

NOTES FROM PETERS

Arnold Peters, CCF Candidate in Timiskaming, standing for re-election in the forth coming Federal election urged all the voters in this riding to carefully check the voters list to make sure that they have not been missed.

"The polls will be open this year from 8.00 a.m., to 6.00 p.m. We were on Daylight saving time last June. I cannot stress too much that the polls will close at 6.00 p.m. this time. The Election Act also requires every employee to provide three consecutive hours without loss of pay. Here is an example. If you finish work at 5 p.m., normally on March 31st, your employer is required to let you away at 3.00 p.m., without loss of pay so that you have plenty of time in which to vote.

Many of your friends may think the polls will be open till 7.00 p.m. You make sure that they are told that they close at six p.m." said Mr. Peters.

Speaking at Latchford, Town Hall, Monday night, Mr. Peters said that "the present unemployment situation in Canada is a national disgrace and a terrible waste of human and material resources."

"What a fuss is made in the press and over the air when a few men are out on strike about the lost man hours, lost production and wages, but here we have close to a million Canadians out of work, with the terrific social and material costs, but no headlines," said Mr. Peters.

"While in the House of Commons with my colleagues, I pressed for immediate action last Fall on the unemployment crisis. Nothing was done by the Conservative government then, and nothing has been done yet, months later. All we see is one old party blaming the other while neither has the answer."

"We need schools, hospitals, low cost homes, roads, bridges, dams and so on. We should be getting on with the job of building them now. This will not only take up the slack of unemployed but will provide the schools and hospitals so badly needed to meet the educational and health crisis," he continued. "We are told that we cannot have a national health insurance plan because we have not the hospital space. What's wrong with starting to make room now for future patients?" asked Mr. Peters.

As your representative, I fought for action on this unemployment problem and after March 31st, if you continue to place your confidence in me, I will continue to press to see that everyone willing to work gets that opportunity," continued Mr. Peters.

"The common sense planning that we all use in our every day life, the old parties refuse or are afraid to apply to our national life. This is why we see all the stupid waste of our greater asset, our human resources," concluded Mr. Peters.

VALENTINE APRONS FOR W.I. ROLL CALL

Eleven members and two visitors were present for the February meeting of the Haileybury Women's Institute in the Legion Hall, Thursday, February 13.

The roll call was answered by an exchange of Valentine aprons. The secretary was instructed to send for bags for the penny round-up. Material to be made into aprons for the spring bazaar was given out, and the roll call for the next meeting will be a donation for the basket of groceries that will be used for a door prize at the bazaar.

An invitation is being sent to Mrs. J. H. McDonald of New Liskeard to attend the March meeting to give a report of the National Conference held in Ottawa in November.

Lunch was served by Mrs. C. E. Miller, Mrs. W. Gibson, Mrs. S. Horncastle, Mrs. R. Campbell and Mrs. R. McNaught.

THE BIBLE TODAY

Today there are more than 200 evangelical churches in South Viet-Nam, with an active membership of 40,000, it is reported by the secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Indo-China, the Rev. H. Curwen-Smith of Montreal.

The four gospels and the Book of Acts have been printed in three major tribal languages spoken in the hills, Radee, Koho, and Jorai. The entire New Testament is ready for the press in Radee. The gospel of St. Mark has also been published in Chru and Bahnar, two other of the 60 dialects spoken in South Viet Nam.

In addition to this translation activity the British and Foreign Bible Society employs six full-time colporteurs, who sell the Scriptures from door to door in that area.

FOR THE COOKBOOK

From Canada's Kitchen's a "honey" of an idea for snack time! Whip up a batch of feather-fluffy, pleasantly flavoured honey butter to serve with bread, muffins, rolls and tea biscuits. Use it, too, in dainty sandwiches and, for a really pretty rolled sandwich, mix the honey butter with a few chopped raisins or dates.

Honey Butter (Using White Crystallized Honey)

1/2 cup butter
1/4 to 1 cup honey
Cream the butter. Gradually stir in the honey.

Honey Butter (Using Liquid Honey)

1/2 cup butter
1/2 to 3/4 cup honey
Cream the butter. Gradually stir in the honey. When using the larger amount of honey, chill well before using or it may be too thin for spreading.

Cinnamon Honey Butter

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup crystallized honey
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Cream the butter, add salt and cinnamon and blend well. Gradually stir in the honey.

Note: Store honey butter in covered container in refrigerator.

HONEY

Since honey is at its best when used just as it comes from the container, the Consumer Section of the Canada Department of Agriculture recommend that you:

Use honey for breakfast to drizzle over grapefruit halves; and use it as a spread on hot toast, biscuits, muffins and grilled French toast.

Use honey for dinner as a glaze for ham steak, baked spare ribs, chicken pieces, and parboiled parsnip or turnip slices use it in dressings for fruit salads; and drizzle it over ice cream pumpkin pie and puddings.

Use honey for supper on pancakes or waffles; use it to sweeten fruit cup; and use it in the icing for a cake.

Use honey for snacks with rolls or coffee cake; use it in sweet sandwiches; and use it to sweeten milk and fruit drinks.

A Texan oilman visiting in Pittsburg made a phone call and screamed his head off when the operator told him the charge was 60 cents.

"What!" he roared. "Back in Odessa, Texas, I could talk to hell and back for 60 cents!"

"Maybe so", replied the operator curtly. "But from Odessa that would be a local call."

Too often when money talks all it says is "good-bye."

Today's Hidden Bargains

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics recently published some figures showing that the cost of living has climbed 56 per cent during the last ten years. Food prices have gone up even further - to buy a bag of groceries that sold for $10.00 in 1947 now costs $16.70.

But lucky for consumers, the price increase on some goods has lagged behind in this post-war cost spiral and these few products have suddenly become today's hidden bargains. The price of drugs and prescriptions, for example, according to government figures, has climbed only 31 per cent since 1947 - a small increase when compared to the 56 per cent hike in the total cost of living.

Yet the price doesn't tell the whole story. The real reason why today's drugs are the biggest saving in history is that they save lives besides money. In the past ten years, the U.S. Public Health Service estimates that drugs such as antibiotics, have prevented more than a million persons from dying of pneumonia, and as a result, the disease - the second major killer in 1930 - has now fallen to seventh place on the nation's death list.

Drugs have cut the cost of treating pneumonia, too. Twenty years ago, the disease meant weeks of hospital expenses and death for one out of every four patients. Today almost all of these same cases can be treated in the home or even in the doctor's office, and the disease is knocked out within three days to a week.

Although they may cost more, modern medicines can do what 1930 drugs could never do - cure disease and, in many cases, prevent the expense of hospital care. Important as these facts are, statisticians never use them in compiling their cost of living surveys.

Bachelor: A man who would rather have a woman on his mind than on his neck. Money may talk but today's dollar doesn't have cent enough to say very much.
