

Fish and Game Association Hold Annual Meeting

The twenty-second annual meeting of the Temiskaming Fish and Game Association was held in the Legion Hall on April 16th.

The president, Dr. J. C. A. Crawford, welcomed the members and the minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved. A general discussion followed on several questions brought up by Robert Fairbrother.

Bob Herbert, M.L.A., attended and read a list of resolutions which the members acted on.

The progress being made in the district was outlined by the biologist for the district, Mr. Mangan and with the assistance of the Association, he has high hopes of accomplishing much more this year.

Election of officers for the coming season ensued and read as follows:

President—Dr. J. C. Crawford
1st Vice-Pres.—C. O. Barlow
2nd Vice-Pres. Robt. Fairbrother.

Sec.-Treas.H. M. Grady.
Following is a list of the prizes in the various fishing competitions, and the winners thereof:

Beavers Becoming Bolder

Tree life in the woods surrounding Haileybury must be reaching a new low as the game warden and "Scoop" Villeneuve watched a busy beaver on the lake front near the market building this week. If they had been armed, someone in the family would have had a little cheap trim at their neck this fall. There have been other reports of beavers moving into town and several local trees already bear their trade mark, so don't be surprised if you find your favorite tree being hauled away some fine morning.

Preoccupation with trivial things is the curse of today.

Two Hundred Enjoy Closing of Curling Club

Some two hundred members and guests gathered at the Cobalt-Haileybury Curling Club on Saturday night to bring the season's activities to a close. Bill Fleming, president of the men's section addressed the gathering and particularly thanked each and every one who had assisted in any way towards realizing the new club house. J. Eddie McDonough outlined how some of the finances were forthcoming in the building of the club and his ready wit was thoroughly appreciated by the Saturday nighters. "Credit where credit is due" and this time it's Eddie for his untiring efforts in raising funds for the project. P. M. Fleming was then called upon and spoke fittingly of the club.

The men's prizes were presented by Bill Fleming, assisted by the executive. The list of winners was misplaced and the names are not available for publication.

Mrs. W. A. H. Ferguson, convenor of the prize committee, assisted in presenting the prizes to the ladies:

Mrs. N. J. McAulay, president of the ladies' section, thanked the men for the many courtesies they had extended to them in so many ways to make their curling season a success.

To background music by Jack White at the piano Max Whitby and Stan Weir were on-stage to soothe their listeners with a song extolling the merits of ice cream and soda pop. Grace McDonough and Bill Fleming rendered "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" with great feeling and subtle tone and were followed by other impromptu numbers by the guests. Mrs. Jensen, Steve Bond, Myrt and Connie Vachon and A. D. Hellens (whom the master of ceremonies welcomed home from

GOLF CLUB NOTES

A Special General Meeting of the shareholders of the Haileybury Golf Club Limited will be held in the Blue Room of Hotel Haileybury on Friday, April 25th at eight o'clock for the purpose of considering, and if approved, confirming a by-law enacted on the 1st of April, 1952, providing for decreasing the capital of the Company from the sum of $40,000 to the sum of $8,000 by reducing the par value of each share of the company from $100 to $20; and to transact any other business that may come before the meeting.

"More Babies in the American Family" That's the intriguing title of an article in this Sunday's (April 27) issue of The American Weekly, exclusively with Detroit Sunday Times. Read how approximately 3,833,000 babies were born last year in the United States and how we are in for an era of bigger families.

THE BOOK NOOK

Some excellent novels were published in 1951, and perhaps you have missed some of them. If so, you will find these just as good reading as if they were 'hot-off-the-press'. If you have read these call in at the Library anyway as there are many others equally interesting.

Festival at Farbridge, by J. B. Priestley

An up-to-the-minute story in which a huge cast are all working like mad to bring the Festival of Britain to Farbridge. It is long, but it will be enjoyed by those who like a very British novel of the 'Good Companions' type.

The Foundling, by Cardinal Spellman.

The story of Peter Lane, abandoned when a baby in a New York Cathedral and his relationship to the wounded and disillusioned soldier who found him there on his return from World War I. It tells of Peter's development, his interests, his love story and his own return from the wars, blinded and dispirited. A delightful story.

The Far Lands by James N. Hall.

The Polynesian Islands are once again the background for a novel which dwells upon native customs and tells the love story of the young people of the isles.

The Faith of Mrs. Killeen, by K. M. Flanagan.

This is the story of a woman's faith, mother and son live alone in a small Irish homestead, but when the son is unjustly convicted of murder, their worlds fall apart. In spite of blindness, poverty and setbacks at every turn this amazing woman's belief in the final triumph of truth is vindicated.

The Caine Mutiny, by Herman Wouk.

This is one of the best naval yarns of World

War II and is about the old American destroyer "Caine" and the men who sailed in her. The action shifts from the bridge to the wardroom and from scenes of petty tyranny to fierce action and heroism.

April 21st—Queen Elizabeth was born.
April 25-29—Rotary International Conference.
