Tri-Town Raiders To Carry On - Stronger

Players In Better Shape Now Fans Urged To Support Team

Rumors to the contrary, the Tri-Town Raiders are not going to fold up. They took another beating at North Bay last Sunday, but it wasn't too serious and the team's executive agree that the Raiders are in better shape now than they have been.

Secretary-treasurer George Morissette told the Haileyburian that the team is short of money, but every effort is being made to get it out of the red.

"If the fans would turn out in the same numbers that they did last year, we could get back in the black," he said. "And it would be a lot more encouraging for our players," he added.

The crisis between Coach Ackroyd and his boys seems to have passed. Mr. Ackroyd has agreed to stay on as coach, providing all the Raiders do their part in turning out for practice.

Mr. Morissette said that the Raiders are currently about $800 in the red. Most of the money was spent on equipment. He added that the team will have to launch a drive for funds.

The team's secretary-treasurer said that travelling expenses have been kept at a minimum. "We pay a few dollars to the owner of each car, but nothing near the actual cost," he said. "In fact, you could say that each of our drivers has been making heavy donations."

The team's executive has agreed that despite their early troubles, the Raiders have still a good chance of getting to the top of the league. This Sunday the Raiders will have a chance of getting their revenge when they tackle Sudbury Hardrocks on the Mining school grounds.

Mine-Mill Versus Steel Unions Fight In Cobalt

The union guns boomed in Cobalt Sunday, with the Mine-Mill and Smelters Workers holding a meeting in the afternoon and the United Steel Workers in the evening.

The Mine-Mill, which has been generally labelled as Red-led, featured their singing of O, Canada, and one-minute silence in memory of the old western federation of miners. Apart from this the main purpose of the meeting consisted of a long address by union president, N. Thibeault of Sudbury.

Mr. Thibeault spoke at length on the history of the Western Federation which he said had been succeeded by the Mine-Mill. He said that the Mine-Mill was carrying on the tradition of the Western Federation that it had been given jurisdiction. He blasted at rumors and propaganda, but didn't specify what rumors or propaganda.

In the evening, Leo Behie, area supervisor for the United Steel Workers at Timmins addressed a meeting. He said that at one time he had been the highest paid member of the Mine-Mill staff in Canada, but had led the way out of Mine-Mill when he saw that it was Communist-dominated.

Mr. Behie reviewed the progress made by the Steel Workers Union in the Timmins area and said that in a recent series of votes at mines in Timmins, 82 per cent of the workers voted for steel, and only 18 for Mine-Mill. He said that the Mine-Mill had been publicly branded as Communist-led and dominated and that the workers in Timmins did not want to have anything to do with it. He added that if the men who pioneered the Western Federation of Miners could now see what the Communists had done to it they would be turning in their graves.

Local union organizer Henry Gareau revealed that the fate of workers at the Coballoy Mine may be decided at Timmins Thursday before the Ontario Labor Relations Board. He said the Steel Workers had signed up some 65 per cent of the workers and charged that many of the men who signed Mine-Mill cards were under the impression that they were signing Steel cards. He added that Steel has applied for certification at the Silver Crater mine and this will also be settled Thursday.

Former Head of Doherty Road- House Dies in Hospital

We learned at press time this morning of the death of W. J. Dobbins well known resident of Haileybury. Mr. Dobbins has been in failing health for some months and his death was not unexpected.

He was connected with the mining industry in this area for a number of years and in recent years was head of Doherty Road-house and Co. here.

Camsell Re-elected To N.O.H.A. Miller Gets New Title

Charles Camsell of Haileybury was re-elected to the executive of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association at North Bay Saturday. One of the few changes made at the meeting was that Lorne Miller of Noranda will in future be known as secretary-manager and treasurer instead of secretary-treasurer.

This was one of the few changes made Saturday afternoon when officials completed the regular business at the annual NOHA meeting in three hours.

The motion was passed that the secretary-treasurer be an appointed officer of the association instead of an elected officer. The appointment will be made by the NOHA executive immediately following the annual meeting. The secretary-treasurer will have no vote and will be known as the secretary-manager and treasurer.

Conveners Jim Aspin of North Bay and Red Maltby of Copper Cliff reviewed the situation whereby boys going to school who do not play NOSSA hockey are barred from the rest of the student sports program.

