Quick Thinking Housewife Averts Serious Blaze

A short circuit in a fuse box was the cause for a call to the Haileybury Fire Brigade at 11:20 on Friday morning to the home of Bert Dans on Latchford Street. Quick thinking led Mrs. Dans to pull the main switch when she smelled smoke possibly averting a more serious fire. There was no damage and the brigade did not have to use the extinguishers.

OBITUARY

EMIL J. WALLI

The death occurred in Toronto last week of Emil J. Walli, 46, prominent mine manager, who has been associated with the Labine interests for many years.

Born in Copper Cliff, Mr. Walli attended Sudbury Mining School and Queen's University where he graduated in mining in 1932. Following his graduation he worked for a short time at Howey Gold Mines and then moved to the Eldorado Mine at Great Bear Lake, where he worked for more than six years. That period saw the development of Eldorado from a prospect to a successful producer of radium which was of special interest at that time. In his capacity of manager of Eldorado Mines, Mr. Walli had the distinction of being the first man to operate a uranium mine in Canada.

Just before and during the early part of the war, Mr. Walli was in charge of Macalder Gold Mines in Kenya, Africa, which position he left to join the Federal Government Service in the search for uranium ores.

In 1945, he was manager of Shawkey Gold Mine and more recently Nesbitt-Labine Uranium. At the time of his death he was associated with both Nesbitt-Labine and Gunnar Gold Mines.

He was a member of the Professional Engineers of Ontario. With his passing, the mining industry has lost a man who has contributed much to the development of uranium in Canada. He is survived by his wife, and two sons, Eric and Donald, presently living in Edmonton; also surviving him are two brothers O. E. Walli of Haileybury and J. A. Walli of Cartier, and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Gibson and Mrs. Harold Smith of Copper Cliff.

During his talk he stressed the need for more clergy and more young women to take up missionary work in the church and hoped that the members of the W.A. would try to impress this need on the young people.

After the minutes and all reports were given, the election of officers took place. The officers for the new year are:

Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. T. Leishman

Plans were made to hold the children's party at the home of Mrs. Mawhiney on December 8. Santa Claus will make his annual visit to the children.

There were four birthday cups and saucers given out, to Mrs. E. Campbell, Mrs. L. Burton, Mrs. C. E. Miller and Miss M. Fleming. Mrs. G. Johnson joined the Institute.

Mrs. Campbell had a beautiful Christmas tree decorated in the hall at which each member placed a gift. After the closing of the meeting, a bingo game was played which was followed by the exchange of gifts. A most delicious lunch was served by the hostess. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.
