months brought about a reduction to one shift daily.

Small Girl Drowned Near Her Home in Latchford

Gail Carter, aged four and a half years and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter of Latchford, was drowned near her home on an island there yesterday afternoon. She had been out playing and was only missing for about ten minutes, provincial police said this morning, and when the body was found Dr. H. A. Dunning of Cobalt was summoned. Attempts at resuscitation carried on for an hour and a half failed to revive the child.

Family Reunion Brings Four Generations Together

When Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Boudreau, Main street, visited Mr. Boudreau's relatives in Baie Combeau, Que., last week there was quite a family reunion, with four generations represented. With Mr. and Mrs. Boudreau on the trip went their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pilon of Hamilton, and their little daughter, Lorraine. A photograph showing Mrs. James Boudreau, Mr. Boudreau's mother, himself, Mrs. Pilon and Lorraine, was taken as a souvenir of the gathering, with a copy going to each member of the family. The party from here had a very pleasant trip by motor, visiting many points in Eastern Canada, including Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa and centres familiar to them in former years. They returned at the week-end and Mr. and Mrs. Pilon and Lorraine have gone to their home in Hamilton.

Following is the list, the names in alphabetical order: Marjorie Adams, Thomas Beasley, Shirley Button, Barbaralee Cooke, Elizabeth Jean Gagnon, Doris Hurteau, Suzanne Lecky, John May, Mollie Millar, Elizabeth Neelands, June Robertson, Dennis Weiss, Mary Whitby and Lindsay White.

Aged Lady Dies Sunday Night at Home of Son

Mrs. Emily Rivet Was Married Four Times; Ill Only Four Days

Mrs. Emily Rivet, who had passed her 93rd birthday and had survived four husbands, died at the home of her son, Jeremiah Brazeau, Ferguson avenue, late on Sunday night, July 2nd, 1950. She had been ill for only four days after an active life, and leaves many descendants. Mrs. Rivet had lived in Haileybury since March of this year, when she came from Sturgeon Falls to her son's home.

She was formerly Emily Dotte and was born at L'Original, Ont., and had lived in Sudbury and Sturgeon Falls for some 30 years past.

Mrs. Rivet's first husband was the late Jeremiah Brazeau of Ste Camille de Marsham, Que. After his death she married Thomas Charette of Sudbury, and her third husband was Dan Couture of Cache Bay. After the latter's death she married Jeremiah Rivet of Sturgeon Falls, who also predeceased her.

Surviving Mrs. Rivet are two sons, Jeremiah and Frank Brazeau, both of Haileybury, and three daughters, Mrs. W. Goumaire and Mrs. Thos. Gauvreau of Uno Park, and Mrs. Andrew Roy of Cache Bay. A fourth daughter, Mrs. N. Pieche, predeceased her.

Members of the family said there are 52 grandchildren, and they counted the number of great grandchildren at 184. In addition there are two great grandchildren making five generations, and they regret that they never got a photograph, although the five had been represented in a family gathering not long ago.

The funeral was held yesterday morning, with the services in Holy Cross Church and at the graveside in the Roman Catholic cemetery conducted by Rev. Father R. Lafleur, parish priest. Mrs. Rivet had been a regular attendant at the church since coming to the community.

It is reported in Cobalt that the Northern Customs mill at Mileage 104 will resume operations in the near future.

Swimming classes and supervised play at the Rotary Park commenced on schedule this week and the children appear to be enjoying themselves to the full.

NATURE UNSPOILED

YOURS TO PROTECT

THE ROSE-BREASTED GROSBREAK is a very beautiful bird, black and white, with a soft rosy triangle high on his breast. He lives in leafy groves, nearly always near the water. He should be protected, as he eats great numbers of potato beetles.