Leo Troy, athletic director at NBCI & VS, assailed the pro clubs, who were responsible for luring youngsters to pro training camps in the midst of important playoffs. He was referring to the rhubarb that took place last season when several members of his NBCI & VS Trojans left for try-outs with the Hamilton Cubs, thus missing an important playoff. The players were then suspended for their actions.

EDUCATION FIRST

Troy pointed out that the schools were interested in the education of a boy first and hockey secondary.

"This conflict between NOHA hockey forces our school to sever our connections with the NOHA for the coming year," remarked Troy.

Frank Buckland, president of the OHA, explained the OHA junior draft system and pointed out that the OHA were interested in making the draft a sound business deal to help hockey.

He proposed that the NOHA go along with the OHA on the draft and said he was positive something could be worked out to the mutual satisfaction of all.

The plight of the Temiskaming Royals, an intermediate "A" team with a good artificial ice arena but without a league to play in, was outlined by Temiskaming manager Joe Ryan. He was informed by Jim Aspin, North Bay convener, that the NOHA is working on a system in the hopes of promoting a new league for teams in this district.

The entire NOHA executive of 1954-55 was returned to office by acclamation. They were: C. G. Brown (Timmins), past president; Carl Palangio (Blind River), president; Jack Wild (Swastika), vice-president; Lorne Miller (Noranda), secretary-treasurer; George Anderson (Kapusking), Red Maltby (Copper Cliff), C. J. Murphy (Sault Ste. Marie), W. J. McTaggart (Noranda), Jim Aspin (North Bay), Doug Preston (Kirkland Lake), Charlie Camsell (Haileybury) and Red Venturi (Blind River).

It was decided that second vice-president would be added to the NOHA executive starting in the 1956-57 season.

Paul Cyr Elected To Bucke Council

Paul Cyr, a retired carpenter and a resident of North Cobalt for many years, was elected by acclamation Monday to the Bucke township council.

A nomination meeting was held on Monday to elect a councillor to replace the late Raymond St. Cyr who died September 11. Mr. Cyr was nominated by Adolph Belanger, and seconded by Lloyd Palmer.

HOUSING BOOM

House building in Canada continues at a rapid-fire pace, reports The Financial Post. New housing units started in July rise 8% from July 1954 and are up 21% in the first seven months of the year. Completions climb 15% in July and 24% on year to date. Still being built were 15% more houses at the end of the month than a year earlier.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

Week ending Sept. 28th, 1955

STILL GROWING

We're still a growing nation, says The Financial Post. Population rose 198,000 in the first half of 1955 to 15,637,000. This increase is at an annual rate of 2.6%, a little below annual growth rate of 2.7% in the first half of 1954.

Maille Brothers Kill Five Bears Hunting Wolves --Killed Bruins

Two Moore's Cove brothers wiped out an entire family of bruins early Sunday morning in Kerns township. The men were quietly until we got within ten menacing their sheep when they came upon the bear family.

Jack Maille and his brother Ray, brought the news of their hunting prowess back to the Tri-Towns; and, as proof, the carcasses of four of the five bears. The father bruin, a heavy beast estimated to weigh some 450 pounds, was believed mortally wounded. It limped into dense brush and wasn't recovered.

"We are going back out to find him," Jack Maille said. "We are sure he is dead, but the brush was too thick for us to bother trailing him then."

The Kerns wolf menace had the brothers out with powerful rifles—a .300 savage and a .30-30. They first glimpsed the bruins at the far side of a grain field at their brother Paul Maille's farm.

"We sneaked up on them very quietly until we got within shooting range," Ray Maille stated. The men explained they first shot a cub, then the mother, then the father and finally the two remaining cubs. The huge she-bear tips the scales at 300 lbs.

The Maille brothers feel they were "pretty lucky to get them all before they could escape." Most hunters feel satisfied if they return to town with a single bear strapped across the car.

And the wolves? No luck. "There was a wolf within a mile of where we shot the bears," they say. "The menace was recently revived when Art Ship, a Kerns farmer, lost five sheep in a few days. He has lost a total of 15 since spring."

No wolf tracks have been observed.
