NEWS FROM THE EVELYN SHOPPE

It's an era of new brilliance for fashions! In a whirl of pleats, your classic standby, in soft cashmere with magnificently pleated skirt and softly relaxed top in that marvelous new shade of Petrol, comes in size eighteen and a half.

A honey of a sleeveless sheath dress in wool, so versatile as it has a smart bolero, bloused at the waist and finished with a small fur collar, which makes it perfect for afternoon or evening wear, in the new deep sapphire tone. This would be stunning with Kayser's new "hint of a tint" sheer hose in blue.

Dramatic is the word for an oyster shade dress in wool jersey, fully lined. This has a beautifully draped neckline, cut low out on the shoulder, with a spray of beading in black jet and pearls which again appears on the Harem-draped skirt (This should make even the most uninterested male sit up and take notice.)

For the sophisticated matron, a black sheath dress cut low in back, with long fitted sleeves, has discs of brilliants threaded on a cord, outlining the neckline. The clearly etched lines of this dress are most flattering.

A beguilingly simple dress in red chiffon has a draped and folded bodice, square neckline and voluminous skirt with a six inch hem. This dress would introduce a note of gaiety for that "very special" occasion.

A handful of velvet, Corde or black peau de soie forms the soft pouch or envelope style of your cocktail or afternoon bag. You may have them perfectly plain or with gold brilliant studded frames, in black or silver brocade or jet with pearls. Many of these bags are beautifully lined and fitted, with the unmistakable label of "Made in France."

New for after five wear, gloves in beaded fabrics "the long and short of it" in the embroidered theme, the shortie with scalloped beading at the wrist, the eight button glove with sophisticated beading on back. There are also plain shirred effects.

There is an air of excitement in the Evelyn Shoppe these days as all the beautiful merchandise is being unpacked. A shipment of hand crocheted hats, made in Italy, has just arrived. These smart casuals are perfect for the winter days ahead.

Only 34 more shopping days till Christmas!! Never mind, we will again have our table of special values taken from broken lines and sizes, in plenty of time for Christmas shopping.
