BUCKE SAYS CEMETERY IS TOWN'S

Bucke Pass Buck Cemetery Town's Since 1914

The Pioneer cemetery doesn't belong to Bucke township, but has been the property of the town of Haileybury since 1914. At least that's Bucke township's story, and they are sticking to it.

Town clerk C. D. Pringle told the council at its meeting this week that Bucke claims that the cemetery was deeded to Haileybury in 1914, and that cleaning up the area should be done by Haileybury.

Haileybury town fathers have decided to pass the buck to the town clerk, and have instructed him to investigate the matter, and try and find out who does own the cemetery.

Dr. W. J. Houghtling Editor Threatened Superintendent Since Red Expose At Sanatorium

Dr. W. J. Houghtling has been appointed as medical superintendent of St. Mary's on the Lake Sanatorium as of August 1. Dr. Houghtling has been acting medical superintendent since July 18. Previously he was Mountain Sanatorium, Hamilton, Ont.

The report issued by Haileybury hospital authorities for the month of August, shows that 11 patients were admitted to the sanatorium, and 12 were discharged. There were 91 patients in the sanatorium at the end of the month.

During August, the hospital admitted 249 patients, and 241 were discharged. There were five deaths, and 25 new births.

Charge and counter charge have reverberated through Cobalt as the Mine-Mill and Smelter Workers Union has fought with the United Steelworkers union for the Coballoy mine.

The mine management threw a wrench in the works Sunday, when it announced that it is closing down, due to a financial reconstruction.

The inter-union fight was sparked when the Haileyburian last week exposed the activities of the Communist led Mine-Mill union in Cobalt. Since then the editor of the Haileyburian has received several telephone calls, all threatening to beat his brains in during the near future.

Thursday evening the Canadian Legion in Cobalt refused to permit the Mine-Mill to use the Canadian Legion hall, and the Mine-Mill held a closed meeting in a Cobalt hotel.

Since the mine closed, the Mine-Mill has threatened to demand a government investigation, and both unions charged anti-union discrimination by the management, which they alleged had fired three men for union activities.

The mine's management said that three men had been fired, but for incompetence, and if the management had wanted to be anti-union, it could have replaced the entire working force with little trouble.

Sportsmen Given Sporting Chance To Buy Back Guns

Northern hunters may soon get the chance of buying confiscated weapons back from the department of lands and forests. The sportsmen who have had their guns confiscated for not so sporting activity, will now be given a sporting chance, according to A. R. Herbert, MPP for Temiskaming.

Mr. Herbert has been advised by the department that a sale of confiscated weapons will be held in a Northern center in the near future.

The local MPP has been complaining for a number of years that holding auction sales of confiscated weapons at North Bay and Sudbury isn't fair, and that the sale should be held in a different center each year.

MONEY NEEDED FOR CEMETERY

The Mount Pleasant Cemetery Board hopes to erect the gates at the entrance to the cemetery in the near future. But a lot depends on raising a few hundred more dollars.

At a meeting Tuesday night, the board agreed that a drive for funds will have to be launched. Last year sufficient money was raised to pay for the new gates, and the cement bases for the posts. Now money is needed for the cement pillars.

Register 100 At Mining School

Haileybury Mining School is filled to capacity. Principal O. E. Walli said last night that 100 students registered yesterday when the school opened. He said that a few more registrations are expected, making a total of about 104 or 106.

Mr. Walli said that all the new students have graduated from Grade 12 or better, and seem to be of a high caliber. He expects to deal with the increase in registration by having two oversize classes. The registration is an increase over last year, when 98 registered.

Raiders Beat Sturgeon Bombers Lose 15-8 Sun.

Tri-Town Raiders snapped out of their losing streak last Sunday, and whipped Sturgeon Falls Bomber 15-8 in a rugged game. Vastly improved tackling was credited by Coach Walter Ackroyd for the improvement in his team's performance.

The Raiders were strengthened considerably by defensive end Dave Gallen, who is credited with one of the most powerful tackling styles in the league. Fred Abraham and Pete Fancy blocked rush after rush, while Grozelle, Jackson and Roger Fleming spear-headed the attack.

In the first quarter, Grozelle set up the first score, passing to Jackson who made a touchdown. Grozelle converted, making it 6-0 for the Raiders in the first.

The Bombers rallied in the second, securing a touchdown and converting to tie it up. But in the third the Raiders started to roll, with Grozelle securing a rouge, followed by another by MacKenzie. Then Grozelle passed to Roger Fleming who made a touchdown, and Grozelle converted, making the score 14 to six for the Raiders.

In the last quarter MacKenzie got another rouge, and the Bombers picked up a couple of points.

The game was marred by a few fights, with O'Grady and Jackson making themselves unpopular with umpires and the Bombers. Worst luck of the game was the injury of Al Conti of Cobalt, who suffered a bruised cartilage, and may be out of the game for the rest of the season.

DONATIONS
Haileybury Rotary Club has pledged $100 to the Mining Museum. Haileybury Chamber of Commerce sent a cheque for $50.

$25,000 Cobalt United Church

New School Stopped At Cobalt

The congregation of Cobalt United Church has unanimously agreed to the construction of a new, $25,000 building to replace the present structure. The present church was constructed in 1909 as the Cobalt Presbyterian Church.

The United Church in Cobalt plan to tear down the present building this month, using volunteer labor. The contractor will start work on the new building within a few weeks. In the meantime services will be held in the public school auditorium, and Sunday school will be held in the Salvation Army Citadel.

Cobalt Public School Board has come to a full stop in its plans for a new, $180,000 public school. The board found at its meeting this week that there has been no reply from Mar-Cobalt Mines, who own the land on which the board hopes to build.

The board wrote to Mar-Cobalt in June, asking if arrangements could be made for the purchase of some two or three acres behind the present high school. Now the board has to find another location.

FIRE AGREEMENT DELAYED

A legal technicality is holding up the agreement between Bucke and Haileybury for fire protection. Bucke council has advised Haileybury that the department of municipal affairs will not approve an agreement whereby Bucke pays five years in advance for fire protection.

However, it is believed that the department may approve a scheme whereby Bucke buys an interest in the new truck, with the interest to expire in five years time.
