Red Cross Head Attends Annual Meeting in Toronto

The President of the local Association of the Red Cross, Mrs. H. G. Pickard attended the recent annual Red Cross meeting, Ontario Division, held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. Four hundred delegates were present and seventy-five representatives of associations across Ontario attended an executive dinner and meeting.

Reports were heard from the chairman of each committee and Mrs. Pickard was particularly interested in the Swimming and Water Safety and Health Committee reports as they are the two branches in which the local group are so active.

The year 1952 has shown a levelling off at about 14,000 of the number of awards won in the centres active in Swimming and Water Safety since the inception of the programme. But, there are indications that the number will increase next year due to new programmes starting, particularly in the North and Northwestern parts of Ontario. The most important event in this field is the recommendation of the XVIII International Red Cross Conference in 1952 to have the back pressure-arm life method of artificial respiration taught to all Red Cross persons. It presents a big job for 1953.

Mrs. Pickard was impressed by the report of the Junior Red Cross chairman. From kindergarten in elementary schools to Grade XIII in secondary schools, it constitutes the largest youth organization in the world with over 41,000,000 members. They have a three-fold program—Health, by individual and group effort; service to others by volunteer service in the community and by a desire to contribute to the Crippled Children's Fund and international friendship by support of the National Service Fund for Overseas Relief.

"A vigorous program will be undertaken by the Red Cross this year," said Mrs. Pickard, "to extend the blood transfusion service throughout Ontario." To date the plasma program has been met in its entirety for the armed forces in Korea, in Europe, in Canada and for the setting up of a stock-pile against any need for national disaster. Now, the organization will proceed with an orderly expansion of the Free Blood Transfusion Service in Ontario.

ANDREW COWAN

Andrew Cowan, the CBC's European representative, has a background of experience that reads like a modern fiction novel. Before graduating with first class honors from the University of Glasgow, he worked in a Calgary steel plant. While in Scotland he spent summers on the River Clyde as a purser of a small steamer, and later became part of a government commission making a survey of the Highlands. Following a brief stay in London, he won a Commonwealth Fellowship to study in the United States. He joined the CBC in 1940 and after three years in Canada, was on his way overseas again as a war correspondent. His present job requires him to organize and co-ordinate CBC broadcasts originating in Europe.

Seize Bulbs With False Labels

Fifteen soldiers returning to Canada from Germany via Rotterdam were disappointed when 455 bulbs they had purchased there were intercepted on their arrival in Quebec by the Inspector for the Division of Plant Protection. The bulbs were sold on the wharves at Rotterdam and bore labels stating "These flower bulbs are under the supervision of the Phytopathological Service and treated in accordance with the exigencies of the export." The labels proved to be a falsification.

Two Companies Divide Contract for Kenogami Road

Hon. Philip T. Kelly, the Ontario Minister of Mines announced last week that the contract for the construction of the new mining access road to link Matachewan and Kenogami on No. 11 Highway has been divided between the Caswell Construction Company and Rockland Contractors Limited, on a mileage basis. Caswell will be responsible for the 8.9 miles at the western end of the road while Rockland will have the remaining eight miles under its jurisdiction.

Work on the road is expected to get under way almost immediately.

Completion of the road will serve a large area of Northern Ontario and will fill a need which for a long time has been under government consideration. Not only will it give access to a territory which has long had an important part in Ontario's mining picture, but it will also be given extensive use as a public thoroughfare. It will serve as a direct link between Matachewan and other points on Highway No. 65 and northern points on Highway No. 11. Although the direct distance between Matachewan and Kenogami is only 25 miles, it has been necessary to travel 100 miles to make the connection between the two highways at New Liskeard. The eight miles at the western end of the road was completed by the Department of Highways in 1948.

The new road will pass through Gross, Blain, and Eby townships and will follow the existing Eby Township road to a junction with Highway 11 at Kenogami. Specifications call for a 22 ft. road surface on a 28 ft. base.

N. Telephone Co. Plans Dial Phones in Rural Areas

The first rural dial system in Ontario will be installed by the Northern Telephone Company. With an eye to improving telephone communications in Temiskaming, the new dial system will serve approximately 200 subscribers new and old, now being handled directly through the New Liskeard exchange.

The $30,000 installation will be completed at no additional cost to the subscriber who will continue to pay New Liskeard rates as formerly.

Single and two-party lines will be available in the village of Belle Valley and near Dan Jarvis' Corner in the Milberta area. Other subscribers will be served by 10-party (maximum) lines. Subscribers outside these base-rate areas may secure single, two or four-party lines by paying exchange mileage charges, if facilities are available.

The new exchange service is an important step forward in the company's planning to cover adequately and efficiently all areas served. Don McKelvie, general manager, said last week that the dial system with its shorter lines will improve transmission qualities and reduce maintenance and the traffic through New Liskeard will be greatly reduced providing more efficient service for subscribers using the New Liskeard switchboard. "As had been the policy, there will not be a toll charge from the dial-served sections to New Liskeard."

Recent estimates show that the average Canadian telephone user, in paying his bill annually contributes $12 in taxes to the Federal government.

Every 24 hours, your heart beats 103,689 times; your blood travels 168,000,000 miles; you breathe 23,240 times; you eat 3 1/2 pounds of food; and you speak 4,800 words.

They have been chosen to attend the Coronation and spend a month in Britain from among the more than one million Junior Red Cross members in Canada. Virginia Kaimakoff is a student at the Duke of Connaught High School in New Westminster. She has a fine athletic record and is interested in classical music and art. Fellow students described her as the girl they would most like to represent the school.

William Brock is a student at Seaford High School. During his school years he has been particularly interested in Junior Red Cross activities and has a high academic standing.

They will fly to England in May.
