

Civil Service News

By Jack Hetherington
R. R. No. 3 New Liskeard
The initial meeting for 1957 of the South Temiskaming Branch of The Civil Service Association of Ontario was held in New Liskeard on Friday, January 11th. Our new President Mr. Michael Marks, was in the chair and all other members of the staff and executive were on hand but one.

Mr. Marks welcomed the new members and expressed his belief that 1957 would prove to be a very successful year both for the Branch and for the Association as a whole. The social angle of our Branch was rather neglected last year. Ray Fisher had made a fair start on it but he was transferred to Cochrane and no one else did very much about it.

The President gave his views on the importance of a vigorous social committee and stressed that the unity of the Branch would be reflected in their efforts. The other committees are important but the cohesion of all Departments in the Civil Service depends to a marked extent on the efforts of 'Social'. Of course it goes without saying that regardless of how good a committee we have, their efforts are of no avail without the co-operation of all members of the Service regardless of their Department or affiliations.

Looking at the Association as a whole, it has had considerable success during 1956 in its efforts to improve the lot of all who are employed by the Province of Ontario. To conduct its affairs to best advantage, the Association requires the full co-operation of all employees and these are requested to make certain that they become members if they are eligible to do so whether approached by a canvasser or not. Only by becoming a member does one receive The Trillium, our own magazine, and find out what the Association is doing.

In the various committees, the first named is the Chairman who has the authority to select any additional help required. The President, Mr. Marks, is of course automatically a member of all committees.

Health and Welfare — Joe Fanning; Social — Bill Acton, Lenore Edwards, Les Gibbens, and Joe Fanning; Membership — J. C. Pacey and Dave Bowen. Publicity — J. Hetherington.
