What Council Did

Granted the hamper of Commerce request for funds to get under way in initial expenditure for the Jubilee. The $100.00 grant will however be one and the same amount as requested earlier by the Chamber for yearly assistance to be spent as they see fit as Mayor Day made it clear at the Jubilee meetings that the Town could not go to any expenditure in support of the festivities.

Agreed that the B.A. Service Station was free to move their sign for improved visibility as it is now obscured to northbound traffic.

Learned from Gordon Davies that he had a petition of 37 names with only two refusals from homeowners who wish sewers west of the track. Councillor Poppleton read the Town Foreman's estimates on this and proposed that in view of other factors which enter into a final analysis of actual costs to the ratepayer and the town that plans for both this and the project in the south Rorke vicinity be finalized at next meeting of council.

Rented the weed sprayer to the Townships of Casey and Brethour for $50.00 until June 1st to assist them in the spraying of cattle to chase warble flies out of Temiskaming. The field man for the Federation of Agriculture explained that six townships were done last year and of four townships they planned to do this year, only these two did not have a proper sprayer.

Heard a letter from the Board of Education stating that 12 months had passed since they had asked for improved lighting at the school. Chairman of Light A. Mosher suggested the immediate installation of floodlights at the NW and SW corners of the school building as a trial run to determine their effectiveness. If it proves successful, he suggested the installation of a time clock to control the turning off and on of lights.

Were advised by Hydro that twelve of the twenty-eight lights as instructed last year had been installed in town and that they were withholding the balance as advised. No further action was taken.

Instructed D. H. Millar to study the former Gainsford property on Latchford Street and if an offer of $350.00 from M. J. Hurteau appeared reasonable to go ahead with the sale.

Granted the request of Fire Chief Watson for four extra men for a month to burn grass. Opposed was Councillor Gardner who "could not for the life of me see the necessity of four men for a month." After looking at the number of lots and hearing Fireman J. Hallworth point out that you couldn't just throw a match here, there and everywhere to get rid of the grass Council agreed with C. Camgell "that Fire Chief had been doing the job for twenty-five years and should know what he is talking about."

Had the first and second reading of a By-law recommended to them this year by Constables Clive and Berry to regulate traffic and parking in the town. Only objection came from Don Gardner who still thinks a U-turn at Broadway and Ferguson is all right but finally agreed with the Fire Chairman A. Mosher that "no parking" signs were necessary at all hotel entrances.

Received a talk from the Fire Chief on the Brigade's plans for the Diamond Jubilee. Wagon races are in store for the occasion and Councillor Poppleton agreed that the Lake Shore Road from Broadway to Amwell could be put in good condition.

Fixed Monday, April 26th as the day when the special meeting will be held. Final approval of the budget has not been received from the Department of Municipal Affairs.

WEEK IN COURT

Driving while impaired cost R. Murphy of Cobalt $50.00 and costs in court last week.

Norman Bell of North Cobalt paid $300.00 and costs for keeping liquor for sale.

Offenders against traffic regulations were Maurice McGinty of Pembroke travelling 70 m.p.h. in Dymond and paid $25. and costs; Safety Freight of Toronto, Alberta Auto Carriers, the Kosteb Transport of Mimico and Michael Thrasher of Earleton, all of whom were without 1954 license plates Eugene Beaulieu of Lorrainville had no driver's license and was fined.

Unlawfully having wine cost Milton Moore of Cobalt $10.00 and costs. Edward Bates of Englehart was a disturber of the peace in the Grange Cafe and paid $10.00 and costs. Having liquor cost Archie Albany of Montreal River $10.00 and costs.

Bruno Rheume of Judge and Lionel Proulx of Latchford were fined for intoxication in a public place. Gerald McCarvel of New Liskeard, second offence on the same charge went to jail for thirty days.

Near Total Loss as Fire Sweeps Through Home

Fire which swept the home of Mrs. Suzanne Bourget on Monday at one o'clock has almost completely destroyed her household furnishings and bedding and left children and adults of all ages with next to nothing in the way of clothing. We appeal today to our fellow citizens to do what they can to render assistance which may be left at the home of Mrs. Ben Bourget, Meridian Avenue. We provide a list of the persons affected:

- Mrs. Suzanne Bourget, size 38, or 40, shoe 6 1/2.
- Lena Bourget, age 18, size 36 shoe 6 1/2.
- Florianne Bourget, age 14, size 16, shoe 7.
- Suzanne Bourget, age 13, size 12, shoe 5.
- Mrs. John Bourget, size 12 shoe 5.

Her ten-month-old baby (a clothesline of diapers went up in flames).

Albert Bourget (size 40) was perhaps the saddest of all for with his brother, Aime, he had given his mother all the electrical equipment for the kitchen from the washing machine to the toaster—a total loss. He also lost his room furnishings and all his clothes except a coat. Aime's were in an upstairs clothes closet and were saved.

Ronald Rhinds (size 40) has only the white hospital suit which he was wearing at work.

