TORONTO — A new type of subway construction, eliminating the crash of pile-drivers and costly steel shoring, will be tested in Toronto.

The Italian-developed method is to force a liquid clay into excavations to keep the ground open until cement can be poured. When the cement hardens, the solution is withdrawn.

PAHOKEE, Fla. — A farmhand scaring blackbirds from a cornfield with powerful firecrackers was killed here, when a box of "giant salutes" exploded under his arm. Sparks from Lawson Wilkes' pipe apparently blew into the box, setting off the explosives.

OTTAWA — Stefan Sorokin, 56-year-old spiritual leader of British Columbia's Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, apparently has abandoned attempts to return to Canada from Uruguay.

HAVANA — Five persons were killed and 11 injured in the town of Banos when a loud speaker car smashed into a crowd during an Easter week-end procession.

ST. JOHN'S Nfld. — Premier Smallwood offered Saturday to resign political office if Prime Minister Diefenbaker would give Newfoundland a "fair deal".

A man carrying a pay telephone along Spadina Cres., Toronto, late Saturday night was arrested by Constables John Irwin and John Getty.

AMHERSBURG — A 49-year-old cripple was slugged Saturday night by a masked bandit who apparently lost his nerve and fled without stealing anything.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. — George Huffman said a man walked into his store, took two fishing reels worth $23.90 from the counter and walked out with them.

But a hook on one of the reels caught on the counter and began to reel out line. Huffman grabbed the end and began following the line, winding it up as he went.

Police said they found Huffman, holding the line, two blocks from his store, confronting Kyle Williams, who allegedly had the reels in his pockets. Williams was charged with larceny.

TORONTO — A tour guide at the legislative buildings asked her student charges Friday "who is prime minister of Ontario" and a small voice from the rear piped up: "John Wintermeyer."

The guide corrected the small boy, told him that Leslie Frost, head of the Progressive Conservative party, was prime minister. Mr. Wintermeyer was leader of the Liberal opposition.

"How many Conservatives are there in the House," the guide asked.

"Too many", piped up the same small voice.

It belonged to John Wintermeyer Jr., aged six.

Some of the 300 inhabitants of Chedzoy, Somerset, are muttering angrily because the rector, Rev. M. B. Bazell, will persist in taking his dog, Pet, to church with him. Interferes with the worship, they say.

One parishioner, Mrs. G. Baker, said that Pet had interrupted the christening of her latest grandchild. "We were gathered round the font when the dog came along," she said.

There must have been more to it than that, but that's the extent of the news reports quotation from Mrs. Baker.

Not a single human being in Ontario was found to have rabies by health authorities in the past year, Health Minister Dymond said yesterday.

But he added that at least 1,400 persons had been exposed to rabid animals because the health department administered that many doses of anti-rabies serum.

TEMISKAMING, Que. — A regular visitor to school yards at Temiskaming since early this year, the friendly cow moose has been found dead in the woods at the edge of town by Quebec game warden, Roger Labrosse. Mr. Labrosse said the animal died of indigestion, probably from an overdose of hay which had been placed in the woods by residents of the area who wished to help Minnie through a hard winter.

A preliminary plan has been drawn up for the proposed town of Moosonee which is expected to develop with the establishment of a seaport announced recently by Premier Leslie M. Frost. Chairman C. E. Reynolds of the Ontario Northern Transportation Commission said the plan is for a town of 4,000 to 5,000 people and would cost $1,500,000. The plan provides for circular residential streets, commercial, industrial and educational facilities, a wide green walk and park and garden areas, as well as shipping warehouses near the docks.

COOKSVILLE—Three nine-year-old boys bent on waging war on wild Indians in Western Canada were charged with breaking and entering by Toronto Township police. Police said the boys were caught in a Lorne Park service station last night. They told police they hoped to get enough money from the service station to go West where they wanted to battle the wild Indians they had seen on a television program.

Doug Daurie, the loquacious little sportsman who sells sports equipment as a means of meeting his income tax payments, has a show window fronting onto the main lobby on the east side of Maple Leaf Gardens. Yesterday he changed his display . . . simple but expressive. Centre, and only, piece of furniture is a small table with a blue cover. On the table is a printed card reading: "Reserved for the Stanley Cup."

NORTH ATLEY, Que. — A cow owned by Stanley Moran turned on the light switch in the barn by striking the switch with its tongue as the farmer entered to start his milking chores.

Infant Baptism At Pentecostal

A capacity crowd at the Haileybury Pentecostal Church, in the eleven a.m. service on Easter Sunday, witnessed the dedication of David William Harman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harman of New Liskeard. Also present for the occasion were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harman and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Rodgers of Englehart, as well as his great-grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Bates of New Liskeard.

The dedication was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Churchill.

During the service special song numbers were rendered by a quartet composed of Wayne Sands, Fred Douglass, Stephen Harman and Eddie Campbell and a solo was sung by Jim Harman.

Speaker at both the morning and evening services was Rev. W. H. Moody of Hamilton, who is Sunday School director for the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

Mr. Moody conducted a Sunday School workers training course during the past week in the Haileybury Church.
