So Art Cooke is to be our next mayor. We wish him luck, he'll probably need it. And it seems that Mr. Day, who wouldn't run again "short of a catastrophe," didn't consider Mr. Cooke a sufficiently big catastrophe.

Mr. Cooke has had a great deal of experience, and can be expected to do a good job. While he was mayor there were a number of innovations, including provincial police, dollar lots, and the health unit.

Mr. Day deserves a good deal of gratitude for doing a hard job well. It can be said bluntly that as often as not, he did not have the support of the support of the council.

He belongs to the old fashioned school of thought, that believes the law should be observed and enforced, or else the law should be changed. He was in favor of spending money on improvements and saw no reason why Haileybury should not progress just as fast as other communities.

We regret that no one saw fit to oppose Mr. Cooke, not that we are against him, but elections are healthy things as a rule. Hubert Doran has been doing an outstanding job on the school board, and perhaps he can be persuaded to enter the municipal field. Gordon Davies has done a good job on the separate school board, and he too would make good council material.

Although generally in favor of a tight-fisted policy, Dan Millar has an exceptionally keen brain, and would make a strong mayor.

It is perhaps unfortunate that at the chamber of commerce meeting there were so many suggestions for improving the town, but so few willing to take time for the town's most important body.

Generally speaking, school boards should be the training ground for councillors. Haileybury is blessed with outstanding school boards, but few of the members seem willing to take the plunge into the council swim.

A mayor cannot rule. He is at the mercy of the council, but he can provide leadership. We hope that Mr. Cooke will lead, and we hope that Mr. Day will be around for many a long year. Good luck Art. Thank you, Mr. Day.

Canadian Legion News
BY BOB FLEMING

First, a reminder of our next meeting on December 21st. All members are asked to be sure to attend this meeting. The Legion is holding its annual Stag for funds for the Children's Xmas Party, on the 19th of December. Volunteers are needed for this party so if you have the time free we will appreciate an offer of assistance from you.

The posters for the stag are up and tickets are available for the wonderful drawing of a tailored top-coat for man or woman. That I wouldn't mind winning myself. In the coming year we will have a busy time for the branch, so all are going to be on working committees for membership, entertainment and so on to see that we are not lagging behind other branches. When we hold the Spring Convention we want the Legion Branch to be proud of and the only way this can be done is by co-operation of all members to get more members, more funds and accomplish more than has been done in the past. We want activity of a welfare branch and a social one too. Veterans always use to say that the reason that they never came out was that there wasn't anything to attract them. We are changing that as fast as possible but we need more ideas and more help than is being offered up to now. You can't want everything and then let somebody else do it all for you before you will come out. If you figure the branch needs something get out and say so if it is popularly considered then help to get it.

Our hockey draws are making a showing for themselves but they could be better with a little more push from a few vets to get a larger sale. They can show us a very good profit if handled well and we need more help to get the handling necessary. We have had two winners not counting last week which I haven't heard about yet. The more buyers the more interests and to get more buyers we need more sales. To get those sales we need sellers that are trying. If you want to help out in this corner let me know and I will accommodate you "toute suite."

So now remember that we need your help and if you can offer it rest assured that it will be appreciated.
