At Kirkland Lake the school will be held from August 10th to August 16th. The course is not confined to members of the Art Club only, but the number of students which can be accepted at the school is limited to 40, so that interested persons should register immediately. Bulletins and application forms may be obtained from Roland Trussler, Duncan avenue, Kirkland Lake and completed forms should be forwarded to Mrs. John Jemmett, Swastika.

The instructors will be Gordon Couling, A.O.C.A., director of art, MacDonald Institute of Home Economics, O.A.C., Guelph, and Gustave Weisman, A.O.C.A., a leading young Canadian artist who is at present doing post graduate study in Mexico. Both instructors have wide teaching experience and have exhibited throughout Canada.

The course will include painting at Aidie Creek, Swastika, Bidgood property and Kirkland Lake and evening classes in figure drawing.

Since the first summer school held in Haileybury, the Northern Ontario Art Association has grown rapidly from five clubs to twelve.

Request Refused

The condemning of several water wells in the south end of town recently by the Temiskaming Health Unit prompted Council to take the first essential step last week towards servicing the area, but without success.

A reply to a request for permission to extend the service was refused by the Department. They are not prepared to approve such an extension as decided upon at the last Council meeting because such a move would be a direct contravention to the established policy of not providing service to non-service areas.

Eight Masonic lodges come under his supervision this year—Elk Lake, New Liskeard, Haileybury, Cobalt, Sturgeon Falls, Mattawa, North Bay and Nipissing.

Gordon Stewart Among Graduating Pilots at Gimli

Among the Canadian pilots who graduated on the 11th of July at No. 2 Flying School, RC AF station, Gimli, Man., was Pilot Officer Gordon Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stewart of Haileybury.

"You are further contribution to NATO and world peace" said Group Captain M. Lipton, AFC, commanding officer who addressed the thirty-three graduating pilots of Course 31.

The successful trainees numbered 12 members of the RCAF and 21 members of the RAF. The colorful parade was held outdoors with flags of the NATO countries waving proudly over the scene, and station Harvards swept low over the parade in formation salute.

Flanked by an RCAF honour guard the successful airmen marched smartly in pairs to the dais where they received the coveted pilots' wings from Group Captain Lipton. Following the presentation and address by the Commanding Officer the new pilots, relatives, and friends were entertained in the Officers Mess.

The Canadian pilots will undertake advanced flying training at RCAF MacDonald and RCAF Saskatoon shortly.

O.N.R. Operates Thirty Diesels

With the delivery of two more diesel locomotives, the O.N.R. is now 60% dieselized. Upon the completion of the multi-million dollar diesel shop at North Bay, further deliveries will be accepted. The railway is now operating thirty diesel units.

These include four switchers, 12 road switchers and 14 road "A" units.

CGRA Make Road Test

The nation's 164 million dollar question, why roads become potholed, heaved and broken up will soon get a thorough examination.

The examiners will be a group of highway experts named by the Canadian Good Roads Association. Their job will be to find out how much punishment roads can take and how good road surfaces must be to carry present day traffic.

C.G.R.A. has been invited to a test being conducted in the United States by the Highway Research Board, the federal and state governments and industry. A specially constructed bituminous road in Idaho will be subjected to a constant pounding by day and night of a fleet of giant trucks of varying weights up to 40,000 pounds.

The results will be analyzed and from them will come answers to some of the nation's controversial questions on road wear. C. R. G. A. will watch the construction of the Idaho road, the actual testing by truck and will analyze the final results in terms of what they mean to Canada.

Popular Young Haileybury Man Dies Suddenly

The community was saddened on Tuesday evening by the sudden death of Gordon Lee.

He had spent the day with his uncles, Archie and John MacLean clearing up the area surrounding their cabin near the end of the West Road, on the Montreal River. At five o'clock when he had been missing only ten minutes he was found by his uncle Archie lying on the shore. Death was attributed to a heart condition as, although his body was partially in the water, there was no evidence of drowning.

Born in Toronto, where he received his education "Gordie" as he was known to his wide circle of friends, was thirty-nine years of age. For many years he was with the C. E. Fleming grocery here, and on his return from overseas, he was employed by W. R. Lowery and Son. Two years ago he took over Graham Bros. Grocery store and had just this spring sold the business.

A member of the Algonquin Regiment Reserve prior to the outbreak of war, Gordie enlisted in June, 1941, and saw active service as a Corporal with the 6th Armored Regiment, 1st Hussars. He was overseas from November of 1941 until the war's end.

For many years, Gordie was a member of the Haileybury Volunteer Fire Brigade and was an active member of the Canadian Legion.

Always interested in sports activities he was particularly keen for baseball and through the years played on many local teams. He was a member of the Haileybury United Church.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lee (the former Mary MacLean) of Toronto, predeceased him. He is survived by brother, Charlie, of Toronto, one aunt, Mrs. F. L. Fleming, who was Gordie's special favorite, three uncles, James, Archie, and John MacLean, the former of Latchford and the latter two of Haileybury.

The funeral service will be held today in the local United Church at 2 p.m. Interment will be in Toronto.

Neighborhood News

A survey of two schools of journalism for a seven-day period of Canadian news items appearing in American papers and United States news appearing in Canadian newspapers shows that Canadian dailies for the week had 25 times as much news of the United States as American papers give their readers about Canada.
