THE LETTER BOX

377 Lauder Ave.
 Toronto 10.

To The Editor,
 The Haileyburian,
 Dear Sir:—

I well remember the view in your issue of October 3rd along with my wife and family were among the lucky.

According to Greek and Roman Mythology of the three goddesses who control the destiny of life. Lachesis did not determine the length, so as to be cut off. Clotho keeps spinning the threads of our lives.

My family was one of those who took refuge on the Lake shore at what was known then as the late Mr. G. T. Hamilton's Box Factory. On that day the wind was from the West driving the fire right to the Lake. When it did reach the Lake Clopho intruded. The wind turned around and blew directly from the east. We could then leave the lake shore and get on higher ground. Those of us who had blankets made a leivouage and crawled in.

Here let me say the temperature was 80 in the shade at 2 a.m., October 5th we had two inches of snow this was the supreme test for the men and women of the north. They met the challenge they were the unsung heroes of that day as Mrs. Leishman pointed out there was a humorous side to this catastrophe many will remember Jim McTavish the great horseman of the north he then lived on Russell Street and intended to save his piano got it out on the street but was unable to load it on his wagon.

Next morning it was found just a little scorched, now this is where the humour comes in a group of teenage boys found the piano and could play it. What would you say would be appropriate song on such an occasion. No you are wrong, you could never guess well the tune was "Where do we go from here boys". Where could we go? nowhere, the the rails were twisted like snakes. telephone and telegraph were out and money was useless.

I could go on in more detail indefinitely I know your space will not permit.

One who will never forget.
 James MacFarlane.

this cause, and he was none other than Gilles Lefebvre who was then requested to address the audience.

Mr. Lefebvre congratulated the delegates on their devotion of the cause. He said he realized the problems of the Northern Ontario centres were great, especially as it was difficult for the members to attend the national reunions because of distances.

He reminded the delegates of the greatness of the movement which has over forty thousand members in four Provinces. The fifth Province Nova Scotia will soon have a center. The original budget of the Canadian J. M. was $6000; it is now $160,000.

The exchange of artists makes it possible for Canadian artists to be heard in other countries.

The music Camp at Oxford P.Q., has been copied in Germany, France, Belgium and Spain owing to Canadian initiative. The record club and the Journal Musical, are both helped by the French organizations. The Journal Musical covers all the arts and is the only one of its kind in Canada. He stressed the fact that the "Centre" should not be content with the four concerts in a year. It should be active and develop a love of music among the local youth by organizing groups that will meet to listen to recorded music. These groups should be small preferably and should listen to music they choose themselves. Organization of choirs and concerts by local artists should be sponsored. Jeunesses Musicales should be active twelve months of the year.

Father Landriault tendered thanks to the speaker and invited the delegates to nominate a Chairman for the meeting. Mr. Andre Beauparlant of Sudbury accepted the nomination while Mrs. O. Gravel was chosen as secretary.

The problems inherent to the Northern Ontario J. M. were discussed, especially that of bilingualism and the organization of groups of record music lovers. young people should not be discouraged by criticism of their choice of records, experience is the greatest teacher. As to commentaries J. M. is not ready to send bilingual commentaries. Some delegates claimed that many members were not in favour of commentaries. To this Mr. Lefebvre answered that the young people did not object only older people did. As Jeunesses Musicales was founded to educate the young people it would have to continue as in the past if it was to keep its distinctive character.

To those who showed discouragement at the lack of response, he said we should face the fact that the work will bear fruit eventually and we should not be too impatient.

Mr. J. L. Duchesneaux, Inspector of Timmins Separate Schools, was appointed to request C.F.C.L. TV. to put on the series of thirteen performances on the history of music as well as the concerts for young people put on by C.B.C. Radio and Television.

To close the reunion a delicious dinner was served to the guests. These were from Sudbury, Sturgeon Falls, North Bay, Kirkland Lake and Timmins.

Mr. G. Lefebvre will return for the organization of the campaign in October. The programs for the season will then be published.
