Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP sets free captive power formerly locked-in by lead deposits

No matter if your car is a current model driven only a few thousand miles or an "old faithful," you can enjoy up to 15% more power. This extra power is in your engine right now but it's captive power, trapped by the steady accumulation of lead deposits

Deposits glow red hot

In the combustion chamber, they glow red hot, igniting the gasoline mixture ahead of time. Power works against you and not for you. This condition is called pre-ignition and is responsible for "wild ping," a most severe kind of knock.

When the deposits build up on your spark plugs, sometimes in as little as 2,000 miles, they cause the plugs to short-circuit. This makes your engine miss at the very time you don't want it to miss-such as when climbing a hill or passing another car.

Captive power set free

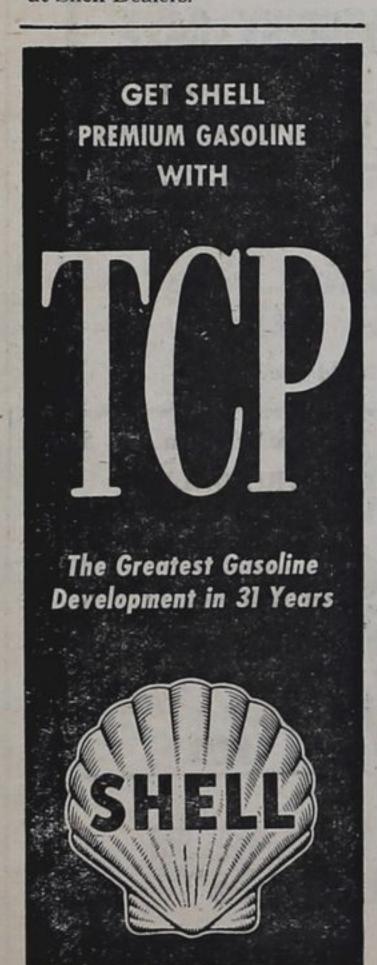

But now there is a way to cancel out the trouble these deposits cause, a way that sets free this captive power. Shell scientists have discovered the unique fuel additive, TCP.

Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, it does two things for you. First, it "fire proofs" the deposits in the combustion chambers so they can't cause pre-ignition. Power works for you and not against you.

Second, it modifies the deposits on your spark plugs so they can fire as they should, fully and on time.

> The greatest gasoline development in 31 years

Called the greatest gasoline development since the introduction of tetraethyl lead, Shell Premium with TCP additive is the biggest sales success in petroleum history. It is available only at Shell Dealers.

We must concede that this was a piece of luck for West Road The last of the seventh saw the score 6-4 for North Cobalt, but with the help of a couple of errors by North Cobalt and five hits by the West Road, they were able to walk away with a 7-6 victory.

This gave Len Fleury his first loss of the season; he now has a 3-1 count. Ed Huard was the winner, his count now stands at 1-2 The hitting department was once again dominated by Ed Ramsay of the West Road with four for four. Ab Fleury connected twice out of three times at bat. Score by innings:
