

You Ought To Know

That to clear up any misunderstanding concerning time and place of the Women's Institute Convention being held here the first of the week...all business sessions are being held in the Haileybury Schools Auditorium...the dinner on Monday evening at the Haileybury Legion Hall begins at 6:00 p.m. with the session that evening in the School at 7:30 p.m.

That the words must have fallen upon chairman of Public Works Bob Poppleton's ears like the gentle rain (or does one refer to rain these days)...Mayor H.A. Day was happy to pass glowing reports from several citizens commending his department for the fine road work accomplished in the south end of town.

That not only have Albert Groom's bright comanche red and white snowstorm petunias set out in front of their home been the bright spot in a rather dull season but the prize winning zinnias in the fall fair came right from their greenhouse to Mrs. Kingsmill's garden.

That New Liskeard has just had a record breaking Fair... something like 15,000 persons passed through the gate which is a good 1,000 over last year and although the actual count is not known the number of entries may well be up to 3,500... and from down this way, we know we speak for everyone when we say that we truly admire the magnificent spirit and hard work that goes into this annual event...the show of flowers from the row on row of fragile gladiolus to the lovely indoor African violet hobby, to the row on row of preserves that put a lot of hard-working housewives to shame, to the great big loaves of home-made bread that wouldn't be there now if we could have gotten into the tightly nailed showcase, the hours of stitches that went into the handwork that could take a first in any show, the rich showing of the fruits of the harvest...bingo and it was anyone's night on amateur night...it is, we think, a tribute to Miss Fortier, educational director of Sanatorium that seven of her students were in the top bracket for handcrafts... Mrs. A. Edwards with a first and five seconds, Mrs. A. Richards, a first, Gordon Mackenzie a first and in the junior class 12-year-old Tommy Matinas a first for a leather billfold and Constance Wallace, aged 14, 2nd... Miss Fortier herself took a first for wooden tray and a nylon or cind corsage.

To our Conservative readers who will have missed the Saturday edition of the Toronto Star, it's former Haileyburians in the big money in the Canada Quiz prize list and as they are subscribers to this paper, we offer congratulations through this column...Gerry Brown, popular member of Haileybury's younger set before taking off for the great wide world, is the winner of $500.00 with which, according to The Star, "he plans to go to Boston on a holiday"...in the group of B winners is his father, Herb Brown, former manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, who had to be content with somewhat less than his son, $100.00.

That one of the nicest thoughts of the week was all neatly packaged up in a cardboard box this week... layer on layer of beautiful hand knit sweaters, socks and baby's clothes for the Children's Aid Society... the work and contribution of the Odds and Ends Knitting Club of Cobalt and the Women's Auxiliary of the New Liskeard United Church... and it isn't a case of that's that either with the Church ladies for they are now busy working on layettes.

That Conservation Officers have issued fair warning that if you have game in your deep-freeze locker, you had better put it into a large bouillon right away... to so keep game after August 31st is illegal.

That the umpire in chief of the Haileybury Fastball League, Bill Thuerck, is off to New York on Monday to have a look at the World Series...and no one in the ball park will know more about what goes on... from 1902 to 1904, Mr. Thuerck played in The Thousand Islands League and then stepped up for a try with the Rochester Internationals... they thought his catching was all right but when they asked for a home run, the decision was "You'd better turn to football"...he and Mrs. Thuerck will visit with their daughters, Mrs. J. Bellin of Buffalo and Miss Audrey Thuerck of Albany.
