New Gates For Entrance to Mount Pleasant Cemetery

At the November meeting of Council, Mayor A. H. Cooke suggested to his members that he would like them to consider plans for new gates to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

It will be the fourth time that the preliminary steps have been taken to complete this project, but for various reasons and through no one's fault in particular, the project has never been completed. Councilor R. Poppleton offered to assist Mayor Cooke in preliminary arrangements and it is hoped that interested citizens will lend a hand. When a concrete plan has been set up, the Cemetery Board will give their full assistance.

All monies handled by the Cemetery Board are derived from the sale of lots for which there must be perpetual care. Interest from a Trust fund takes care of this expenditure so that additional improvements must be made through other sources.

Ideas on the setting up of a fund for the gates and the best situation for the new addition would be welcomed. Interested volunteers are needed to assist in getting the plan underway. Mayor Cooke would appreciate hearing from everyone. Meantime Chairman T. Lemon of the Cemetery Board has expressed a wish to start the fund off with a $100 contribution.

The late Mrs. H. Hennessy purchased the present site of the Cemetery in 1921 and the following fall, it was sold to the Town of Haileybury. Since that time, Mr. D. Cooke has been caretaker and as Mr. Lemon said this week, "I do not believe that there is any better tended cemetery this side of Toronto. People from all over the country have complimented us on it, which bears out my words that 'Darius has done a wonderful job'."

"Years Building Activity Remarkable" Says K. Watson

You may think it's a sleepy town, but there's a big black book on the building inspector's desk that tells a story for 1952—it's a story of people who needed a home of their own to live in, of adherents of a faith who needed a church to worship in, of enterprising men who saw the need for apartments and homes to rent, of a handful of citizens who saw the need for a gymnasium for children to play in. In the face of great odds, they all found a simple solution—one of a combination of three factors—two hands, hard work and determination.

High on the hills of Latchford street stands a one-storey, five room bungalow. The happy owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Barry, have a sweeping view of Lake Temiskaming that is a home builder's dream, a contractor built the outside shell, the roof and chimney, but from there it was in the hands of the Barrys. Work started in May, they moved to the house in June and they are still busy on the inside. They expect to be at it for another year yet, but it has been well worth the well worth the effort.

Jim Whalen's story and a half house lends a bright new note to Blackwall street. Eighty per cent of the work on this house with its brick layer foundation, full basement, chimney, two bedrooms, dining room, living room and kitchen on the first floor and two bedrooms on the second was done by the owner himself. After hours and on Saturdays he had the help of "a real gilt edged carpenter, Ben 'Bourget' without whose services, Jimmy says, "he could not have done the job."

Work started on the attractive white house with bevel siding and regent blue asphalt roof on June 27th; on August 27th, the meter was installed; September 15th was the big day for the move. Today, it is finished outside, has a full chimney from ground up with a fire tile inside and work continues on the interior. "Things are going a lot faster than I expected" said Jimmy, "because I am getting a great deal of help from my wife. She's as good at insulating as I am and the job of completely insulating with 2" batts of fibre glass is half done. Sixty sheets of gyproc are already neatly in place with thirty to go. Happy are they with a beautiful new home and amazed at the amount cut off the cost. "We expect to be very comfortable by Christmas" said Jimmy.

"I love it" said Mrs. A. B. Short. It's a white and green, wood top and feather edged one-storey bungalow with a plywood. Five men from Hill-Clark's put the house up after hours in two and a half months. Mrs. Short is so enthusiastic, she'd like to build another one just like it in the spring.

On a fine summer day, the ring of hammers cut across the still air on Blackwall and Georgina. On roof, two people were busy building a house. Asked how it was going, they both replied "it's hard work" but today, T. J. Fingerty and his wife have a modern storey and a half dwelling which they may well be proud of.

With their own hands, F. E. Duquette and Evariste Rivard have both finished their own one-storey cottages on Lawlor and Blackwall streets.

