

ACROSS the KITCHEN TABLE
By Mrs. Mac.

Across the Kitchen Table
Snow! Snow!! Beautiful Snow!!! The weather in this district is very hard to get along with. Last week I was bragging about strawberries and roses and shortly after we went to press on Thursday, there was a snow drift across the office door that two men couldn't shake hands over. Oh, well, by the time this is in print, the skies will probably be blue again, the mud will all be dried up and everything will be lovely. Don't we always get Indian summer after the first snowfall?

Last Thursday morning when I was coming to work, a car was in the ditch just this side of Liskeard. The ditch was not very deep but the car was flat on its top with the wheels in the air. Farther along the road we saw several places where cars had been off the road. And from noon on, cars were skidding all over the street in front of the office, tow trucks were doing a rousing business, and in spots, the air was several different shades of blue. A day of this sort is what really makes one appreciate "Old Dobbin and the one-horse shay."

An article by Pete McGillen in the Toronto Telegram on "Moving the stove," brought nostalgic memories of my early days when the good old fashion-

W. G. B. Reynolds, O. B. E., left, who has been appointed Commissioner of Safety, heading the Highway Safety Branch of the Ontario Department of Transport, is congratulated by Transport Minister James N. Allen, who announced the appointment. Mr. Reynolds has left his position as general manager of the Ontario Safety League to take up his new duties on November 1.

WITH THE CIVIL SERVICE

ed wood stove was moved out of the "summer" kitchen when the warm weather came and back into the house again when the air became nippy in the fall. It always gave me such a nice feeling of space enough to move around in, when the stove went out, but the first evening after it was moved in again gave us such a feeling of coziness and warmth that we felt old King Winter could blow his hardest and we wouldn't care. But to this day, I think the only reason my husband puts up with the electric stove is because it doesn't need to be moved each spring and fall.

A general meeting of the South Temiskaming Branch C.S.-A.O. was held in the Council Chambers of the Community Hall, New Liskeard, on Friday, October 25th. President M. Marks, Probation Officer for Temiskaming, was in charge. It is possible that many members of the Association as well as those who, though employed by the province have never joined up, have a rather vague idea of what has been done for them by the Association from its President - District Directors down to the Branch officers and executive. Space does not permit the listing of all improvements and financial gains but it will suffice to say that were it not for the continuing efforts of the Association your conditions of employment would now be on a par with that of 1950.

The Annual Meeting of the Association as a whole is held each year in November. During the year the various Branches submit resolutions on problems which they wish to have discussed and voted upon at the Annual. The Resolutions committee complies these and forwards a copy of all resolutions made to each Branch.

The Branch studies these and calls a general meeting to present them to the members and thus get their opinion on how they wish their delegate to vote when called upon to do so. That, in brief, was the purpose of the meeting on October, 25th. If you wish to have any voice in the operation of your Branch and thus in the Association, attend all general meetings when called upon to do so. South Temiskaming will be represented at the Annual by Mrs. Jean Dunn, Dave Bowen and Joe Fanning. I wish to make clear that no member receives any pay for services rendered. Expenses are paid those who attend at District or Annual meetings.

One of the results of the Annual a year ago was the formation of Amco (Annual Meeting Committee on Organization). The purpose of Amco was to make a complete study of the Association. Were any amendments or additions necessary to the constitutions? With the Association would it be necessary to hire personnel to take care of increased business? They studied the financial requirements and computed what increase in dues might be needed. They discussed the power and authority of the board of Directors. Another question was that of leadership and training in Association affairs. This will give you a broad outline of Amco.

On Sunday, October 27th, a District meeting was held at Cochrane. All Branches, Hearst, Kapuskasing, Cochrane, Montteith, Timmins, Matheson, Kirkland Lake and South Temiskaming were represented. Joe Fanning and Jack Hetherington were present from the latter.

The main purpose of this meeting was to discuss the proposals made by Amco and by the decision reached advice our District President, Ambrose Jackel, member's fees remitted to the Branches and special aid to small Branches to finance the expenses of an observer to the Annual.

At the close of the meeting Jack Hetherington acted as chairman for the election of President. This proved to be a mere formality as Mr. Jackel [illegible] saw for the position for the ensuing year.

The Wood Duck, brightest colored duck found in Canada nests in holly trees and stumps. Even ornithologists are unsure how the young birds, before they can fly, get out of the high nests and down to the ponds and streams where they are reared.

Our cars and roads have been improved. Now let's improve our driving.

Three demonstrators, and one brand new 1957 Meteor going at drastically reduced prices.

It's probably Nikita's fault, but business is going to the dogs. At Jack Mathews we have decided to slash prices so low that it would take a groundhog to beat them. While the Russian pooch is flying high, here's your chance for real stratospheric values and prices that are breaking our hearts.