Peter Gravel, who was married on Saturday to Ardeth Palmer, was ready to go on his holidays and saved his suitcases. Heroine of the fire is young Suzanne off to school and saw the flames leaping up under the roof of the back porch. Her screams awakened her mother from her rest, "thinking someone had been killed." The child raced upstairs, snatched the baby from the crib under the window over the porch and awakened the sleeping Ronald Rhinds. At once, Mrs. Bourget realized the fire was beyond control and the only important thing was the safety of all, including the young son of Ray Forget whom she was caring for while his mother was in the hospital.

Firemen ran three lines of hose and battled furiously to defeat the blaze but pyrite shingles had created intense heat which broke the windows, ignited the curtains and, fanned by a southeast wind the flames swept through the building.

Insurance only partly covered the furnishings and Mrs. Bourget is presently paying for the home which she had planned to own one day and re-model.

Cause of the fire is as yet unknown.

"Parents Needed for Children" Says C.A.S. Superintendent

A profound realization of the vital role the Children's Aid Society plays in the life of our community was brought home to those attending the Children's Aid Society's annual meeting in Englehart on Wednesday evening when the superintendent, Mrs. N. Fox presented her annual report.

"Many parents", she said, "are just like you and me. We start out this job of parenthood with bright hopes and fond dreams. We love our children and want them the very best we can provide. The more fortunate we settle for less than they hoped for but their children grow to maturity secure in a family relationship that is protective and loving. The less fortunate have met with problems along the way which they could not handle. It may have been illness, unemployment, marital conflict or the complexities of modern living. Alcoholism or immorality or desertion or all three in any combination do not just happen—they are the results of earlier problems that could not be solved and could be avoided if help were available. This is the kind of help the Society is trying to give and during 1953, it reached out to a thousand children in 367 families.

Warning against smugness Mrs. Fox said that in spite of such service, 54 children were so neglected that court action removed them from the custody of their parents.

It has been a strange development in Ontario that thousands of dollars have been available for children's care after the home is broken while supporting services have been dependent on private charity. We are glad to note that new provincial legislation provides for the first time for the financing of certain protective services in Northern Ontario. "The need to belong," Mrs. Fox pointed out, "places the child born to an unmarried mother in a tragic position and his mother also for the tie between them is just as strong whether socially acceptable or not." Listing the services which the Society can and does render to unmarried mothers in the area, Mrs. Fox expressed the belief "that it can never really soften the situation."

During 1953, there were 113 unmarried mothers needing the services of the Society. The fact that they had been able to do all that was humanly possible in each case was due to the Community Chest and to the Society itself.

In every instance, Mrs. Fox said, the best thing was to preserve the fabric of the home; failing that, they must try to establish another family group by arranging for adoption; the least satisfactory was that in which the child became a legal ward of the Society and had to be extensively kept in a foster home—a poor imitation of loving care and security.

During 1953, 28 children were placed for adoption. In a moving appeal, Mrs. Fox pointed out that this was not good enough. "More of the children in our care should be in permanent homes. However, bringing the child and parents together was a tremendous responsibility and the shortage of skilled workers was acute.

The Society was legal guardian during 1953 to 403 children. Of these, 241 have been in boarding care for over a year. Their foster parents are wonderful people but their very nature as temporary parents denies the security the children so need. Still, we need these temporary homes for there are many who for different reasons could not adjust to a real home life.

Real protection must therefore, Mrs. Fox concluded, include adoption services so that as many as can may know the assurance of being loved in a new family setting and at the same time the Society must work toward a closer relationship with the child to whom we are the parent.

Cars Collide On Lake Shore Road

Attempting to back across the road in front of the B.A. Service Station at the corner of Probyn and the Lake Shore Road on Monday at five o'clock, a car driven by Samuel Ramsay of Buckle Township was struck by a northbound car operated by Leo Sneider of Cane. No one was injured and damage to the Sneider car was $150.00.

Canadian Welfare President Speaks at Englehart

"The responsibility assumed for the restoration to positive living of a person who has become out of step with his surrounding environment, must surely be assumed as well for that environment." This was the core of an address by Robert A. Willson, Director of Industrial Relations for the Studebaker Corporation of Canada and President of the Community Council of Canada, speaking to the Children's Aid Society in the Englehart Public School last week.

"The community itself, as we can all recognize," he said, "is continuously spawning new tensions and problems as well as resolving others. As public health administrators so often point out there is not much sense in treating the disease of an individual without also doing everything possible to ensure the continued health of those not now affected. Whether we are clients of a welfare agency or citizens in need of community insurance, it is heartening to us to see the evidence in workshops, conferences and in public and professional attitudes that the skilled attention of our social workers is being brought to bear upon the whole community."

Just as medical science has proven that symptoms, however slight, are symptoms of something wrong with the total person, so the individual reflects on the whole community. Welfare workers must therefore listen to the whole community and plan ahead to keep it healthy."

Mr. Willson suggested that laymen and volunteers be brought into the welfare agency so that they might live rewarding experience in terms of their own needs—the need for recognition
