With the Civil Service

J. Hetherington
The Social and Welfare Committee of the South Temiskaming Branch under the chairmanship of Joe Fanning held another very enjoyable party for the members in the Legion Room of the Community Building, New Liskeard.

Music was provided by Joe Cielieuski, Jack Caldwell and Roy Hurst under the leadership of Elgin Campsalle was enjoyed by all, whether dancing or not, and there were few who didn't. That music just made their feet tingle and there is only one cure for it.

They called it a lunch, but really it was a young banquet of excellent quality prepared and served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's Anglican Church.

Delighted to see a few members from other than the Department of Highways. There is room and a welcome for all Civil Service members at our affairs whether they are they are of a social or business nature. Members were present from Shining Tree, Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Kapuskasing and Hearst.

Canadian National Exhibition Toy Hospital

This year, the Women's Division will have its own fully-equipped hospital. But only broken toys and dolls will be admitted as patients, and the doctors and nurses in attendance will be wearing the familiar uniforms of the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and other Service Groups.

During Exhibition time, the toys and dolls will be given a patch-up and paint job at the C.N.E. Toy Hospital, and then sent along to homes for incurable children.

If you'd like to bring cheer and happiness to these youngsters, round up all the broken toys and dolls you can and send them to the Women's Division, Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto Ontario.

Remember, every toy or doll you send in will be repaired and painted and eventually find itself under a Christmas Tree in a home for incurable children. So get started early and send in all the broken toys you can. Your contribution will help make this venture a grand success.

Congratulations Extended to Mrs. B. W. Hartley

On Saturday, June 11th, Mrs. B. W. Hartley celebrated her eightieth birthday.

Her son, B. C. Hartley, with his wife and sons, Bill and Don, of Kapuskasing, arrived for the event and spent the week-end.

During the day, many friends and neighbors called with gifts and good wishes for many more happy days.

Ardent Iris Growers Hold International Meeting in Hamilton

The members of the Canadian Iris Society—section of the A.I.S.—were hosts for the first time to the members of the American Iris Society, when they met for the 1955 annual meeting in Hamilton on June 5, 6, and 7. The executives spared neither time nor trouble in making it the event of the year and a credit to the Society and to Canada.

Some two hundred enthusiastic Iris lovers, amateurs, professionals and shutter bugs, from Texas to Haileybury, converged on the Royal Connaught to make it the wonderful meeting it was. Even the weather was ideal.

The three days' program included a tour of the Royal Botanical Gardens at Hamilton, experimental stations at Vineyard, the Oaks garden at Niagara Falls, the lovely gardens of Mrs. Ryland New, Oakville, the Bickle and Bauckham gardens, Toronto, the botanical garden at Glendon Hall, University of Toronto, and the spacious gardens of Mrs. Adams and Dr. Rolph at Weston. While at Niagara they had time off to admire the beauty of the Falls.

The meeting concluded Tuesday night with a dinner at which delegates enjoyed hearing Mr. Harry Randall, president of the British Iris Society and the Society's award of merit was given to Algiers, a beautiful copper-rose seedling, originated by the late Mrs. E. W. Bickle.

What of the Iris themselves? An Iris garden simply must be seen to be believed. We loved the yellows, adored the happy pinks and settled for the blues, and at the close of the meeting, we were proud to place at the top of our list the Canadian-born Great Lakes Canadaway, a tall white, and the exotic Algiers.

Miss Beverley Fleming Honored at Showers

Mrs. A. Grignon, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Robert Fleming were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of the bride-to-be. A number of friends and neighbors gathered to honor Miss Fleming on her forthcoming marriage to Mr. Lawrence Heitola of Cobalt.

The guest of honor was presented with a corsage and was escorted to a chair decorated for the occasion. Miss Fleming received many lovely gifts and replied in a very capable manner. The evening was spent in games after which the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Frank Plaunt and Mrs. Al Hargrave were joint hostesses at a kitchen shower held at the home of Mrs. Hargrave. The evening was spent in cards and games after which the guest of honor opened the many lovely kitchen gifts from a coffee table decorated for the event. Miss Fleming graciously thanked everyone.

A delicious buffet supper was served.

Ontario Mining Act Amendments Reduce Number of Claims

Amendments to the Ontario Mining Act scheduled for May 30th, are expected to have a considerable effect on the industry generally. Most of the changes in the Act have to do with the staking and recording of claims.

Henceforth licenses and renewal licenses may be obtained only by making written application for them on the authorized form. These forms of application are obtainable at the Department of Mines in Toronto or at the recorder's office in any of the mining divisions.

The maximum number of claims which any one licensee may stake in the province in a license year is reduced to 09, but of these, as many as 18 may now be staked in a single division. Heretofore it has been possible to stake nine claims in each of the 13 divisions.

The recording fee will now be $5.00 for each of the first nine claims staked in each division and $10.00 for each additional claim. Hitherto the straight $5.00 fee has been assessed.

As many as 18 claims may now be grouped for assessment work credits provided that they are adjacent to one another and held by the same licensee. A stipulated number of days' work is required in order that the licensee may hold his rights to the claim, but the amendment provides that all of this work may now be concentrated on one or more claims in each group of 18 claims. Previously the maximum number of the claims in a group was set at nine for assessment work purposes.

The price of patenting a claim is now $5.00 per acre in unsurveyed areas and $6.00 in subdivided townships. This just doubles the previous cost of $2.50 and $3.00 respectively.

The licensee, having complied with all the provisions of the Mining Act will now have the option of taking out a lease on the land if he so desires, rather than a patent. Up to the present leases have been given only for land in provincial forest areas.

The number of coupons for free assay of mineral samples has been reduced to a maximum of 18 in any license year. This measure was found necessary because the Provincial Assay Office has been hard pressed to cope with the applications for assay as a result of the recent prospecting activity. Hitherto two coupons have been given for each 40 days of assessment work.

Another amendment puts teeth in the Act insofar as it deals with individuals found guilty of making false statements in applications, work reports or any other document filed in a recorder's office. The penalty upon summary conviction may now be a fine of $500.00, six months imprisonment, or both.
