Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson have returned from a month's holiday in Florida. Before flying to Tampa, they attended the Prospectors and Developers Convention in Toronto, going then by plane to Florida. They spent three weeks at Longboat Key, having wonderful weather all the time with the exception of two or three rainy days. The temperature of the water averaged seventy-one degrees.

There are many places of interest at Longboat Key and Sarasota, including the Ringland Circus and the circus museum, where antiquated articles of entertainment were displayed. Another museum housed over one hundred autos, dating back to the first ones manufactured. Other buildings are filled with antiques of every description. The area is a well-known art centre, stressing painting, ceramics, lapidary and shell work. The Thompsons were very much impressed with the extensive collections of shells on display.

Another point of interest was a glass blower's plant, where one could see this ancient craft demonstrated.

Conviction under this charge draws the full 12 points and calls for a three-month suspension period.

MONTREAL — Mr. Justice Charles-Edouard Ferland has ruled that a woman who swerved her car to miss a dog and ended up in a ditch showed "very heavy negligence."

He ordered Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Taillon of suburban Outremont Friday to pay $17,902 to their niece, Marie McGraw, 36, who was injured when the Taillon auto hit the ditch.

"The act of the defendant in swerving in such a way as to land in the ditch in order to avoid the dog shows very heavy negligence," said Mr. Justice Ferland.

GUELPH — John Brown Friday was sentenced to 30 days in jail because he couldn't pay a $50 fine for driving an unsafe auto which he hadn't the money to fix. Police said the car had a loose steering, bald tires, no emergency brake, a foot brake that was "just there", a transmission stuck in low gear, no door handles, no window glass and no stop lights.

TORONTO — A political argument in a taxi cab got so heated that the cabby ordered Arthur Reaume, Liberal member of the Ontario legislature for Essex North out of the car.

Mr. Reaume, former Windsor mayor, had ordered the cab to take him from Queen's Park to the Royal York Hotel.

When the taxi pulled up, Mr. Reaume was chatting with Ontario CCF Leader, Donald MacDonald.

After Mr. Reaume entered the taxi, the driver began talking politics. The cab soon stopped and the driver said heatedly: "You'd better get out of this cab, buddy."

Mr. Reaume insisted that he should be driven to his destination and an argument ensued. A passing motorcycle policeman stopped and asked what the trouble was.

"He called me a pink-eyed Socialist," the cabby said.

"I did not," Mr. Reaume retorted, "I said that it would be a bad day for Canada if the pink-eyed Socialist ever took over."

The policeman thought it over and then told the driver: "I think you'd better take the gentleman where he's going."

The remainder of the trip was completed in silence.

Mr. Reaume gave the driver a 30-cent tip along with the 70-cent fare.

GUELPH — A traditional April Fool joke got out of hand and backfired on students at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Each year, pranksters perform the monumental task of making off with 800 aluminum serving trays from the OAC dining hall as an April 1 joke.

But not this year — the trays stayed missing from Wednesday to Thursday night, when university authorities issued an ultimatum. No trays by 9 a.m. no lunch. The trays were not returned and the dining hall was locked.

The situation touched off a horn-blinging auto cavalcade of 200 students through downtown Guelph.

Placards proclaimed: "We want food."

OAC officials remained firm.

The 800 trays somehow turned up in the locked dining hall Friday night and peace returned.

CARTHAGE, Mo — Police Chief Bill Lloyd said he wasn't disturbed when he saw someone drive assistant chief Leland Boatwright's car away from the department parking lot recently. The chief thought Boatwright's son had come to pick up the car. Then, Boatwright reported that his car had been stolen. And, he sheepishly admitted, he had left the keys in the car.

PUEBLO, Colo. — Police were called in when Union bus station employees noticed blood oozing from a suitcase. Sgts. H. L. Nielson and Raymond Marshall found the suitcase contained frozen T-bone steaks that were beginning to thaw. The'd been sent from Grand Valley, Colo., to a Pueblo family.

HAMILTON — Sgt. Len Wheeler thought at first it was an April Fool's joke.

When he left the police department's dinner dance Tuesday night, he found his car wouldn't move although the engine ran just fine.

After examining the vehicle Wednesday, he turned in a theft report. Somebody had stolen his drive shaft.

BRADFORD — There's no doubt about it — a hockey team is no better than its goalie.

Bond Head Wreckers were leading Newmarket Slessor Motors 4-2 half-way through the second period of the second game of the best-of-three final for the Bradford and District Hockey League Championship.

Defenceman Don Thoms, given a minor penalty, protested and was given a game misconduct. Newmarket goalie Joe Burke protested — in fact walked off in protest. There was no other goalie.

Newmarket put on six attackers and, before the game ended, managed to score two more goals.

However, Wreckers won the game and the championship — they scored 13 times on the empty net.

NAIROBI, Kenya — Drivers in a motor race through East Africa ran into a number of obstacles Sunday — live ones.

R. J. Roy hit a lion on the main road near Nairobi Airport. His bumper and radiator grill were badly damaged. Roy said he did not think the lion would die from its injuries.

Edward Harrison struck a leopard in Tanganyika, smashing the car radiator and headlights.

Jim Heather-Hayes said he narrowly missed an elephant that loomed up in the Nairobi-Mombasa road.

The drivers are participating in the East African Coronation Safari Motor Rally. The course extends through Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika.

BROMLEY, England — Visitors to hospitals in this Kent town are to be banned from smoking. "The smoke is making the patients cough at nights, keeping the others awake," says a spokesman.

One of the strongest performers among the junior coppers in recent sessions has been Temagami Mining Co., whose discovery of sensational high grade copper deposits astounded the mining world a couple of years ago. Behind the current strength in the stock are the results being obtained on the newly opened 850-foot level, 300 feet below previous workings.

Arthur Currie, 31, of Coady Ave., a school teacher, yesterday became the first motorist in Metro Toronto to have his license suspended under Ontario's demerit point system.

Currie pleaded guilty before Magistrate Prentice of driving while his ability was impaired and was fined $75 or 15 days in jail. He was arrested early Thursday when a policeman stopped a car on Leslie St.