"It's my first crack at the building game and I am very pleased with the results" said W. E. Vannier. Ahead of him are orders for twenty-five homes—here, in New Liskeard, Cobalt and Kapuskasing. Behind him is a record of building achievements. At the southern entrance to Haileybury, Mr. Vannier has erected three one-storey bungalows with cement foundations in the vicinity of his store and three further south. Occupants included two mill operators from Beardmore and their families, Garnet Ross, who is with the Penn-Cobalt Mine, George Aldridge and his family, Wilfrid Leveille who is with Hill-Clark and Carl Reich of Beardmore who has been working with Mr. Vannier on the projects. At the corner of Russell and Georgina, William Thompson of the Northern Telephone Company has just moved into a five roomed Vannier-built house with full basement. A one storey five roomed cottage at the corner of Blackwall and Georgina has been sold by Mr. Vannier to Robert King of Woodstock for a summer home.

When folks had time to spare they went to the corner of Rorke and Marcella to build a church with a seating capacity of 120. Today, the building stands as a living proof of the faith of a Seventh Day Adventist. Julius Neilson, Clem Hoover, Pastor G. E. Anderson, School teacher Michela Misik and many others from the surrounding district have dug, sawed, hammered and built so that adherents would have a place to gather and worship God. Rigid followers of the Ten Commandments, firm believers in the second coming of Christ and interpreters of the Sabbath as sunset Friday evening until sunset Saturday—these are the men of a world-wide organization whose faith is a revelation to their fellow men.

Working day and night until dusk fell, R. J. Poppleton will soon complete an apartment building to accommodate three families. Two will be complete next week. Ideally located on the very shore of the lake, it stands as an example of what can be done to alleviate the desperate need for such accommodation.

On Rorke avenue, Arnold Dempster is putting the finishing touches to an imposing looking duplex with central double garage. A great deal of the actual work in both cases was done by the owners themselves.

On Valentine's Day, 1945, the Haileybury High school burned to the ground and the pupils thought it was the nicest Valentine they could have had. For seven long years the School Board worked on a plan. Few will ever know or thoroughly understand the trials and tribulations endured but sometime between Christmas and the New Year (barring any unforeseen holdups) a new gymnasium will open its doors to children and adults for recreational purposes.

According to the thirty-seven building permits issued this year, the overall picture given by Building Inspector Ken Watson reads something like this:

New buildings erected (garages and new dwellings) $59,150
Commercial ----- $118,000
Repairs to buildings
Residential ----- $2,575
Commercial ----- $2,200

Funeral Services Held For Governor of District Jail

Funeral services were conducted from St. Paul's Anglican Church on Saturday afternoon by Rev. Cyril Goodier for Alfred Thomas Humphreys, who died suddenly at the home of his son, Dr. Alfred Humphreys in London, Ontario. Mr. Humphreys had been in failing health for some time and had gone to London the day before to consult with the Shute Brothers Foundation.

Mr. Humphreys, who was in his 57th year, was born in Wales and was married in 1919 to the former Winnifred Beasley of Plymouth, Devon; five of their children were born in England. The deceased moved to Burwash, near Sudbury, from England in 1929 and his wife and family joined him two years later. In 1938, the family moved to Haileybury where Mr. Humphreys was governor of the Haileybury District Jail, remaining in that position until the time of his death. He was held in high esteem by his fellow workers, fulfilling his duties faithfully and well.

Mr. Humphreys served during the first World War with the King's Shropshire Light Infantry, transferring to the Royal Engineers. He stayed with the Reserve until 1929, when he received his discharge. He was a member of the British Legion and a Lieutenant in the Reserve Army, Algonquins.

He was always active in Masonic circles and was considered to be one of their finest workers and an excellent Mason. His offices included Past Preceptor of Haileybury Preceptory, Past Lodge and Past First Principal of Master of Haileybury Masonic of Temiskaming Chapter, New Liskeard.

He was Past Patron of Shuniah Chapter of the Eastern Star in Cobalt.

The pallbearers for the Masonic and Legion funeral were guards from the District Jail. Interment was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, four daughters, Winnifred (Mrs. F. Reavell) Haileybury; Joan (Continued on Page 4)
