

Across the Kitchen Table

By Mrs. Mac.

Isn't it amazing, the lift you get when someone gives you a pat on the back? The day may be just crawling along, you feel that nothing you do is any good and you can't raise a single idea for anything original to write about, and then suddenly someone comes in and gives a bit of praise for what you have done and ZOWIE, you could lick your weight in grizzly bears.

This happened to us in the office here on Friday, which is a sort of down in the dumps day anyway, when we are cleaning up loose ends and wondering whaton earth we are going to put in next week's paper and hoping most earnestly that someone will phone in a bit of exciting news. I seem to be wandering all over the place without saying anything, but what brought all this on was the fact that Mr. Holmes came in Friday afternoon to pay a bill. (this in its self always makes us feel better.) but when he complimented both Mr. Hunt and myself on our columns, and said he always reads them first, we went around beaming for the rest of the day.

Quite frequently, and especially in a newspaper office, the dictionary is consulted for the meaning of certain words, but in chatting with Mr. Holmes, I learned a new word that I don't believe is in the dictionary and also some definitions that I don't believe are there either, although I definitely think they should be.

Mr. Holmes claims that an optimist say "it can be done," a pessimist says "it can't be done," but a "peptomist" goes in and does it. Wouldn't it be nice if there were more "Peptomists" in the world!

Vancouver actor Doug Haskin plays the part of Don Grey, detective, in the Vancouver production of "Marine Investigator" heard weekly over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC. His tales of adventure originate on the Vancouver Waterfront but often take him on long, exciting voyages before they are finally solved.

St. Mary's Hospital 13 26 Well, Comrades, another week
 Jolly Seven 13 25 has passed and the first thing Hospital Minous 13 22 this writer has to do, is to Teenagers 13 19 apologize for the blooper he High Single 358 pulled in last weeks column ad-Jeannine Riley 778 vising the Comrades that our High Triple 211 Saturday night socials would be Lena Nadeau in full swing on the evening of High Average 184 January 25th, however, he has Jo Cunningham 211 now received confirmation from reliable sources that our socials will definitely commence next Saturday Feb. 8th, so Comrades
 211 keep this date open, talk it up
 204 and we'll meet at the Legion.
 201 Another point of interest and 198 very welcome news, is that 190 Cormade Mitch Deraiche has 186 consented to once more accept 185 that ever growing and import-184 ant role of Hall Convener, with-184 out exception, Mitch, all t he 181 Comrades join the writer in saying, thank you.
 Thats all for this time Comrades, see you at the Social.
 Fraternally,
 Sid.
